Campaign.

TO SELECT CHAIRMAN.

Conference With Mr. Taft Today.

Republican Leaders Assemble to Name Their Field Marshal.

Ruling of Indiana Among the Likely Ones for the Important Place.

Fraco Reception by the President in Honor of His Guests.

BY SUMNER CURTIS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Taft, returning to the capital tomorrow morning from his outing at Beverly, immediately will take up the work of organizing for his campaign for re-election.

Several members of the Republican National Committee arrived in the city today to attend the meeting of the sub-committee on organization called for tomorrow forenoon.

The sub-committee will hold its meeting at 10 o'clock and then adjourn to meet with the President at the White House for luncheon. In addition to meeting the members of the sub-committee of the National Committee several other party leaders will be the President's guests at dinner, following which a large al fresco reception will be held in honor of the campaign managers.

CHAIRMANSHIP.

The selection of a chairman of the National Committee is the most important matter to come before the President and his political advisers and it is expected that it will be made in the course of the day.

The sub-committee on organization appointed at the meeting of the National Committee held in Chicago a day or two following the nomination of the Presidential ticket, is composed of the following: Powell Clayton of Arkansas, chairman; Alvah H. Martin of Virginia, secretary; Newell Sanders of Tennessee, F. W. Estabrook of New Hampshire, William Barnes, Jr., of New York, Roy O. West of Illinois, John T. Adams of Iowa, Thomas K. Niedringhaus of Missouri and Samuel Perkins of Washington State.

Joseph B. Kealing of Indiana, Archibald Stevenson of Colorado, who as "Big Steve," was a prominent figure in the Chicago convention, and other party leaders from various sections of the country, are here as interested onlookers and incidentally ready to give advice regarding campaign work in their respective States.

THE TAFT CAUSE.

Mr. Kealing took an active part in the conduct of the Taft cause at Chicago and is expected to take an equally active part in the campaign for election. Hailing from a pivotal State he would not be averse, in the opinion of his friends, to assuming general charge of the Republican side in the fight, should it be deemed expedient to have him serve in that capacity.

The only thing apparently settled with respect to the national chairmanship is that Charles D. Hilles, secretary to the President, will not be transferred from his present position to become the titular managing director of the campaign. Mr. Hilles was the President's original choice for chairman, but it is understood he now believes it will be better to continue his secretary in the more intimate personal relation already existing.

OTHERS MENTIONED.

Among those mentioned for chairman are William Barnes, Jr., of New York, Senator Sanders of Tennessee, Harry Daugherty of Ohio and former Senator Hemenway of Indiana.

Some of the eastern newspapers have had Mr. Barnes tentatively selected for chairman in advance, but while he has some supporters for the position, he is strongly opposed by others. His political sagacity is not questioned, but there is a strong

THE CALL OF THE WILD.

NEW YORK, July 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] A call to the people of the United States who are in sympathy with the national progressive movement to send delegates to a national convention to open in Chicago August 5, was given out today by United States Senator Joseph M. Dixon of Montana.

Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker,

Noted suffragist of Denver, whose death occurred in San Francisco last night following an operation for intestinal trouble. Mrs. Decker was a former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and was a leader in various movements for the betterment of the race. She had served on several State commissions in Denver, and had been urged to run for the United States Senate.

NOTED LEADER OF WOMEN IS DEAD.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. DECKER IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Former President of General Federation of Women's Clubs and Foremost Figure in Many Movements for Human Uplift Falls to Survive Surgical Operation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker of Denver, former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, died here tonight at 8:20, following an operation for intestinal trouble.

Her daughter, Miss Harriet Platt of Denver, was present.

The operation was performed Friday and Mrs. Decker rallied immediately. Until last night her condition was considered hopeful, but after a change for the worse in the evening she sank steadily. For many hours before her death no hope for her recovery was entertained.

Mrs. Decker came here to attend the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. In the sessions of the convention she was conspicuous by successful pleas for an endowment fund. Delegates who laughed and wept over her tales of "tribulations" in the early days of the federation, accompanied her joyously the succeeding day on a trip through the Santa Clara Valley, and noticed that her strength seemed overtaxed.

She was taken ill Monday, and Dr. Cornelia de Bey of Chicago, one of the federation delegates, sent her to a sanatorium and called a consultation. From the first no effort was made to minimize the danger of the situation.

SCHOOLED TO WORK IN BEHALF OF RACE.

(By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.)

DENVER, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Mrs. Decker, christened Sarah Sophia Chase, was born in McIndoe Falls, Vt. Her mother was a descendant of the famous Adams family of Massachusetts. Her father, Edwin Chase, known alternately as the "Fighting Deacon" and the "Praying Deacon," was a great power in the community, as one of the first temperance advocates. Little Sarah Chase grew up, was graduated from high school, and made her advent into public life in Holyoke, Mass., where she was made one of the members of a board of trustees for the administration of funds left for distribution among the deserving poor.

In her youth, Mrs. Decker schooled herself to face the seamy side of life without shirking; to study the causes and effects of social unrest and struggle, and seek to apply a remedy.

TAKES UP CHILD WELFARE.

In Queen's, L. I., where she went after marriage, Mrs. Decker was identified with the work of the orphan's home and the child's welfare movement, but on her advent in Denver, in 1887, she was known only in the restricted circles of her own social set. Then, as the masses of Colorado were caught in the throes of a struggle as a result of the closing of the Colorado silver mines, Mrs. Decker took an active part in ameliorating the sufferings of the poor.

The Women's Club was organized in 1894 and Mrs. Decker was made its first president. She gave her money and support to the campaign for women's suffrage.

Always a firm believer in progressive political development, Mrs. Decker plunged with vast intensity of purpose into the first silver campaign of Bryan. During the second Bryan campaign Mrs. Decker presided at one of the largest political mass meetings ever directed in the United States by a woman. More than 5000 madly-cheering politicians, with flags in hand, thronged the old Coliseum Theater where the meeting was held. Gradually extending her activities into every field of social and political service, Mrs. Decker became the first woman member of the State Board of Pardons in 1898, and was appointed a member of the Colorado Board of Charities and Corrections, which has general supervision over all penal and reformatory institutions of the State.

CHIHUAHUA REJOICES.

City Welcomes Federal Commander.

Gen. Huerta, Genius of Mexican Army, Enters With His Command.

Flags Flutter and Citizens Greet Him With Cries of "Viva Madero."

Communication Restored and Many Mines Are Preparing to Resume.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AT GEN. HUERTA'S HEADQUARTERS (Chihuahua, Mex.) July 7.—Triumphantly Gen. Victoriano Huerta, commander-in-chief of the government forces in Northern Mexico, at 10 o'clock today rode into the city of Chihuahua, just four months under rebel control.

Gen. Telles and Gen. Rabago, in command of two brigades of cavalry, had entered the city a short time before, but were immediately dispatched northwest toward Casas Grandes to head off the fleeing rebel army.

AFLUTTER WITH FLAGS.

To the number of foreign flags raised many days ago by foreign residents, who feared that looting would follow the rebel retreat, were added hundreds of Mexican banners, giving the city a holiday aspect.

The entry of Huerta's army reduced the high tension under which foreign residents had lived ever since rebel reverses in this section began. The reaction found expression in a general welcome. The same persons who until a week ago were loud in protesting friendship for Gen. Orozco and his ragged and undisciplined army stood in the streets applauding the victorious general and his regulars with shouts of "Viva Madero."

MINES WILL REOPEN.

The coming of Huerta means the restoration of railroad communication with Torreon, though it simultaneously cuts off the city on the north from Juarez and the American border. This city had been mulcted of supplies and business had long been at a standstill. Many mines will now be reopened. Gen. Huerta has been engaged just two months in rebuilding 195 miles of railroad destroyed by the rebels as they retreated from Torreon.

REBEL TROOPS GROW MUTINOUS IN JUAREZ.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JUAREZ (Mex.) July 7.—Serious disorder prevailed tonight among the 2500 troops mobilized here. Talk of probable mutiny was frequently heard. Soldiers who have been in the interior for months objected to being sent to Casas Grandes without a respite of several days here.

Col. Pascual Orozco, Sr., commander in Juarez, says they must go tomorrow.

All gambling houses and saloons were closed at 6 o'clock. Many of the troops who became intoxicated earlier, continued to quarrel in the streets.

Nearly 1000 troops arrived today over the Mexican Central from Sauz.

Gen. Pascual Orozco, Jr., it was said at rebel headquarters here, was expected late tonight or early tomorrow.

Morris Buttner, an American immigration officer, arrested here today accused of being a Maderista spy, was released after Thomas D. Edwards, the American Consul, had conferred with Col. Pascual Orozco, Sr., commander of the garrison.

Buttner was sent here to keep check on Chinese immigration into the United States.

OROZCO IS MOROSE BUT STILL DEFIANT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AT GEN. OROZCO'S HEADQUARTERS (Sauz, Mex.) July 7.—Still sullen and morose, but none the less determined to laugh in defiance of the constituted government, Gen. Orozco lolled in bed today, giving final orders of the inauguration of the guerrilla warfare which he proposes to wage "until Madero is forced to resign."

Though urged to come to Juarez for a council of war, the defeated commander-in-chief late today had made no definite announcement regarding his itinerary. Those members of his staff closest to him professed to believe that he would send to Juarez the commandeered private car, in which he has ridden from three battlefields, and travel with his men on horseback to Casas Grandes, 175 miles northwest.

BETRAYS HIS CHAGRIN.

One reason for this belief was the sensitiveness of the general, who made no effort to conceal his chagrin at the rebel defeat at Bachimba three days ago. Contrary to the advice of his officers, the ammunition being short, he ordered the attack, believing there was a chance to win.

Orozco admitted today that he had finished with organized warfare.

"It was useless for us to attempt to stand against Huerta's cannon," he said. "From now on we will fight, after the manner of guerrillas. When we get a chance we will strike the Defense Party Heroine Goes to Trial.

Mrs. Rene B. Morrow

Of Chicago, who will be placed on trial today on the charge of murdering her husband, an inventor. After her indictment she gave a defense party in her home at which women friends contributed money to engage a lawyer to defend her.

Temperament.

"I NEVER FELT BETTER" SAYS SMILING WIDOW.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Rene B. Morrow, who will be placed on trial at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning before Judge George Kersten on the charge of murder, declared today she is confident she will be acquitted.

"I never felt better in my life," she said. "I am innocent and consequently have nothing to fear."

THE ACCUSATION.

Mrs. Morrow is accused of having murdered her husband, Charles B. Morrow, an inventor, whose frozen body was found on the rear porch of their residence in South Michigan avenue on the morning of December 28 last, with two bullet wounds in his heart and one in his brain.

A Coroner's inquest was held and the jury at that time held that the inventor met death by his own hand.

On December 31 a secret autopsy was held, disclosing evidence of murder, which resulted in the arrest of the widow.

IN HER ROOM.

Mrs. Morrow then declared she was in her own room at the time the inventor met his death. Police information that the couple had a violent quarrel just before the alleged murder, her admission that a "little quarrel" actually occurred, and the boast of a roomer were some of the matters with which the case became involved.

Mrs. Morrow was released on $25,000 bail, which later was increased to $40,000.

One of the features of the case was the defense party given to the woman. Ten women each contributed $10 toward a defense fund. The party was given in the Morrow residence on January 8. Attorney Erbstein did the honors.

POURED TEA.

He poured the tea and explained that most of the fund in sight would be required to impeach State witnesses.

A short time after the true bill had been returned a statement was given out by Francis J. Horan, former fire attorney, to the effect that a new witness, a woman, had disclosed herself and would be able to give testimony completely exonerating Mrs. Morrow.

Disaster.

PACIFIC MAIL SHIP HELPLESSLY ADRIFT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—The Pacific Mail steamer City of Panama is drifting helpless 250 miles south of San Francisco, while the steamer Rose City is driving from San Pedro to the rescue. The sea is calm and the ship is said to be in no great danger.

PASSENGERS ABOARD.

Thirty-three passengers are aboard bound for Mexican and Central American ports.

The City of Panama sailed from this port July 5. As she passed through the gates it was noticed that she stopped. Word came back by wireless that a steam pipe had blown out and would be repaired by the crew.

NO DANGER.

"We have received a message that the steamer is in no danger," said A. J. Frey, assistant general manager of the company, tonight. "There has been engine trouble of some sort, that cannot be repaired at sea, and the City of Panama will be towed back to San Francisco."

The City of Panama was built at Chester, Pa., in 1878, and is a single-screw vessel of 1490 tons, carrying a crew of forty men.

Happy Home.

DELUGED BY RAINS.

Heat Prostrates Both Man and Beast in New York City.

Clamor Arises to Close Mills and Factories During the Torridity.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Disastrous storms today temporarily broke the fierce heat wave which has slain twenty-four persons in Chicago in three days and taken lesser toll in other cities.

Rain, which came with scant warning, deluged the city and drenched thousands who had gone to the parks to escape the heat of the city. Basements were flooded and many stocks of goods ruined, while the accompanying lightning caused two deaths and did much property damage.

CRAZED BY HEAT.

There were two more deaths today from heat and one man, crazed by the heat, cut his throat, bringing the total heat deaths up to twenty-four for the three days of the heat wave. In addition, there were a number of drownings in and around the city, of persons who had sought the lakes and streams to escape the torridity.

Aside from the deaths and destruction of property in the cities, there is a bright side to today's deluge. It was worth millions to the farmers and will give all crops a tremendous boost out of the way of early frosts, the thing now most dreaded by farmers, owing to the lateness in getting crops planted. Corn, usually laid by for the season, by July 4, is practically a month behind this year, but oats give unusual promise of heavy returns. Splendid rains and comparatively cool weather for a week in all the spring wheat country has put a quietus on crop damage talk. Both the American and Canadian Northwest have been favored by ideal wheat weather.

THE DELUGE.

Today's deluge was timely as far as the city was concerned, for men and horses were thoroughly exhausted by the preceding two days of heat. This being a holiday gave an opportunity to recuperate and the cooler weather following the storm will find the working public much better fortified to withstand another seige of hot weather.

For four hours rain fell in torrents. When it suddenly ceased, it left the city flooded, trees and shrubbery uprooted, sidewalks washed away and many live wires writhing in the streets. Havoc was presented on every side. Forty-two fire alarms were turned in during the storm and at its close there were 120 calls for the city to pump out flooded basements.

GREAT DAMAGE.

Great as the damage in Chicago was, however, it did not compare with the cloudburst in the vicinity of Elgin. At Algonquin and Crystal Lake, thousands of dollars worth of property was destroyed in a flash. An entire mile of Chicago and Northwestern Railway track was washed out and Crystal Lake was isolated, as its telegraph and telephone wires also were destroyed. It is feared there was loss of life in that vicinity, which has been entirely cut off from all communication since 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Drownings were reported from Batavia, Evanston, Des Plaines and a splendid fleet of power boats was swept over the falls at Algonquin. Forty cars loaded with gravel also went into the maw of the flood caused by the cloudburst.

BOATS OVERDUE.

Considerable alarm is felt tonight over the fate of a number of small boats out on Lake Michigan this morning and which have not yet been accounted for.

GENERAL RAINS.

Rain appears to have been general over the country. Dispatches tonight tell of rain from New Orleans around the gulf coast country, to all of the Florida points up through Mississippi, Iowa, Indiana, all of Illinois, North Dakota, Arkansas, Arizona, portions of the North Pacific Coast, Yellowstone Park and Northwestern portions of Canada all report rain.

HOTTEST SPOT.

Tucson, Ariz., was the hottest spot, at 104, and Phoenix, Ariz., next, with 102. Montreal and Quebec reported 92 above, or 18 degrees hotter than the Los Angeles maximum. Marquette, Mich., one of the highly-touted cool summer resorts, enjoyed the same temperature as Los Angeles, following heavy rains. Toronto, Can., and Cincinnati, O., had precisely the same temperature—90 above—while Tampa, Fla., was 4 degrees cooler than Montreal, Quebec. St. Paul, Minn., was 2 degrees warmer than St. Louis, Mo. DESERTIONS FROM COLONEL.

Pennsylvania Sick and Tired of His Utter Nonsense.

The Wind Is Out of the Third Termer's Sail and Jib.

Few Union Coal Miners Still Think Well of Him.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] With practically unvarying uniformity dispatches from all over Pennsylvania show the subsidence of the Roosevelt wave. There is some third term sentiment in the anthracite regions among union labor and in the southern tier, but to all intents the bottom has dropped out of the movement.

IN ALLEGHENY.

Allegheny county, Senator Flint's, has been deserted by Mayor Magee and other powerful lieutenants. In few sections in which talk of a new party persists there is no indication of preparation for a county organization. No man is so rash as to predict the election of Roosevelt and this total lack of confidence is a fatal handicap to third term prospects.

There is little doubt that nearly all of the professional politicians who espoused Roosevelt's cause at the April primary will be found in the Taft camp long before November. Nowhere else can they look for a possible participation in the spoils of office, the only magnet which attracts them.

BACK IN THE FOLD.

Most of the Roosevelt supporters who were animated by sentiment rather than self-seeking and who are loyal believers in the protective tariff doctrine, will be found enrolled as regulars under the impulse of party fealty. A small number, deeply imbued with so-called progressive ideas and not greatly concerned about the tariff, are turning to Wilson, the Democratic nominee, as the exponent of tendencies which find favor with them.

Everywhere the Democrats are enthusiastic for Wilson, whose nomination has sounded the death knell of Roosevelt hopes.

SHIBBOLETHS WILD FAID.

Henry W. Taft in Paris Interview Expresses Confidence that President Will Be Re-elected.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Wireless from Chicago to The Times.]

PARIS, July 7.—Henry W. Taft showed not the slightest reluctance today to talk about the Presidential campaign. He seemed very confident of the re-election of his brother to the Presidency and attached little importance to the future attitude of Col. Roosevelt, although he expressed himself as disinclined to discuss the latter at any length.

"As I look upon it," he said, "the nomination of Gov. Wilson creates a very satisfactory situation for the Republicans and I think the chances for their success have been thereby greatly improved.

"A great deal has been said about progressiveism, but in a campaign extending through several months, mere shibboleths of that kind will not withstand analysis.

"When all things are taken into account I feel confident that the independent voters in both parties, who will hold the balance of power in the election, will conclude to continue the present administration in power rather than take a chance that would attend the adoption of the radical theories for which Wilson has made himself responsible.

"I think the tendency of the Republicans to stay within their party lines has been recently shown to be much stronger than that of the Democrats. The same reasons which drove the Democrats away from Bryan will be apt to turn the voters away from both Wilson and Roosevelt and toward Taft."

BOLTERS NOT WANTED.

Roosevelters and Disgruntled Democrats Will Have to File as Independents Under Oklahoma Law.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There will be no third party in Oklahoma, Roosevelters find there is no possible way for them to put a party in the field under the title of progressive Republicans or any other title signifying it is an offshoot of the Republican party.

The same rule applies to Democrats. The Democratic organization in Oklahoma carefully screwed down the lid to prevent the success of any bolting party when Oklahoma became a State. This fact is not generally known. A candidate for nomination must file as Democrat, Republican, Socialist or Prohibitionist or else as an independent. He is precluded under the law from filing as an "independent Republican" or "progressive Democrat," or in any other way in which he may seek to use the name of the four parties. Filing day expired June 27.

The rigid effects of this anti-bolting law were not generally known until disgruntled delegates returned from Chicago conventions and found they could not start anything in Oklahoma.

TO SELECT CHAIRMAN.

opinion to the effect that the ticket would not gain anything throughout the country by having as titular head of the fighting forces a man who has been prominently identified with "the machine" that, at times, has been subjected to much criticism. The sincere friends of the President are anxious that no mistake—no offense to popular feeling—be committed in the naming of a national chairman. It is realized that mistakes have been made in the past. Now it is understood that as far as possible the effort should be not only to pick a manager of the peculiar ability required to direct a national campaign, but one whose name will give some strength to the cause. Grave doubt is expressed as to whether Mr. Barnes would be an asset such as is desired.

OHIOAN'S CHANCES.

Harry Daugherty of Ohio, has been favored by the President, but some members of the National Committee find objections to his election. Mr. Daugherty's energies have been devoted largely to Ohio State affairs and while the President has confidence in his ability to grasp the broader situation, others think that the chairman should be one whose experience in the national game is more extended.

Senator Sanders had charge of the work of lining up the South for Mr. Taft in Chicago and performed the work well. He has a broad grasp of political affairs and undoubtedly would make a No. 1 chairman. The fact, however, that he comes from the South, while the battle, as it is realized, will be fought in the East and the Middle and Far West, would cause his selection for the position to stand as a decided novelty.

Former Senator Hemenway has had years of experience in the national political game. There is nothing at all definite, however, as to the decision that will be reached. It is an open question to be determined after a thorough survey of the situation when the members of the committee get into close communication with President Taft.

CAMPAIGN WORK.

The question of organizing for the campaign work never has been of greater importance to the Republicans than it is this year. The delicacy of many details that must be considered is fully appreciated; there never has been a time when it was more essential to guard against mistakes. At this stage the party leaders are all up in the air over the situation. They freely admit matters are decidedly mixed and with the Roosevelt forces preparing for their independent movement, the shrewdest of the politicians cannot at this time, tell just where the hardest fighting is to take place. All agree, however, on the importance of arranging the preliminaries before the actual strategies of the campaign are considered.

AS AN EXECUTIVE.

Roy O. West of Illinois probably will be a member of the Executive Committee, under the direction of which the campaign will be conducted. Mr. West has been taking a vacation in Michigan since the close of the Chicago convention, and, on his arrival here this evening, said that having been out of touch with affairs at home, he was not prepared to talk about the situation. In short, all the members of the subcommittee are open-minded on practically all the big questions confronting the organization and exhibit a desire to exchange views and deliberate before taking action.

Senator Crane of Massachusetts is likely to be named as the National Committee member from his State to succeed himself, as a result of the failure of the evenly divided delegation at Chicago to settle on a man for the place. There has been some talk of Mr. Crane for national chairman. Whether he is or not, he will take an active part in the campaign management.

A WORD TO THE WISE.

The rich and steadily growing empire of the Pacific Southwest is covered much more thoroughly by The Times than by any other newspaper, and advertising in this journal bears the same relation to advertising in other local publications that intensive farming bears to the old slipshod, hit or miss plan of cultivating land. In other words, traceable results from Times advertisements are greater than those obtained from the use of all other local newspapers combined.

The Times' position as the leading newspaper on the Pacific Coast is emphasized not only by the number of its readers, but by the superior quality and unusual buying force of its circulation. The Times is read by the substantial, industrious, earning, thinking men and women of this productive field, and that every Times reader has purchasing power is indicated by the fact that Times advertisers are the men and women whose business ventures succeed.

The widespread popularity of The Times among big and little advertisers is shown by the regularity with which it exceeds all its local contemporaries in the volume of display and classified advertising, and in the number of separate patrons.

For the week ending Saturday, July 6, The Times printed 15,207 separate "Liners," 5660 more than its nearest local contemporary, and for the month ending June 30, it printed 76,236 separate "Want Ads," or 29,308 more than the total number printed by its nearest local contemporary.

THE USE OF THE TIMES ADVERTISING COLUMNS IS A DIVIDEND PAYING INVESTMENT AND IS IN NO SENSE A SPECULATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The first-class battleship New Hampshire was run down while at anchor early today off Newport, R. I., by the sound liner Commonwealth, and so badly damaged that emergency repairs will have to be made before she can be towed to the Boston navy yard. The collision occurred in a dense fog, according to a dispatch to the Navy Department. The vessel's stern is smashed in to the water's edge. There was no loss of life.

FIRE STARTS IN DEPOT.

Southern Pacific Station in Sacramento Has Its Second Narrow Escape Within a Few Months.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] What is believed to be another attempt to destroy the Southern Pacific passenger depot in this city was discovered last night.

A volume of smoke issuing from the front of the parcel and light baggage-room of the depot attracted the attention of Depot Master Charles Black, and on investigation it was found that a brisk fire was burning in the center of a mass of rubbish in the rear of the basement. Only the quick action of the depot employees saved the building.

This is the second narrow escape the depot has had within the last few months. Fire last April destroyed the operating offices and endangered the entire building.

TOWN HAS RABIES SCARE.

Thirteen Persons of Hyattsville, Md., Are Taken to Washington for The Pasteur Treatment.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

HYATTSVILLE (Md.) July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Citizens of this town are in a panic, following the removal of thirteen people to the Marine Hospital at Washington, for Pasteur treatment at the hygienic laboratory, and the death of a cow from rabies. As many others in addition to the thirteen now under observation are believed to have taken milk from the hydrophobic cow, the fear of madness hangs like a pall over the community.

Surgeon General Blue, in charge of the Marine Hospital Service, has issued a statement intended to reassure the people of Hyattsville. Dr. Blue says he does not believe hydrophobia could be transmitted through the milk of the infected cow.

Andrews has successfully penetrated absolutely virgin country, where no white man has ever been before. This marks an important step in exploration. Andrews made the dangerous trip for the American Museum of Natural History in search of wild game, principally the Korean tiger, one of the most dangerous animals known. Andrews will probably be back in America in about six weeks.

CALIFORNIA LOSES.

Suit to Obtain Title to Acreage Claimed as Swamp Lands Goes Against the State.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] The fight of California to secure possession of 99,840 acres of land in the Palo Verde Valley, claimed as swamp lands, has been lost. Two years ago the State brought suit against the United States to secure title. The first hearing of the case was before the United States Surveyor-General. This official held that the lands were not swamp or overflow lands, as claimed by the State, and awarded title to the government.

The case was appealed to the General Land Office, which affirmed the decision. The matter was then carried to the Secretary of the Interior, who also found against the State. The decision received yesterday by Register Frank Buren of the local land office denies the application of the State for a review of the decision. This decision is final and cannot be appealed.

The decision affects 300 entrymen who have claims in the lands. Their applications were held up pending the litigation, but now will be considered by the local officials.

The epicenter of the disturbance is calculated to be 1340 kilometers in a southwest direction. According to the Rev. J. S. Ricard's theory of solar spots the disturbance as anticipated from a group which recent observations disclosed crossing the central meridian.

Union Labor Leader's Threat Causes George of England to Forego Festivities at Royal Albert Dock.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Wireless from Chicago to The Times.]

LONDON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] King George has canceled his engagement to cut the first sod of the Royal Albert dock extension, and the $150,000 spent upon the erection of Venetian masts, pavilions, etc., has been wasted in the face of want.

Ben Tillet, a union-labor leader, threatened to line the royal route with a gaunt army of strikers, their women to hold aloft naked and wailing babies clamoring for food, while the streets of the squalid East End were to be draped in crepe.

This demonstration was to be directed, not against the King, but against Lard Devonport, a Dock Commissioner, who is denounced as one of those especially responsible for the strike which has already cost the workers over a million sterling in wages.

WILL INVADE SONORA.

Sonora will be the first State to feel the effects of the new campaign, but it is Orozco's ambition to extend his operations to States near Mexico City. Gen. Cheche Campos was at the conference of chiefs here today and to him was entrusted the mission of operating in the territory south of Chihuahua city, now held by Gen. Huerta. Eight columns will be dispatched. Each one will act independently for the most part.

Orozco and his generals point to Huerta's tactics as an indication that the government forces are unwieldy, incapable of surrounding mobile bands whose methods will not differ greatly from those of outlaws.

POPPY PICKERS IN ELKSVILLE.

Reach Portland a Few Hours Behind Schedule.

With Jingling Bells They Announce Their "Jinks."

Orange Belt Special Is Due to Arrive Today.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Poppy Pickers" from Los Angeles, 300 strong, arrived in Portland "with bells" this evening at 5 o'clock, six hours behind their schedule, and were received by hundreds of enthusiastic Elks and citizens.

The delegation stopped at Ashland Saturday night because of a disabled car. At every station which boasted an Elks lodge the southerners were welcomed.

Forty more Los Angeles Elks are coming by boat.

AT THE STATION.

At the station to meet the Los Angeles delegation was the Elks' administrative band, the entire Reception Committee and a crowd that congested the station and overflowed into the streets. Policemen were forced to clear doors to allow passengers to pass through, and the Elks had to crowd down a narrow lane of human beings to reach the cars that awaited them at the curb.

The women and older men were taken in cars by members of the Reception Committee, while the selected company in uniform and 100 others formed a parade. This body marched up Sixth to Washington to Seventh and down Seventh to headquarters at the Oregon Hotel.

BRASS BELLS.

"We are here with bells," was the cry of the visitors as they jingled tiny brass bells which were fastened to their wrists by straps.

The Los Angeles delegation will hold open house, beginning tomorrow, at a big reception-room in the Hotel Oregon and will welcome members of all lodges to their jinks. The programme of stunts has not been given out, but the "Poppy Pickers" promise everyone who calls a jolly good time.

Fresno and Bakersfield Elks also arrived today. The Fresno crowd made a great hit by distributing packages of raisins to all comers.

The orange belt special has been delayed and is due tomorrow.

RESERVES IN COMMAND.

Marblehead Passes Out of the Golden Gate With Naval Militiamen in Charge and at the Helm.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The cruiser Marblehead, manned by thirty officers and 320 men, passed out through the Golden Gate last night and began a cruise that will demonstrate that the citizens' naval auxiliary to Uncle Sam's sea fighting forces has reached a high state of efficiency.

It is the first time that the reserves have manned a warship without a regular naval officer on board to direct operations. The cruise is to extend over twelve days.

The Marblehead is due at Eureka tomorrow to take the Humboldt detachment of the reserves on board. Then the cruiser will go to Portland and remain there for several days. From Portland the run will be made to the target grounds, and after the necessary practice a run will be made to Vancouver, B. C. Returning the cruiser will go to Bremerton to coal for the voyage to San Francisco.

CONSTERNATION AMONG POLICE.

Sacramento Bluecoats Just Learn That a Gum-Shoe Man Has Been Making a Note of Their Doings.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, July 7.—[Exclusive dispatch.] Consternation seized Sacramento police force today when it became known that a detective has been silently watching men and noteing each one's efficiency for the purpose of making a report to the City Commissioners, who went into office the first of the month. The gumshoe man is a stranger in Sacramento, but he is one of the noted and skilled police of America. He originally came from Philadelphia and most likely, it is said, when his report is filed and he goes into executive session with the new commissioners, he will be chosen as the new head of the police department.

At the time the new charter was framed it was the idea of many of the freeholders that there should be no strings on the new commissioners in so far as getting the best men available. It was shown where eastern cities had imported men to head their police force, and a good thing for other places, why not for Sacramento?

So that board of freeholders were the commissioners Wilder and Bliss. The former now has the police force in his department.

When the new man files his report, which should be in about thirty days, every member of the Sacramento police department will be thoroughly sized up and his capacity reported to the new municipal officials.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WILLOWS (Cal.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Friends of the late John J. Prosser, who was shot last Sunday morning by Robert Smith, who mistook him for a deer, are bitter against Smith. They say the shooting was accidental, was an act of criminal carelessness. They claim also that Smith showed an indifference when he has angered them.

A lawyer has been consulted and a warrant will be placed in the hands of the District Attorney.

The friends of Prosser argue that a vigorous prosecution would have the effect of making hunters more careful.

SEATTLE ALSO WANTS ELKS.

Puget Sound City Will Contend With San Francisco for Grand Lodge on Year of the Exposition.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A vociferous contender against San Francisco for the honor of entertaining the Grand Lodge in 1915 has come forward from Seattle. Backed, they declare, by the strength of a large number of Northwest and Rocky Mountain delegations, the Seattleites are out in an active campaign for the Panama fair year session.

Preponderance of sentiment thus far favors San Francisco and efforts are under way to prevail upon Seattle to withdraw its claims, but heralds sent ahead by the Seattleites declare Seattle is in the 1915 fight to stay.

CALIFORNIA IS UNIT.

The San Franciscans, backed by practically every lodge in California, will be in Portland tomorrow, loaded to the gunwales with literature and campaign material, and a determination to run all other possible rivals for the 1915 reunion off the range, according to the San Joaquin Valley and other California delegates, who came today.

Rochester and Louisville are the two chief contenders for the Grand Lodge reunion of 1913.

With the arrival of the Louisville delegation this morning, the strength of Rochester will be tested. So far, the New York State city has had everything pretty much its own way with pre-convention prophets, starting strong and gathering strength continually.

LOUISVILLE MAY WITHDRAW.

It is said Louisville may withdraw from the 1913 contest as an assurance that the 1914 session will go there, but this is mere gossip. Some time tomorrow, a second contingent of Rochester Elks is to arrive to "whoop it up" for their city. Under the direction of Exalted Ruler Richard J. Decker, literature extolling Rochester as "the convention city," made its appearance wherever Elks congregated.

"There is no doubt about it, Rochester will win," said Dr. Decker. "We have received sufficient assurances to warrant my making so strong a statement. I know that Louisville is a candidate, but we feel that Rochester offers too many delights to delegates and superior accommodations for the Elks to choose any other city."

HORSE ATTACKS WOMAN.

Wife of Redding Man Set Upon by Supposedly Gentle Animal and Is Permanently Disfigured.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

REDDING (Cal.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Harry Dufor was knocked unconscious when a pet horse, never known to have been wild or uncontrollable, suddenly attacked her, kicking her viciously with both hind feet and making an ugly gash on her head. Her husband, who was near at the time, summoned an automobile and rushed the woman to a physician's office, where it was stated she would recover, but that her face would be permanently disfigured.

Mrs. Dufor was picking berries along the river bank, where the horse was grazing. The latter being in the path, and a supposedly docile family horse, the woman attempted to scare it out of the way. Instead of moving, the horse rushed at the frightened woman knocking her down with a terrific kick.

ELKS GOING NORTH.

ANGELENOS IN REDDING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

REDDING (Cal.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Trainloads of Elks are passing north to attend the grand lodge in Portland, and today a special of Los Angeles "Bills" and their wives remained here by special arrangement, for over one hour, during which the Redding Elks entertained them, with the assistance of citizens, members of the Redding Chamber of Commerce and Women's Improvement Club. Every passenger on the special received a basket of Shasta peaches and over thirty automobiles were pressed into commission. The passengers on the through train were taken for a spin to the Sacramento River, where they could obtain a fine view of Mt. Shasta.

Stranger Leaves Machine in at Stockton Man's Yard and He Wants It Taken Out Now.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON (Cal.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] About two weeks ago a stranger giving the name of Edwards and stating he was a member of a San Francisco real estate firm, appeared at the residence of W. R. Ruggles, and pointing to an automobile stated that his wife was seriously ill in San Francisco and that he desired to catch a train immediately. He asked Mr. Ruggles if he could leave it in the yard adding that he would send word and directions for its disposition, within three days. Mr. Ruggles gave permission and the man ran the car in. He then lifted two heavy suitcases out and started for the depot on foot.

Mr. Ruggles reported the affair to the local authorities and an effort is now being made to locate the owner of the machine. The car is a runabout and license is No. 64340.

RENO (Nev.) July 7.—A. H. Coke, a powder man, seven Austrians and two Greeks, were killed instantly here late today by the premature explosion of a drill hole in the Copper Flat Pit of the Nevada Consolidated Copper Company. C. B. Phay, drill operator, was struck by flying rock but not seriously injured.

Several hundred pounds of black powder and a large quantity of dynamite were used to charge the hole. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

Fragments of Coke's body were blown a thousand feet.

HEAT FLOORS BEASTS IN CENTRAL PARK ZOO.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] The intense heat this afternoon affected several of the animals in Central Park, and the big Siberian tiger was nearly overcome. The hose was played on him for a while until the tiger seized the nozzle in his teeth. This was what the keepers wanted, and they immediately shot a dose of medicine down the tiger's throat, reviving him in a few minutes.

It was 98 degrees in the lion house and the hose was played on the big beasts there every fifteen minutes. A young leopard had a fit from the heat, but came around all right when cold water was thrown on his head with a small hose.

STEEL MILLS TO RUN DESPITE GREAT HEAT.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] With the thermometer at 89 degrees, steel and iron manufacturers in Pittsburgh have announced there will be no summer suspension at the mills. This is unprecedented, for in the past, no matter how big the boom in industrials, there has been a shut down of about a month and often six weeks during the heated period.

Scarcity of labor is as bad as a month ago, and the big corporations are still keeping men at ports of entry on the sea coast, to get as many as possible of the foreign laborers coming in.

SACRAMENTO, July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Grove L. Johnson, father of the Governor has decided to be a candidate for the Assembly representing the northern half of Sacramento and of the county. Sacramento county will for the next ten years have but two Assemblymen. No one has come forward to oppose the candidacy of Mr. Johnson, but it is understood that there are several aspiring statesmen looking for encouragement.

The present member from Johnson's district, Charles A. Bliss, who defeated him for the nomination two years ago, was recently elected to a three-year term on the new City Commission, and is out of the race. The Governor will see to it that a friend of the administration opposes his father.

CLUB WOMEN MOURN THROUGH THE LAND.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Eight hundred thousand club women of the nation will mourn the passing of Mrs. Sarah Sophia Platt Decker of Denver, one of the most remarkable figures in woman's work of the age. For four years Mrs. Platt Decker served as president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

NATIONAL FIGURE.

For twenty years Mrs. Platt Decker has been a national figure in woman's work. In philanthropic work twenty-five years ago, Mrs. Platt Decker became acquainted with the real conditions of women in relation to public life. Her first lessons were acquired in administering to the poor and unfortunate of her sex. Thus she learned what womanhood could do for the benefit of the nation, through unity and through their elevation to political equality with men in public affairs, and her fight for suffrage began early.

Mrs. Platt Decker has probably accomplished more for women than any other person in the country. She had been untiring and self-sacrificing in her labors for the uplift of womanhood. Her work in the Denver Women's Club, of which she was organizer and first president in 1894, was of such significance alone to rate her as one of America's foremost women. At St. Louis in 1904 she was first chosen to rule the destinies of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

ILLNESS CAUSED GLOOM.

She came to San Francisco for the eleventh biennial as one of the Federation's biggest women. Stricken, she was taken to Adler Sanatorium and her illness cast a cloud of despondency over the affairs of the convention for the last week. It was due to her illness that the suffrage fight was subdued. She was one of the convention's strongest suffragists, but her choice was that the convention should not go on record in its favor in that it should not bind States which disfavor themselves as unripe.

Many leaders spent hours at her bedside, and deep was their depression on seeing that she was sinking.

Mrs. Platt Decker was 58 years of age. The remains will be shipped to Denver for burial.

THE BRIDE OF GOLD.

Artist Whose Husband Strikes It Rich in Alaska Dazzles Chicago With Display of Jewelry.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] The "Bride of Gold," Mrs. Beryl Boughton Aitken, who caused a sensation at the Congress Hotel by her wealth of dress and jewelry, was the center of an admiring throng wherever she went today following the disclosure of her romance.

Three months ago she was a hard-working artist with a little studio in a skyscraper in New York, and now she is the wife of Thomas P. Aitken, owner of an Alaskan gold mine.

Much mystery attached to the identification of the magnificently-gowned and jeweled woman when she first appeared in Peacock Alley and in the restaurants, and shops about Chicago spending money with a lavish hand. She wore a different gown and a new array of gems every time she appeared.

Then the secret of her romance leaked out and her name was learned. She came to Chicago to visit her mother, who is ill in a hospital, while her husband returned to Alaska. When he returns she intends to open a studio again.

NOTED LEADER DEAD.

bor Commission, a member of the State Civil Service Commission, and was called into consultation at the White House by Theodore Roosevelt and the Governors of the country in regard to the child labor question.

The domain of the practical was her's. She was a woman of undaunted faith, breadth of vision and wide diction, who had the patience and wisdom to realize that age-old problems were not to be solved in a minute or a day. She was the leader possessed with those qualities which inspire personal attachment and which discern and bring out undeveloped gifts. She was one of the few people in the world who enjoy a joke at their own expense, and was a noted story-teller, having a generous fund of stories for every time and place.

Mrs. Decker marshalled the army of Colorado and American suffragists, and for years bore the banner of suffrage. The people of Colorado prominently mentioned and implored her to become a candidate for the United States Senate this coming fall, and her name had even been proposed as a possible candidate for the Presidency of the United States.

Mrs. Decker was a friend of the rich and poor alike. She understood the crushing significance of bitter poverty, and set about with all the energy and vigor at her command to right the wrong.

Representative Cox of Ohio Offers Bill in House Penalizing Desecration of National Emblem.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 7.—A bill to penalize the desecration of the flag and coat of arms of the United States and to prevent their use for advertising, patent or copyright, was introduced yesterday by Representative Cox of Ohio, Democratic nominee for Governor. The bill would make the Grand Army of the Republic the only organization allowed to use the flag as an emblem.

Will Power Not Necessary To Stop Drinking

The Neal Treatment Will Relieve All Appetite and Craving for Alcoholic Liquors in Three Days.

"The saloons do not bother me," was a striking line in a letter that came from a former hard drinker, who had found relief from the drink habit at a Neal Institute. This is the statement made by thousands of drinkers, who have taken the Neal Treatment at Neal Institutes in the principal cities of the United States, Canada and Australia.

When liquor has been used so regularly and excessively, that the craving and necessity for alcoholic stimulations becomes stronger than the will power to stop, it means the drinkers system is poisoned with alchohol and he needs medical treatment. He is not sick nor is the liquor appetite a willful habit. It is a poisoning and must be treated as such before self-mastery is regained.

The Neal Drink Habit Treatment will thoroughly eliminate all alcohol from the system and neutralize its functional effect upon the body tissues. When this is accomplished all craving and necessity for drink is gone, and the only will-power necessary to remain a sober man is to refuse to drink something for which there is absolutely no desire or necessity.

The Neal Treatment is a harmless vegetable remedy, always administered internally—no painful, dangerous hypodermic injections—and requires only three days of the patient's time.

For further information and reference, call at the Los Angeles Neal Institute, 945 South Olive street, or write or 'phone G. U. Neal, Manager, for Dr. Neal's free book. Phone Broadway 4602, A4072.

FINDS SOUTH AMERICA WORSE THAN THE CONGO.

Atrocious Barbarities Are Alleged by a British Nobleman to Be Practiced in the Rubber Camps of Western Hemisphere — Slave Trade in Its Worst Form Thrives in Peru—The Refinement of Cruelty.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There has just come to light here through a report on South American rubber trade a terrible scandal of atrocities practiced upon native workers.

Reports of tortures employed are more shocking than the stories of the Congo horrors.

The inaccessibility of the country has prevented the knowledge of the barbarities from becoming public scenes. The atrocities were revealed by Sir Roger Casement, H. M. Consul-General at Rio de Janeiro since 1909, who was sent by the British government to the Amazon district of South America to investigate stories as to the way in which an English rubber company employing British subjects, negroes from Barbadoes, had been carrying out work of collecting rubber.

DOCILE INDIANS.

In the district of Putumayo dwell a number of Indian tribes. They were docile, trustful, responsive to good treatment and unscrupted.

In 1890 there appeared on the scene the firm of brothers who on an arrangement with Peruvian government secured a monopoly of exportation and commenced the work of rubber collection.

The only labor on the spot was that of the natives, and accordingly the slave trade was introduced in its worst guise. There is hardly any parallel in the whole history of this nefarious traffic to the horrors which speedily were introduced under the pretended system of paying natives for toil they were compelled to perform in turning to profitable account for others their own property which had without the slightest consideration been wrested from them.

RUBBER CRUSADERS.

The rubber crusaders employed means of torture with all the refinements of modern ingenuity. At first, it was fortunate that neither the British government nor the public had any part, lot or responsibility in the campaign of greed, lust and blood. But all this was changed in 1905, when thirty-six barbarian negroes, British subjects, were engaged to act as deputies to the Latin-American filibusters.

ACTS OF CRUELTY.

They were no worse than the men who employed them, but from that time a regime set in which was characterized by dreadful acts of cruelty and by crimes which were revolting in the extreme.

At this stage the concession for collecting rubber was sold to the Peruvian Amazon Company, a British trading concern. Rubber had to be obtained, and the natives were compelled to get it. There was no pretense of justice or fair treatment. Adults were flogged because of their shortcomings in rubber collection, and parents for those of their little children, who were forced to stand by while mothers were beaten to death. Men and women for defaulting in quantity or attempting to escape were suspended by the arms, twisted behind their backs and tied at the wrists and they were then in this position and with their feet above ground scourged on their nether limbs and back.

BURNED AT STAKE.

It was no uncommon practice to pour kerosene oil on men and women and then set fire to them, to burn men at the stake, to dash out the brains of children, to hack off both arms and both legs of Indians, leaving them to a slow death on the pathways. One chief, who refused to betray the refuge of his followers, was so treated. It was a favorite practice to cut off ears of living persons. In one case a man's ears were cut off and his wife was burned before his eyes.

STARVATION.

Slave gangs often were starved. They died in their long marches under burdens as heavy as themselves. The chain gang officials took life merely for the amusement of the thing, and one day one man alone killed twenty-five persons, shooting some, cutting off the heads of others and hanging up the rest until they were choked with chains around their necks. One man tied up a boy and poured some kerosene oil over his hair, set it alight and then threw him into a fire. The boy screamed and begged to be taken out, but he was soon dead.

No regard whatever was paid to age or sex. Women were killed as frequently as men. A mother suckling her baby would be caught on an expedition and beheaded with a knife.

Families usually perished together. An Indian chief was buried alive in the presence of his wife and children. The wife was beheaded and the children dismembered and thrown onto the fire.

ALCOHOL LAMP EXPLODES.

Cook in Household Is Perhaps Fatally Burned and Members of the Family Receive Painful Injuries.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA FE (N. M.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ireno Delgado, cook in the family of Federal Judge William Pope, in replenishing an alcohol lamp that was burning under a coffee percolator this afternoon caused the can of alcohol to explode. The cook's clothing was set on fire, and he ran screaming through the house, while Judge Pope, Mrs. Pope and her two sisters sought to extinguish the flames with blankets, and were themselves scorched.

Judge Pope received serious burns on his hands. The skin and flesh dropped from the body of the cook and no hope is entertained for his recovery.

LIGHT FROM THE EAST ON THE LIVING ISSUES.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] The following editorial comments on topics of the hour are printed in eastern papers:

MORAL ISSUES.
THROUGH EYEGLASSES.

[New York World, July 7:] The man who promises soon to nominate himself for a third Presidential term has a good deal to say of the moral issues that he is to present. It is always a moral issue with Mr. Roosevelt.

From the headquarters of morality at Oyster Bay we receive daily assurances that the principal hope of the new party rests upon the promise that in several States the Republican electors duly pledged to Mr. Taft, will, if victorious, cast their ballots in the Electoral College for Mr. Roosevelt. We have no fear of the success of this particular innovation in dishonor and degradation. To state it is to damn it. Even to suggest it is to manifest revolutionary desperation that would shock the sensibilities of a Castro or a Diaz. No doubt the people, by choosing Democratic electors, will kill this conspiracy in every commonwealth where it may be afoot.

But is it not typical of the whole lawless third-term movement?

PATRIOTIC PRIDE.
WORK OF THE ATHLETES.

[New York Herald, July 7:] Patriotic pride has soared throughout the country as reports have come from Stockholm that America's men of speed and brawn have sustained the hopes of their countrymen in the opening clash with the picked athletes of the world at the Olympic games.

Cosmopolitan in its personnel, the Yankee team is made up of men from nearly all walks of life and the spirit of American equality has been demonstrated on the field of athletic strife by the manner in which its members in the preliminaries joined in common and successful defense for the prestige of American athletic glory.

NAVAL PROGRAMME.
TWO SHIPS NEEDED.

[New York Times, July 7:] There is still danger of a compromise on that section of the naval appropriation bill providing for the building this year of two new warships. Two should be built. The people of this country are in favor of upbuilding its navy and keeping it in its proper high position among the navies of the world.

CUMMINS'S DECISION.
PARTY REGULARITY.

[New York Sun, July 7:] Worthy of at least passing consideration is the calm decision of the Hon. A. B. Cummins that it is easier for a progressive to quit Col. Roosevelt than the Republican party and that the future of the faction, he follows, lies within that party which the greatest of all progressives, so self-confessed, has just abandoned.

The Bull Moose party in the very nature of things can never have but one candidate.

The decision of Senator Cummins merely foreshadowed that of no inconsiderable number of little Governors and large progressives. Their horror at the outrage of the Chicago convention is only exceeded by their approval of its ultimate consequences.

Like the late Judge Hoar, who declined to attend Benjamin F. Butler's funeral, but approved of it, Senator Cummins will not be among the Bull Moosers, but his heart is with them and his sympathy undisguised for that spontaneous public effort which eliminates a rival and disposes of a menace.

WILSON AND TARIFF.
WHICH FRAUD?

[New York Tribune, July 7:] It will be interesting to see how Gov. Wilson in his campaign will treat the tariff principles of his party platform. It would be more interesting, though painful, if he becomes President, to see what happens from an attempt to carry them out. If it is unconstitutional to levy duties for protective purposes, in the opinion of any administration or party, that administration or party will of course rigidly refrain from giving its tariff policy any taint of projection.

Now, if protective duties are unconstitutional, how can they be maintained even for a time? Do the Democrats, if they come into power, mean really to destroy all protective duties? If so, why don't they honestly say so and let the industries of the country know what to expect? Or do they intend to give such measure of protection as political expediency seems to them to require? If so why do they make a declaration of vital constitutional principle which they know is a humbug and which they don't mean to observe? Which fraud are they endeavoring to practice?

RAILWAY WRECKS.
IN BATTALIONS.

[Washington Post, July 7:] Two railroad accidents, resulting in a casualty list of 148—sixty-eight killed and eighty injured—direct sharp attention to the methods pursued on railroads looking to the safety of passengers.

Instead of spending millions for costly and showy terminals, some railroads would do well to use part of the money for safeguarding human life.

Eternal vigilance is the price of safety on the rail. The railroad that looks after the safety of its passengers is doing only its duty. Skimping in the number of watchmen and track walkers, impositions upon exhausted trainmen and insistence upon hairbreath schedules are faults that amount to crimes.

BIG GAME HUNT.
ROOSEVELT'S QUEST.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger, July 7:] It is to be feared that Col. Roosevelt, in desperate hunt for an issue, other than his real issue of Roosevelt for Roosevelt will find himself a supporter of Mr. Taft in spite of himself. The colonel throws out intimations that after all, the issue is protection and a real protective tariff. He proposes to attack Wilson as a destructive free trader and after he has investigated the subject of the tariff and the high cost of living, he will make an exposition of his views. If the colonel after his study of the subject, should thus join issue with Wilson on the chief issue between Wilson and Taft, the spectacle will be one to cause even those third-termers who expect the unexpected from their chief to gasp.

A RICH POLICEMAN.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

CHICAGO, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Lieut. John Dawney of the Grand Crossing Poolice Station, announces he will resign from the force August 1. He proposes to further his ambitions in the realty and banking business. He will assume the management of a large South Side real estate firm. Dawney is said to have $100,000. Lieut. Dawney has been a member of the police department for twenty-three years. For years he commanded the Grand Crossing Station, which included the greater part of the Calumet district. His real estate holdings in that section have earned him many thousands of dollars. Since the resignation of former Capt. Nicholas Hunt, he was considered the wealthiest member of the police force. He collects rents on more than 150 of his own buildings. He resides at No. 528 Ninetieth place.

OBJECTS TO "TURKEY TROT."

New York Priest Says if He Were a Judge He'd Send Patrons of Rag Time Dance to the Penitentiary.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] "Turkey Trot" dancing was scathingly denounced by Father Edward F. Hannigan in an address to the young people of his congregation in St. Patrick's church today in Long Island City. The priest declared he considered the "Turkey Trot," not only immoral, but criminal, and that severe punishment should be imposed by the courts on those who violated the rules of morality and decency by indulging in a dance of that kind.

"If I presided as a judge," said Father Hannigan, "and a couple were convicted before me of dancing the 'Turkey Trot,' I would sentence the woman to a year in the penitentiary and I would send the man to the County Jail for three months."

Father Hannigan said the denizens of the "Great White Way" were less immoral than the so-called respectable girl or woman who danced the "Turkey Trot."

In an interview following the sermon, the priest said he felt keenly on the subject. He said he was unalterably opposed to suggestive dancing.

Capt. Horace B. Wild, field captain at the aviation meet in Grant Park last summer, will be the commander of the dirigible balloon, which will be similar to Count Zeppelin's Deutschland, the first airship to make regular passenger trips in Europe.

FORMER BELLE DYING IN WANT.

New York Woman Sails for Paris to Aid Daughter.

Mrs. Corwin-Hill and Actor Companion Penniless.

American Friends Save Them Ejectment from Hotel.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Word comes from Paris that Mrs. Roberta Menges-Corwin-Hill, well known hereabouts as the belle of Sheepshead Bay, is dying penniless in Paris. Her mother, Mrs. Robert Menges, sailed for Paris today. Mrs. Hill's marital escapades recently culminated in her elopement with Conway Tearle, a well-known actor and married man.

The hurried departure of Mrs. Menges followed closely that of a young sister of the former belle, who sailed for the French capital on a similar mission about ten days ago.

A cablegram from Paris reported that both Mrs. Corwin-Hill and her actor companion had been in dire straits for several weeks, and that they were almost on the verge of being ordered from their hotel. American friends, it was reported, came to their assistance and supplied them with enough funds to last them until the arrival of Mrs. Hill's mother.

For the past eight years, or since her elopement at 16 with Halsey Corwin, the son of a former Comptroller of Brooklyn, the young woman has been constantly in the public eye. Her married life with young Corwin, a notorious spender, was anything but happy. They separated two years after their marriage, and shortly after she divorced him Corwin squandered $1,000,000 left him by his father, and at present is deer-tender of a Broadway moving picture house.

In March, 1908, she married Capt. Arthur Hill of the Royal Irish Rifles, son of Lord Arthur William Hill, and divorced him the following year.

TRAPPED ROBBING CHURCH.

Thief Climbs Upon Altar in Ancient Gothic Pile of Rome to Steal Cardinal's Votive Offering.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Wireless from Chicago to The Times.]

ROME, July 7.—A thief was trapped today while attempting to rob the titular Church of Cardinal Farley of New York, Santa Maria Sopra Minerva, the one ancient Gothic church in Rome. This edifice was erected on the site of the Temple of Minerva, founded by Domitian, and contains many valuable works of art. The thief climbed upon the high altar and tried to steal a votive offering left by Cardinal Farley when he was installed as the official head of his Roman parish this year. The doors of the church were closed until detectives captured the thief.

Ohio Man Traces Her Across Continent to San Francisco by Baggage Check—Returns to Mother.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Traced by a baggage check across the continent, Mrs. Pearl Schontz, wife of Dr. J. F. Schontz, a well-known physician of Martinsburg, O., was found yesterday by her husband and his father, Dr. W. T. Schontz, after a three months' search, in the company of Robert Warrington, a traveling man of Xenia, O., living in a two-room apartment.

Mrs. Schontz was Miss Pearl Rouse of Xenia, a graduate of Wesleyan College of Delaware, O. She left her husband to visit her mother at Xenia and there met Warrington, whom she had known as a schoolgirl. Her husband and father-in-law persuaded her today to return to her mother. They will leave tonight.

Warrington was without money and is held on a charge of vagrancy.

Missouri Woman Must Stand Trial. First White Woman Murderer in Macon County.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MACON (Mo.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the first time in the history of Macon county, a white woman will appear in court to defend herself of the charge of murder.

Mrs. Minnie Keown, 35 years old, has been remanded to jail without bail for the killing of James A. McCracken, son of W. A. McCraken, a banker of Galt, Mo., at midnight, on Sunday, June 30. Inquiry among those who knew him best shows that he bore a good reputation in Macon as a quiet, law-abiding citizen.

At the inquest, G. C. Reynolds testified he was aroused by a woman's loud talk and saw a man and woman in the street, the woman driving the man with a revolver and occasionally taking a shot at him.

DAVIS TO WED AGAIN.

Richard Harding to Lead a Girl of Stagedom to the Altar—Ceremony in Gotham Today.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Richard Harding Davis, an author, and Miss Bessie McCoy, the popular "Yama Yama" girl of stagedom will be wed tomorrow.

That much Mr. Davis admitted tonight but when pressed for the details or place, hour and attendants he demurred.

"Immediately after the ceremony my brother will issue a statement concerning the facts about the marriage," said Mr. Davis, at his home in Mount Kisco. Beyond that he would not go. Miss McCoy could not be reached at her home in New Rochelle today.

On June 18 last a divorce was obtained by the first wife of Mr. Davis. The first Mrs. Davis was Miss Cecil Clark, daughter of a wealthy Chicago manufacturer. They became engaged by cable and Mr. Davis sent a messenger from London to Chicago with the engagement ring at an expense of over $500.

REVENUE CUTTER ENLISTED.

Government Orders the Rush, Just Back From Alaskan Waters, to Look Out For Contraband Chinese.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] While the revenue cutter service is shy one boat on the Pacific Coast, and Congress has not allowed money to build one which could be stationed on the Southern Coast, the unsettled conditions of things there has caused the government to order the Rush, which has just returned to San Francisco from the North Pacific, to cruise to the southward as far as the Mexican line.

The Rush will keep a sharp lookout for Chinese and other smugglers, and for others who may be violating the law, and she may call occasionally at the port of Los Angeles.

The Bear, well-known in southern waters has just been reported as having arrived safely at Nome July 2, on her cruise to the far northern waters with teachers and officials. She will visit various northern settlements and will be the last vessel to leave for the south when navigation closes.

INSANE AFTER FAST.

Forty-seven Days Starvation and Cream Custard Divorce a Portland Man from His Senses.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I am the greatest man on earth," shouted J. J. Downey of Monterey, Cal., as he walked into the Turkish bath rooms of F. T. Rodgers in the Corbett building late last night. In his hand he carried two bowls of cream custard and a bottle of milk, which he had purchased at a cafeteria.

"These did not cost me a cent. That shows how great I am," continued Downey, as he proceeded to eat the cream custard.

The meal was the third he had eaten since he had stopped a fast of forty-seven days, according to the story he told.

In the afternoon, while in a department store, he started a disturbance by insisting that he was greater than anyone else in th world. He was ejected.

At the bath-house Downey finally became violent and was taken to jail where he was declared insane.

He is constantly mentioned in the judge's interrogations, which imply that he egged his pupils on to action.

SEVEN KILLED IN UNION RIOT.

Louisiana Sawmill the Scene of Disorders.

Bloodshed Follows Speeches of William Haywood.

Militia Companies Called to Restore the Peace.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Seven men are reported killed in a riot this afternoon between members of the Timber Workers' Union and non-union men at the sawmill town of Graybow, near the Texas line in Southwest Louisiana.

HAYWOOD THERE.

William D. Haywood and other leaders have been harassing the Timber Workers' Union almost every day for several weeks, at Graybow, Deridder and other towns in the vicinity, where the mills are not organized, with the beating of rods on old saws suspended from trees, jeers and hisses.

Trouble has been averted narrowly several times today. It is understood that in the midst of one of the speeches non-union men started a similar disturbance. A fist fight ensued, and soon guns were drawn and the killings followed.

MILITIA CALLED OUT.

Wires to Deridder and Graybow are not working, but from Lake Charles, the parish seat, thirty-three miles away, comes information that the Sheriff has left with a special train loaded down with the company of militia at Lake Charles, which Gov. L. E. Hall authorized him to call out.

Several tragedies have attended the attempt to unionize the sawmills of East Texas and West Louisiana.

TO AVOID BLOODSHED.

The trouble began more than a year ago, when the situation became so tense that to avoid bloodshed the operators closed their mills. Eighty mills in this region closed down for the entire winter. This spring, thinking the trouble past, they reopened.

The owners have refused consistently to recognize the union. Minor disturbances of the past few weeks have led to the charge made by the leaders of the union that the owners are employing "gun men."

FIRE IN SACRAMENTO.

Concentration Camp is Destroyed and Loss is Estimated at One Hundred Thousand Dollars.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) July 7.—Fire of an unknown origin tonight destroyed the concentration camp on the south side of L street, practically wiping out a half block of the restricted district and causing a property loss estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000.

The fire had its origin in one of the wooden shacks that comprise the concentration camp. A moment after the blaze was discovered the interior of the camp was a seething mass of flame through which half a hundred or more women blindly fought their way through the two narrow exits to L street.

RUBY GOLD CAMP ANOTHER KLONDIKE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Spring and early summer work proves that the newly opened Ruby gold camp in South Central Alaska will be another Klondike, larger in extent than the Fairbanks or the Iditarod districts. No strikes equaling the Bonanza or El Dorado creeks have been made, but rich diggings have been uncovered on numerous creeks draining a large region.

ONE OF THE BEST.

One of the best strikes was made late in June below Discovery on Long Creek, where the Buckeye Association is washing out 2 to 50 cent pans. The pay is seven feet thick. It is regarded as certain that Long will be a great creek, but full development will not take place this summer. Another winter will be required to get in machinery over the snow trails. The most regular pay streak is on Trail Creek, where it has been picked up continuously for four miles. Trail is about forty miles from Ruby.

OTHER STRIKES.

Just beyond Trail are Quartz and White Channel creeks, both rich. Other recent strikes are Tip Creek, Bear Pup and Glen Gulch.

Ernie McLeod of Iditarod is obtaining $4 per square foot on bedrock from his Trail Creek claim. The Northern Commercial Company bought a site at Ruby in June and is building a large store there. The Northern has staked wharf site on either side of Ruby Creek. Two private wharf locations have been staked with the indorsement of Ruby Commercial Club, which is seeking to prevent the beach being littered with small boats and log rafts, which last year almost prevented large boats from landing. The Ruby telephone company is building lines to all creeks which will constitute the best system ever enjoyed by a new Alaska camp.

Finding Out Things.

AT ODDS WITH WILSON OVER THE CHAIRMANSHIP.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

SEA GIRT, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] When the Democratic National Committee meets on July 15 to organize for the coming campaign there is a strong probability that Gov. Wilson will not take part in the meeting.

"I was led to suppose," he said tonight, "that it was the usual thing for a candidate to do so, but I have since found out different. Before saying anything definite, I shall have to consult with the men to whom I made the promise last week. If I decide to remain here, Mr. Hudspeth, the national committeeman from New Jersey will represent me at Chicago."

TO MEET CLARK.

Asked if he had any appointment to meet Clark and Underwood, the Governor said that he had not, but he added: "I hope I shall have an opportunity to meet and talk with them."

The Governor is in a quandary over the chairmanship. His close friends say he commonly favors the selection of Mr. McCombs, but all the prominent men who have called on him so far, while expressing the highest admiration for McCombs, have pointed out that the chairman must be of broad political experience and executive ability.

Among the names presented for consideration are those of Fred I. Lynch of Minnesota, and George E. Davies of Wisconsin.

M'ADOO THERE.

W. F. McAdoo was with the Governor this afternoon going over some of the planks of the platform with him. He was followed by Mr. McCombs who stayed for an hour and a half. He averred that the chairmanship was not discussed.

Gov. Wilson will hold a conference with Mr. Mack, chairman of the National Committee at Atlantic City Tuesday night.

The rush of callers during the last week has so exhausted Gov. Wilson that he announced today he would receive no callers here after 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

HOLDS CANDIDATE IN FOND ESTEEM.

MRS. WOODROW WILSON FULLY BELIEVES IN HUSBAND.

Whatever the Result of the Election, She Thinks Gov. Wilson Will Be Greater Than President—"He Is Chosen Leader," She Declares, in Speaking of Him.

BY MARGARET DE PEYSTER.

SEA GIRT (N. J.) July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] "Whatever the result of the election, I believe Mr. Wilson will still be greater than President of the United States. For he is the chosen leader of a great cause."

Thus spake the winsome wife of the Democratic candidate today.

"Winsome" best describes Mrs. Woodrow Wilson. She has wonderfully lovely brown eyes, melting lips which bespeak her warm, kind heart, a wealth of soft, wavy brown hair which she wears nestling low down on her broad, deep, milk-white forehead. Her features are small and regular. Her arched eyebrows indicate intellect. Her figure is rounded in matronly curves without in the least running to fatness. The lady of the little White House at Sea Girt is a charming feminine tea rose among women. She has the daintiest taste in dress, affecting quiet, warm shades, which suit her wonderful complexion admirably. A simple necklace of old coins and a few rings—among which is the sparkling engagement ring of fine brilliants—that is all the jewelry she wore while I was studying her graceful presence, sitting back in the low morris chair on the lawn of the Governor's summer home.

DAUGHTERS ARE ACTIVE.

The activities of the three Wilson girls—as sure as their name is Wilson somebody is going to call them the three graces—are so various—one is studying singing, another is a settlement worker, another has just completed her college course—that it was natural for me to ask their mother if she had any special theories as to the care and education of the children.

"A great many," Mrs. Wilson answered, smilingly. "I believe in allowing a child's mind to develop itself as much as possible, to assert its own preferences.

"I taught my children myself until they were 12 years old.

"I believe in feeding a child's mind upon the very best. I never allowed my little daughters to read trash."

"Are you interested in women's clubs?" I asked.

BELONGS TO A CLUB.

"I belong to a club," Mrs. Wilson answered, "but I am not what is generally called a clubwoman. I am chairman of the Art and Music Committee of the Present Day Club of Princeton, which is included in the federation. Formerly our clubs were too dilettante, too much devoted to art and literature, but now they are intensely practical."

"And suffrage?" I inquired.

Mrs. Wilson smiled and with a plump, white hand smoothed the soft green draperies of her gown.

"There are all shades of suffrage opinion in the family," she replied, "When I think of the value as a weapon it might have for the large number of women who earn their own living, I am inclined to favor it. When I consider its possible effect upon the larger interests of society as a whole I am not so sure. One of my daughters is a suffragist. Which one, I won't tell you. She might not like it."

Mrs. Wilson remained firm in her determination not to divulge the secret of the identity of the suffragist of the family. But the finger of suspicion and commendation points to the brunette daughter, Miss Elinor.

From the northern provinces of that country many families are fleeing across the border to Spain as they fear uprisings. [By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] It is reported in Broadway theatrical circles that Nat Goodwin is about to commit matrimony for the fifth time. It is known that his lawyer, Herman L. Roth, is en route to meet Goodwin in response to an urgent telegram from the comedian.

"The name of Mr. Goodwin's affianced is not revealed, but some close friends of the actor believe she is none other than the "Pasadena Belle" who, according to newspaper reports, was rescued from the briny deep by Goodwin several weeks ago.

Members of San Francisco Family Find Difficulty as Jews in Gaining Entry to Russia.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Mrs. S. A. Lincoln Brown of San Francisco, who is touring Europe with her husband and sons, writes to a morning paper from Carlsbad that, although armed with a passport, the family found it difficult as Hebrews, to gain entry into Russia. They were harassed at every step, but took copious notes of the utter degradation and woe of the working Jews caused by injustice practiced upon them by the Czar's tyranny.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

TUXEDO PARK (N. Y.) July 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Crocker and her daughters, the Misses Ethel and Helen Crocker, left early in the week for California, after stopping a few days here.

Why He Was Late.

"What made you so late?"

"I met Smithson."

"Well, that is no reason why you should be an hour late getting home to supper."

"I know, but I asked him how he was feeling, and he insisted on telling me about his stomach trouble."

"Did you tell him to take Chamberlain's Tablets?"

STRIKERS SEEK THEIR REVENGE.

FILE CHARGES AGAINST WELL-KNOWN MEN IN PITTSBURGH.

Have Warrants Issued for Manager of Pirates and Pitcher O'Toole for Alleged Violation of Anti-Lottery Law—Admit It Is Part of Their Plan to "Get Even."

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] The Executive Committee of the strikers of the National Tube Works Company caused a tremendous sensation today by having warrants issued for some of the best known men in the city, including Manager Clarke of the Pirates and Marty O'Toole, the $22,500 pitcher, charging them with violation of the anti-lottery law.

All those named in the informations are on the committee that arranged for the lottery of a $1500 automobile, the proceeds to go to St. Richard's Catholic Church.

Benjamin Ainsman of the strikers' committee said today:

"We did this just because we are opposed to having the police act as arbiters of the law. When some of our men went out asking the citizens of Pittsburgh to contribute to the aid of 2500 men and their families who are in dire need of food, ice and clothes, they were arrested and charged with violating the law.

"We know a score or more of these pseudo-charitable schemes that are in violation of the law. We have reported them to the police and have been laughed at. If the police want to play favorites we won't. We are going after all and all will be treated the same way."

PROHIS WILL FOUND A DAILY.

Pasadena Leaders Predict Issue in Thirty Days.

Outlining Course of Study for Approaching Session.

Fourteen Years' Illness Culminates in Man's Death.

[Office of The Times, 32 S. Fair Oaks avenue.]

PASADENA, July 8.—The prohibitionists of Pasadena hope soon to found a daily afternoon newspaper in the city. The contingency upon which the enterprise hangs, according to statements of several prominent anti-liquor men yesterday, is the finding of a practical journalist, who at the same time is enthusiastic in the cause of temperance, for editor. So far, they say, they have been unsuccessful. But they are living in hope, and some went so far yesterday as to predict that the first edition will be out within sixty days.

The Executive Committee of the Anti-Liquor League is considering the project, and it is declared that there will be no difficulty in securing funds to finance the business.

"We haven't given up our attempt to secure the liquor regulation that we want in Pasadena," said S. W. Odell, president of the league, last night. "We have just begun the first round of the fight and if we are to have any success we must have a newspaper. The idea is not to establish an out-and-out prohibitionist paper. I am not an out-and-out prohibitionist. But we want a paper of temperance tendencies. And certainly we are not going to have at the head of it any other than a practical newspaper man. We are searching for a practical newspaper man who inclines to temperance. I don't know whether we shall find one.

"However, nothing definite has been accomplished as yet. The project, so far, amounts to nothing but talk. But there has been a lot of talk."

PLANNING STUDY COURSE.

Superintendent of Schools Rhodes and members of the Board of Education are at work on the course of study that is to obtain in the public schools of the city next winter. As usual, a number of changes in the coure will be made but Superintendent Rhodes declared last night that while he is busy with the matter he has nothing to announce as yet.

The school buildings are being renovated and put in conditon for the fall term of school, and, according to Superintendent Rhodes, it will probably be necessary to put up a number of portable school buildings to take care of the increase in enrollment of pupils that is looked for.

The Washington-street school, in the northern part of the city, which is now practically completed, will be the only new school to be opened in the fall. The Polytechnic High School will not be ready for occupancy in its entirety until the following autumn, although perhaps some of the buildings will be done, so that they may be put in use by the time of the opening of next year's spring term of school.

No principal of the Pasadena High School to succeed LeRoy D. Ely has been appointed as yet. Members of the Board of Education say they have several applicants and that an appointment will be made by the opening of the fall term of school.

WELL-KNOWN RESIDENT DIES.

After having been an invalid for the last fourteen years, Henry L. Musick, No. 485 East Washington street, died at his home, of tuberculosis, at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. He was 50 years of age and was a well-known resident of the city, although his health had been so poor ever since he came here to make his home that he was unable actively to engage in business.

Musick was a native of Missouri and leaves, besides a widow, one son, Elvon Musick, who is now on his way to Pasadena from the northern part of the State. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

TENNIS AFTER DARK.

Evening tennis matches have become the summer amusement of the local Young Women's Christian Association. Electric lights have been suspended over the tennis courts and the young ladies expect soon to have a tournament, the matches of which will be played after dark.

Miss Lucile Halwick, who has charge of the physical culture work of the association, is now attending classes at Berkeley and most of the gymnasium work of the organization has been suspended pending her return.

RAPID FIRE MATRIMONY.

Couple Wedded in Forty-five Seconds Arrive at Avalon and Are Object of Much Attention.

AVALON, July 7.—Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Heaney of Los Angeles, who were married yesterday in the record time of forty-five seconds by Justice Summerfield, and who afterwards leaped into a waiting automobile and again dashed for San Pedro, arrived at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Joseph Zemansky, late last evening.

Immediately it became known that the elopers were on the island the reception committee got busy Headed with the tin can brigade the committee paraded the streets, then surrounded the residence and "serenaded" the bride and groom. The bride was formerly Miss Blanche Maurice of No. 957 Arapahoe avenue. The couple will make their home at No. 931 West Sixteenth street after the honeymoon is completed.

YACHTSMEN BANQUET.

Nearly 200 representatives and friends of the South Coast and Sunset Yacht Clubs have spent four days on the island. Banqueting, racing, dancing and having a good time has been the ambition of all.

TUNA SIGHTED.

Reports reached here today that a large number of tuna had been seen off the west end of the island and in the vicinity of Ben Weston's Point this morning. Immediately several old-time fishermen grabbed their equipments and started for the location. Several anglers have reported tuna during the past few days. Angler Harvard of Hamilton, Canada, who has been fishing in these waters for the past six weeks, stated that he had seen leaping tuna which would easily weigh 200 pounds.

Albicore fishermen have had exceptionally good luck for the past few days. Some yellowtail and white sea bass have also been brought to gaff. The largest catch of the week was made by Garston Mellis of Chicago, who arrived at the wharf today with nine yellowtail, one white sea bass, four albicore and three rock bass. For nearly two hours G. H. McGraw of New York City fought a swordfish near Seal Rocks. Finally the catch escaped, lashing the water into a white foam as it snapped the line. The Tuna Club prizes for the first swordfish and tuna of the season are still to be won. For several years both these prizes have been awarded before July 1. The summer tournament closes October 1.

Angler Hooper of Boston, who arrived here four weeks ago, is still looking for his first forty-pound catch. L. G. Murphy of Converse, Ind., who has spent the summer here for the past nine years, is trying out some new paraphernalia, which will take place of the kite. Murphy holds the world's record for black sea bass. He is the inventor of several angling devices which have been used successfully.

TIMES CAMP GOSSIP.

"What can I do for my sunburn?" bewailed "Frisco," the king of the newsboys, to Mrs. Galloway, the Times' Camp matron. "My shoulders are so sore that I just can't wear any clothes." Gently the matron dressed the blistered shoulders of the newsboy with a preparation of soothing ingredients. Like many other boys the "raw spots" had been troubling him for several days, but soon he assumed a "Sunny Jim" countenance when he found himself relieved of pain. "Gee, but that dope of yours has got Painless Parker's outfit skinned a city block," he exclaimed, as he made a dive into the tent to dress.

Numerous "three-term boys" are now feeling the benefits of the trip. With muscles hard as iron they strut around the camp grounds pictures of health and vigor. Continuous open air treatment, wholesome foods, early to bed and early to rise rules have developed them wonderfully. No more do they pick and pamper at their plates or eye the food with a lackadaisical stare. Scarcely can they wait for the whistle calling them to the tables.

GIVEN PURSE OF GOLD.

Pastor of the Holy Family Church Celebrates Tenth Anniversary of His Priesthood.

GLENDALE, July 7.—Rev. James S. O'Neill, pastor of the Holy Family Church, was presented with a purse of gold by his parishioners in a surprise reception given last night at the parochial residence, commemorative of the fifth anniversary of the founding of the church by him and his tenth anniversary as a priest.

Father O'Neill organized the parish and held his first services under the Stars and Stripes in the G.A.R. Hall. Yesterday he celebrated mass in his own church, which was built through his energy and organization. He is a secular priest under Bishop Conaty of the diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles. He sang his first mass in St. Phillip's Church, Boston.

Miss Anna Fangman gave the presentation speech at the reception and stipulated that the gift was to be dedicated to the personal use of Father O'Neill. Services were held yesterday commemorative of the Feast of the Sacred Blood.

Long Beach City Employees Make Complaint.

Two Men Are Believed to Have Been Drowned.

Rowboat Rented Found Capsized in Open Sea.

LONG BEACH, July 7.—City employees will make a united and organized request upon the committee having in charge the revision or framing of a city charter to change the fiscal year of the city, making it begin with the inauguration of each incoming administration.

At present, the charter provides that the fiscal year shall end on the thirtieth day of June each year, while newly-elected city officials take office the first Monday in January of each year. The budget of each year is framed in August and collection of taxes do not begin until October. The result has been that for three months some of the salary funds are exhausted and employees, presenting their warrants find no money available and in order to secure cash for living demands are compelled to discount them.

This they claim is an injustice, as they are on fixed salary, and it is contended that the city should provide for the payment of the full amounts due them. Before the next month's warrants are issued the Council will be asked to assume these discounts by the city, so that employees can realize the face value of the warrants.

Another reason for the necessity of changing of the fiscal year is to make each administration responsible for the expenditure of funds within the life of their office and not be compelled to enter office with six months of the year looked after by an outgoing administration, which has the advantage of handling the year's funds on hand.

ALLEGED WIFE-BEATER.

Edward Rowan, living at Eighth and American, came home last night intoxicated, and after a quarrel with his wife and daughter, attacked them and, it is alleged, brutally beat Mrs. Rowan, so badly that she is in a serious condition. Rowan was arrested by Officer Llewellyn and fought the officer all the way to headquarters. A complaint issued by Mrs. Rowan's father and brother charges Rowan with battery.

MEN DISAPPEAR.

The local police are watching police reports from other cities for inquiry concerning two unknown young men, who are believed to be corpses in the ocean in this vicinity. On July 1, Capt. A. C. Walton of Alamitos Bay rented a rowboat to two young men, of whom he took but cursory inspection. They rowed out beyond the bar and since that time nothing has been seen of them or the boat.

Capt. Walton notified the police next day, but there had been no reports of missing men. Last night the officers of the Santa Clara reported having sighted in the channel off shore a round-bottomed rowboat, overturned and adrift, and it answers in every respect the boat rented by Capt. Walton.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Clinton E. Woodruff, secretary of the National Municipal League, which meets in Los Angeles this week, will be the guest of honor of the Long Beach City Club one night and will address them on the commission form of government.

The usual summer Sunday crowd flocked to the beach today by street car and auto. About 2000 people passed the turnstile of the bath-house for bathing privileges. The local launches carried good crowds to San Pedro and on fishing trips and the concessions were well patronized. By far the greater majority of the visitors, however, were content to rest on the sands, listening to the concerts of the Donatelli band west of the pier and the municipal band east of the auditorium.

The local Salvation Army is rejoicing over the return to Long Beach of Adjt. A. E. Davis and family. Adjt. Davis was transferred eighteen months ago to San Diego, but became ill and returned to Los Angeles, being later sent to Pasadena. Recently the Salvation officer in charge here was given a furlough, and business men of the city sent a petition to headquarters to return Adjt. Davis.

The Chamber of Commerce and Ebell yesterday closed a contract booking Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, of pure food fame, for a lecture in this city some time next month. The lecture topic has not been announced, but it will deal with subjects in reference to public health. It will be given in the auditorium.

During the month of June ships brought to the city docks 1,630,647 feet of lumber, several thousand shingles and lath, 600.24 tons of merchandise and 2716.96 tons of cement. Dock receipts for the month were $268.69, an increase over May of $35.

The Orastrella tribe of Red Men has elected and installed as officers: James Burk, Sachem; Gustave Heiterman, Prophet; John Lake, Senior Sagamore; William Carlson, Junior Sagamore; Charles Sansom, Keeper of Wampum; E. S. Girstle, Collector; Emil Sanstrom, Chief of Records.

WILL SMASH ALL RECORDS.

South Pasadena Adopts Unique Slogan and Town Is Going Ahead Like Los Angeles.

SOUTH PASADENA, July 7.—Building permits in this city for the month of July promise to smash all former records, to judge from the start made, as the total to date, is $45,000. A permit for a two-story, ten-room house to be erected at No. 203 Oaklawn was issued to the G. Lawrence Stimson Company, which firm also took out a permit for a similar residence at No. 207 Oaklawn, to cost $15,000 each. The structures will have strucco exterior and will be beautiful in design.

John R. Gentle took out a permit for a two-story flat building for No. 603 Mound avenue, to cost $6000. Mr. Gentle stated that he was trying to keep pace with the brilliant future he predicts for this city under the new slogan, "Harmony and Horsepower" recently adopted by the citizens.

A permit was also granted Harst & Meerritt for a $2500 residence at No. 1712 Bank street, and to Fred O'Neil for two residences on Fair Oaks avenue and Rollins street, for $1500 each. Other permits brought the total up to the amount mentioned above.

JOBS DIVORCED.

With the close of the fiscal year, June 30, the position of deputy marshal and tax collector was divorced from the office of building, plumbing, electrical inspector, and on July 1, John W. Moore assumed the duties of inspector, in the place of William Lowry, whom he succeeded. What arrangement has been made for tax collections, has not been announced.

NEWS BRIEFS.

One hundred dollars was made on the Fourth by the Woman's Improvement Association toward its clubhouse building fund through the sale of ice cream, candy, popcorn and lemonade. The booth which was in charge of Mrs. John W. Monahan, and her assistants, catered to the public from early morning until the end of the last event.

Upon recommendation of City Attorney Carson, who reports that numerous requests are being received for copies of the city's famous pool-room law, the Trustees directed the City Clerk to have 200 copies printed for mailing to applicants.

The formal acceptance of the community bridge on Columbia street, in which this city is interested, and over which Pasadena officials have supervision, has been sent to the City Trustees. The final inspection was made May 26.

The funeral services of Dr. W. J. Nelson, who died yesterday in the St. Nicholas Apartments, in Los Angeles of heart disease, will be held tomorrow afternoon from the chapel of Bresee Bros., No. 855 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles, at 3 o'clock, Rev. Charles Pease of the South Pasadena Congregational Church, officiating, with interment in Rosedale. The deceased was one of the foremost mining experts in Canada, and was known in mining circles in Los Angeles on account of his holdings in California and Arizona. He was 67 years of age and was born in Scottville, Hamps county, Nova Scotia, and while a resident there, was twice elected by acclamation to the Canadian Parliament. From there he removed to New York City and Boston, coming to South Pasadena about one year ago, where he invested heavily in real estate. They had recently removed to Los Angeles prior to taking a trip to Winipeg, on account of renting their home. He leaves a widow, three daughters, Mrs. Clarendon Foster, and Mrs. David Vail of this city, Miss Bessie Nelson of Los Angeles, and one son, P. Brooks Nelson of Boston.

IZENOUR FUNERAL TODAY.

Death of Honored Citizen Causes Profound Regret in Monrovia. With "The Times" Many Years.

MONROVIA, July 7.—The funeral of the late Ansley Wolff Izenour will be held at the family home, No. 529 King street, at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. The local Masonic lodge will have charge of the services and Rev. Vander Las will officiate.

Mr. Izenour, who died late Friday night, was for many years agent for the Los Angeles Times, in San Bernardino, and since the early part of 1911 has served the same paper in a similar capacity in Monrovia. He was a man of strict integrity and his death has caused profound regret in the community. He leaves two daughters.

SOLDIERS GETTING READY.

Pomona Company Arranging Plans for Attending the Maneuvers in San Francisco Next Month.

POMONA, July 7.—Capt. Homer Duffy and Lieutenants E. E. Stevens and E. R. Dial of Company D, N. G. C., this city, are busy arranging for the attendance of the company at the joint maneuvers to be held as planned by Adjt.-Gen. Forbes and the local soldier boys are keen to participate in the big infantry, naval and artillery demonstration scheduled for San Francisco in August.

A canvass for twenty new members of the local company is being made this week. Thousands of troops will participate in the forthcoming encampment. The affairs of Company D are in excellent condition and the equipment is now up to first-class standard. Capt. E. A. Peckham, adjutant of the Seventh Regiment Infantry and commander of the Seventh Regiment Band, was here the last of the week to check up the United States government property in the possession of the band, which is stationed here, and commended Sergt. Maj. Brown on its satisfactory condition.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The intrepid balloonist, Melvin Vaniman and his brother, who lost their lives recently at Atlantic City, N. J., when their balloon exploded, were cousins of E. J. Vaniman, cashier of the State Bank of Lordsburg, and Prof. Ernest Vaniman of Lordsburg College, northwest of here. Melvin Vaniman was an associate of Walter Wellman and was a member of the Wellman transocean balloon party. Vaniman had made much money in balloon photography. He was in this locality about a year ago and gave an interesting lecture.

Rev. Franklin U. Bugbee, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, who has had a remarkably successful pastorate here, was given a farewell picnic supper last evening at the pergola at Ganesha Park by the Young People's Social Club of the church. The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Mrs. George S. Phillips, Misses Florence and Velma Osler, Adolph and Walter Johnson of Claremont. Rev. San Bernardino.

AN ECHO OF AN OLD INTRIGUE.

Case in San Bernardino Court Excites Interest.

Workmen Devise a Plan to Walk on Water.

Bear Valley Forest Fire Is Finally Extinguished.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 7.—Tuesday the suit of Mrs. Deitz against Lisle Esler, as administrator of the estate of Fred Esler, deceased, will be called for trial in the Superior Court. The suit is brought to force the administrator to pay a promissory note for $30,000 given Mrs. Deitz by the deceased just before his death at San Francisco after an operation. The answer to the complaint charges that Mrs. Deitz had an overmastering influence over the deceased, caused him to become estranged from his wife, and that it was through the exercise of this influence that the note was obtained.

The suit promises to attract wide interest, owing to the prominence of the Esler family. Twice Esler tried for a divorce at Reno, his wife knocking out the first action, and he died within a brief time after the second suit was instituted. In the wife's answer Mrs. Deitz's name was mentioned, and in the answer to her suit to collect the big note from the estate it is charged that the two lived for a time at the beach, also at Riverside together, and that Esler made a trip to Europe to return with her.

About three years ago Esler and Mrs. Deitz were badly injured near Brownstone, in Ventura county, when a Southern Pacific train struck the automobile in which they were motoring to the Sulphur Hot Springs. They were confined in the hospital at Ventura a long time.

WALK ON WATER.

The quarrymen at Victor have adopted a unique plan for crossing the Mojave River on their way to and from work. Not wishing to take the long round-about route by the bridge they tie an empty five-gallon oil can to each foot, and thus fitted out cross the water with ease. The unique method comes out as a result of the Fourth of July celebration at Victorville, when one of the sports was an across-the-river race. The entrymen were quarrymen, and their dexterity in fording the stream surprised the onlookers. At the celebration "Dad" Talmadge, 84 years old, carved the barbecued meat.

MOUNTAIN RESORT.

The San Bernardino Mountains have a new resort, the Sugar Pine Resort, prepared by Dr. R. B. Rowell of this city. The spot is located about four miles west of the head of Devil Canyon, among a deeply wooded forest. There is a splendid view of desert and valley. The lure has already drawn a large number of summer campers. It is in a section seldom frequented, therefore has the charm of a new world, many of the cozy retreats having possibly been visited by man before.

FOREST FIRE.

A forest fire which started Friday afternoon on the north side of the lake in Bear Valley, gave a force of fire fighters under Arthur Myers, ranger, a hard fight before the flames were extinguished Saturday morning. The fire started on the Hazzard place, where an old prospector was burning out a log. By backfiring the ranger and his men finally controlled the fire. The damage is confined to destruction of undergrowth.

AUTO NOTE.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wells are on a cross-country jaunt by auto from this city to Denver. Cards received from them indicate that they are having a delightful trip. They went by way of Los Angeles, Mojave and Owens Valley region, the mountain roads they report as very bad, but on the desert the roads are excellent. Gasoline and everything at Rhyolite, Nev., they say, are very high, selling at a price that leads them to warn their friends to put in a supply before reaching that point.

COUNTY CHAMBER.

A move has been started here to organize a County Chamber of Commerce, to be composed of members of various Chambers of Commerce of the valley towns. Secretary Vehey of the San Bernardino Chamber has sent out invitations for a session to be held here next Friday morning at 10 o'clock to discuss the plan. A local committee, composed of C. M. Linn and W. W. Brilson, will represent San Bernardino. Highland will be represented by L. A. Desmond and W. M. Randall.

CHINAMAN KILLED.

Wong Fot, Chinese laundry worker, was killed last night by a Santa Fe train, while crossing a trestle on the Arrowhead avenue. A companion jumped to safety on hearing the train approach, but Wong became confused, hesitated, and was struck.

ANAHEIM ORANGES BRING GOOD PRICES IN THE EAST.

ANAHEIM, July 7.—There is great activity at all the fruit packing houses of Anaheim since the or- ange season opened. A big demand for the fruit and a good yield by local groves has made plenty of work around the three plants. Up to date there have been shipped from the three places a total of 295 cars to various markets in the East and the North.

According to the managers of the different plants there is a brisk de- mand for the fruit in all markets, especially the past couple of weeks when everybody was preparing for the Fourth of July, and the price is a lit- tle better than at this season last year.

G. W. Sandilands, manager of the Anahelm Fruit Association, in speak- ing of conditions this season said: "We have sold over 165 cars of fruit this season. Last week we sold a car- load of 'Mother Colony' brand Valen- cias on the Boston market for $4 per box. This is among the top notch sales for the season. We have thirty- five employees and the bunch has been kept busy the past two weeks."

"Let me mention," said Mr. Sandi- lands, "that we have noticed that those growers that used plenty of fer- tilizer are getting the best returns from their groves. I have been in- formed that some frost-damaged fruit from other sections has been sent into the market and if this is true and there is very much of it gets among the retailers, it is liable to cause a slump in prices."

The Independent Fruit Company has a record of seventy-three cars of fruit that has been sent out this sea- son. Its shipments during the month just past have been satisfactory and the fruit has sold at an average price of $2.50 per box. H. P. Parent of this company also states that the demand for Anaheim oranges is great and that the shipments from this company promise to reach the 100 car mark. He said that the season would run well into the month of September. The Independent Company has sold some of its oranges for $5 per box.

George Maxfield of the Anaheim Orange Growers' Association states that his company has shipped from the local branch since the season opened over sixty cars of the golden fruit, and the returns are very satis- factory. On navels there was a no- ticeable increase over the price real- ized for the fruit last year. Mr. Max- field says the quality of the fruit is very good this year but that some of it was badly wind-beaten, making more second and third grades than usual in the early part of the season. This company employs thirty-four peo- ple in the packing-house and has a force of fifteen pickers in the groves. This force has been kept on duty since the season opened. "I do not care to give out any statement except in a general way," Mr. Maxfield said, "until I have my annual report com- pleted. I am working on that now and when finished I will be in a posi- tion to give facts on this year's con- ditions compared with former years."

Hugh W. Hunt of the Inglewood News has been called to Santa Bar- bara by the death of his mother, Mrs. Margaret Hunt, who expired while walking along Hollister avenue on her way to the Catholic cemetery to place flowers on her daughter's grave. The daughter had died just a year previous.

The "Flying A" troup of the Ameri- can Film Company has removed from La Mesa to Santa Barbara, arriv- ing here yesterday with the full com- pany of cowboys, actors and equip- ment. The old ostrich farm has been leased by the company, which ex- pects to locate here permanently.

ONCE HERO, NOW HUSBAND.

Pretty Romance of Mountain Ad- venture and Rescue to Culminate Tonight in Wedding.

Early summer festivities revived memories and kindled romance into matrimonial fire in the hearts of Frank S. Kramer of Oak Harbor, O., and Miss Londa E. Conaway of this city, who will be united this evening at the home of the bride on Gramercy Place.

Miss Conaway and her parents passed a portion of last summer in Camp Baldy at the foot of San An- tonio peak. Frank Kramer, an east- ern tenderfoot, was getting his first taste of real camp life at the same place. He met the pretty Los Angeles girl at the camp dining-room, but further than acquaintance the affair never progressed until Londa met with an adventure.

She started out one bright morn- ing on one of the numerous trails through the mountain glens and for- est glades. At noon she had not re- turned and was missed. When noth- ing had been heard of her by evening her folks became thoroughly alarmed and the camp authorities sent out search parties.

Kramer started out with several campanions but lost them in a short time and found himself in unknown territory and in deep darkness in the depths of a canyon. Becoming anx- ious he hallooed. From away down the same canyon came the answer. Hurrying on he found Londo.

She had lost her way, stumbled down an incline and sprained an ankle. For several hours she had been slowly walking and sometimes even crawling up the trail. Kramer assisted her along the path and late that night stumbled across some of the other searchers and the two were escorted back to camp.

Miss Conaway was hurried back to the city and Frank saw her but little for months. Recently they met again and cemented their friendship which had grown from the mountain epi- sode. It was only a few weeks before the engagement was announced and tonight the two will become one.

Kramer has been at the Van Nuys for several months and when he re- turns from the honeymoon will reg- ister there again. Incidentally the honeymoon is planned for the same mountain resort where the eventful meeting took place.

CHARGED WITH STABBING.

Much-Sought Italian Arrested After Being Trailed Through Mexico and Back to This City.

Having been tracked through Mexi- co and back to Los Angeles, Mike Mumolo, an Italian, charged with stabbing to death Mike Musakos, was arrested late last night by Detectives Jones and Erven a few minutes after he passed out of the Arcade depot.

Mumolo, in company with his brother, Tony, engaged in a quarrel with Musakos on the night of Decem- ber 30, as the result of which Tony Mumolo was shot through the lung and Musakos was stabbed through the heart.

Mike Mumolo then fled the city and his brother was accused of Mu- sakos's murder, but at the trial wit- nesses declared that it was Mike and not Tony who wielded the knife. Tony was later discharged from cus- tody and the police took up the chase for his brother.

When taken to the Central Station Mike said that he ran away but de- nied having been responsible for Musakos's death.

OIL WORKS THREATENED.

Fire of mysterious origin destroyed a one-story frame house at No. 238 Avenue 16 late last night and threatened for a time to communicate with the Charles P. Grogan Olive Oil Works next door. Frank Pedro, who occupied the house, said that he had been visiting friends and re- turned to find the building in a blaze. The entire upper part of the struc- ture burst into flame a moment later, leading to the suspicion that inflam- mables were present. The loss on the building and contents is estimated at nearly $1000, all of which is covered by insurance.

UNRECONSTRUCTED OLD WARRIORS AT FIESTA.

BANNING, July 7.—Many of the Chimeuvas from the Indian res- ervations about here, at Coachella and San Bernardino, have treked to the Cocopah reservation, at Somerton, in Arizona, where a great fiesta is in progress. Besides the local valley, or Mission Indians, there are attending

Cocopah John,

Big chief, who is keeping peace at the great fiesta being held in Ari- zona by the Cocopahs.

the fiesta members of the Mojories, Chimihueris, Yumas and Maricopas. This is declared to be the biggest kurook pulled off in twenty-five years.

Among the participants are a num- ber of aged war chiefs who figured spectacularly in the Indian wars of the past. Many of these have never been reconciled to pale face dictation, and have attended this gathering with a faint hope that possibly a consolida- tion of the various Indian tribes might be worked out, and one final stand made against the whites. But so far they are disappointed, the young men not having any heart for war.

The Yumas are planning what is said will be even a larger fiesta or kurook for late in August or Sep- tember. They have already sent in- vitations out on bits of bark, deer skin, panther hide and crockery, ac- cording to the character of the re- ceiving tribe. It is expected that every Indian, every brave and his squaw, within a radius of 1000 miles, will attend. The Piutes, inveterate enemies of the Yumas, have been invited. It is expected that a delega- tion of Oregon Indians will attend, while an effort will also be made to secure the presence of the Sioux.

Corn and melons will then be ripe, which will greatly add to the gather- ing, giving the Yumas an opportu- nity to become royal entertainers. A commission will be asked from the government of Mexico to give the In- dians the privilege of hunting wild game below the border to secure veni- son and bear steaks for the nightly feasts.

The Los Angeles Restaurant Men's Association is planning a banquet and entertainment for its members at Brink's Cafe Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The Nipper Nabbed.

L. A. Kirchefer was so industriously engaged in abstracting gold and silver chains by means of a wire through a joint in the glass front of a jewelry store at Fifth and Broadway yesterday morning that he did not notice the approach of Patrolman Eaton. The officer stood in a doorway several minutes watching the man before he placed him under arrest. Kirchefer had his fourth chain half way through the joint when the patrolman gathered him in. He was booked on suspicion at the Central Station.

RISKS HIS LIFE TO SAVE CHILD.

VENICE MOTORCYCLE POLICEMAN DISPLAYS COURAGE.

While Chasing a Speeding Automobile a Toddling Youngster Blocks His Path and Only the Quickest Thought and Action Averted a Tragedy.

VENICE, July 7.—Motorcycle Policeman Williams, during a hot chase after an offending speeder, risked his life in saving a 3-year-old girl from injury this evening. The officer was forced to turn his machine almost at right angles to the course he was pursuing, the bike skidded, Williams was thrown twenty feet against a fence, after having turned a complete somersault. He sustained a bruised and lacerated right knee.

Williams had noticed an auto traveling on St. Mark's boulevard at twice the speed allowed by law, and he gave chase. As the driver saw him he put on more speed and the two machines raced along the street at a breakneck speed. At an intersection a little girl toddled across the street, innocent of danger. The auto saw her and managed to turn aside, but the motorcycle officer was forced to swerve sharply and take a trip through the air to the side of the road over his handlebars. The speeder escaped.

CROWD SMALLER.

Two conditions tended to keep down the number of visitors to this beach—the Independence Day holiday and the cool weather. Only about 30,000 persons enjoyed the beach air and amusements. There were no surf accidents, and the day was passed pleasantly by those who came here.

SURF FISH BITE.

Excitement was created early in the afternoon by the snaring of several large surf fish from the sand at the foot of Breese and Brooks avenues. J. C. Daley and Frank Frakes both landed beauties, the latter hauling out a three-pounder. Soon after the first big one was caught, bathers and loungers hastened to get lines and soon the shore in the vicinity was lined with anglers.

ARM BROKEN.

Harry Osborn, owner of a Marmon car, sustained the fracture of both bones of his right forearm tonight, when the engine of his machine backfired while he was cranking it. He was attended by Dr. von Wiedelstadt at the garage and was afterwards removed to his home.

BLINDED BY CHEMICALS.

Oxnard Man Loses Sight When Pump Slips Throwing Powerful Fluid in His Face.

OXNARD, July 7.—J. W. Emerson, an engine pumper for the Southern Pacific, was blinded in one eye, and his face terribly burned as the result of a peculiar accident today. Emerson, was pumping strong chemicals used to soften the engine water and looked around as a friend called to him. As he did so the pump slipped and the chemicals spurted into his face. His left eye was immediately blinded.

ASSESSED VALUATION.

The assessed city valuation of Oxnard, according to a report just given out by City Clerk Bellah, reaches a total of $2,079,920, a growth of more than $100,000 over last year. The county valuation in the report of the County Assessor was $1,525,000.

OIL SHIPPED.

In preparation for the opening of the American Sugar Beet Factory, the first big shipment of oil this season arrived today at Port Hueneme on barge o. 91. The shipment included 25,000 barrels and shipments of this size are to be received about every ten days from now on. The oil is used in the factory as soon as the "campaign" opens, 1500 barrels being used daily. The factory is expected to start work early in August.

RANCH WORTH HALF MILLION.

PORTERVILLE, July 7.—King C. Gillette, the razor king, has addded to his already immense orchard property in this district, by the purchase of 200 acres of foothill land, which is to be planted out to lemons, with a view to making it one of the greatest orchards of California. Gillette's latest purchase totals a value of $45,000 cash, which makes his Tulare county property worth well over $500,000. Gillette has issued orders to his local manager to start work on leveling the land and contract for the delivery of lemon trees with which to plant. The property is to be irrigated from two fine wells, already developed, and which show a production of seventy-five inches of water.

ODD PEACE AND ODDER HARMONY

Jewish Elections Break Up in a Near-Riot.

Order of Western Star Torn by Rival Factions.

Police Gather Heads in and Fight's Compromised.

Riot and possible bloodshed were narrowly averted by the police reserves when contending factions of the Order of the Western Star, a prominent Jewish organization, attempted to seize the records at the annual installation of officers which was scheduled to take place at Mammoth Hall last night.

Charges and countercharges involving the integrity of the officers were exchanged and several times the infuriated membership attempted to enforce their claims by strength of numbers.

Marco Moses, said to be the newly-elected president, and Fred Margarettan, whose term of office was to have expired last night, were removed by the police to the Central Station, where a truce was made until the affairs of the lodge can be brought to the attention of the courts.

According to one faction, Marco Moses and his brother, J. Moses of No. 130 East First street, were legally elected president and secretary, respectively, at a meeting held a week ago. Announcements were sent out yesterday calling for a "peace and harmony meeting" to be held at the hall last night.

STRENUOUS CHARGES.

Meanwhile, it is alleged that Margarettan declared that he still was president, as a quorum was not present at the election, and that there would be no "peace and harmony meeting" unless he was in the chair. Charges that the books had been tampered with were made by prominent members, together with graver allegations on the part of certain officials.

Likewise, charges that a bigamist had been admitted to the order added fuel to the flames, and everything was set for a small riot when the new officers attempted to exercise their function.

Sergts. Hoover and Ferns, with Policemen Greely and Olinger, were sent to the hall to restore order, but as the crowd refused to desist in creating an uproar, it was decided to take the rival officers before Lieut. Adams.

A procession of angry and disgruntled members followed in the wake of the officers and surrounded the police station while the conference was in progress.

H. Brandman of No. 711 Temple street explained that he was the old secretary and that the books showed that the old officers were still in power. A telegram from the main office of the order at Chicago was admitted in evidence as tending to show that Margarettan had not been legally deposed. The other faction refused to listen to this argument and another outbreak was imminent when it was suggested that all documents be turned over to D. Leeshstein, the Grand Deputy of the California Lodge, who is ill at his home, No. 306 North Fremont street.

A COMPROMISE.

After another discussion lasting for more than an hour, this was agreed to, but neither side would permit the other to handle the documents. In this extremity Officer Greely was instructed to take the rival officers to the home of the Grand Deputy and turn over the books in person.

This decision proved satisfactory to both sides and was carried out to the letter, although the crowd on the outside tried to howl down the proposition.

As the officers disappeared, the crowd gradually melted away, after agreeing to hold another "peace and harmony meeting" next Sunday night.

In the meantime, Margarettan says he will get out an injunction.

GETS A RICH REWARD.

Tulare Man Given a Legacy of Forty Thousand Dollars for Kindness to an Uncle.

TULARE, July 7.—To be rewarded for service after a period of twenty years, and to have that reward come in the form of a legacy for $40,000 was the good fortune of J. P. Moore, manager of the J. W. Jones ranch near this city.

Mr. Moore has just been advised by attorneys of Sheridan, Wyo., of the death of a wealthy uncle, Dr. L. B. Moore, and that he is the sole heir to an estate conservatively estimated at $40,000. The will, which gives the property to the nephew was made twenty years ago. For several years prior to that date the nephew made his home with Dr. Moore and it is in return for many acts of kindness and service during that period that the estate was left to the Tulare man.

GRANGE PLANS.

Officials of the Pomona Grange, the headquarters of which association are in this city, have appointed a committee headed by John Tuohy, who will choose his assistants, to draft the by-laws of a mutual indemnity organization for members, to care for compensation which will necessarily be paid under the terms of the Roseberry Employers' Liability laws.

Under the State regulations as they exist at the present time ranchers are listed the same as any employer of labor. It is claimed that during the fruit picking and packing season, when it is practically impossible for an orchardist to exercise any vigilance in the choice of help, the operation of the law could easily become a hardship.

If the mutual is organized each member of the association will be assessed a small fee for membership, to cover incidental expense, and if compensation is ordered by the State officials, and any member of the Grange required to pay the same, the amount of the award will be pro-rated.

RICH STRIKE.

NEEDLES, July 7.—D. J. Callahan has made a rich strike of tellurium ore on the west slope of Timber Mountain, seven miles northeast of Nipton. This is the first discovery of tellurium in that section. Assays show an average ranging from $15 to $75 per ton in values. The discovery was made on a great dyke outcrop extending for 700 feet. This outcrop has long attracted prospectors, but until now no paying values have been discovered. The strike was made, not in the dyke proper, but in a wall.

Ventura.

WORK STARTED ON BIG BRIDGE.

VENTURA COUNTY BEGINS TO FULFILL ITS AGREEMENT.

Structure Will Probably Be Completed by Christmas and Will Be a Feature of the Rincon Boulevard, Which Will Join City With Santa Barbara—Politics Warming.

VENTURA, July 7.—Work has commenced on the big Ventura River bridge at this point, yesterday. One hundred thousand feet of lumber was ordered and hauling of it to the river bed at the foot of Main street was begun. This lumber is to be used in the making of forms in which to pour the concrete for the arches.

The superintendent for the Portland Concrete Pile Company, the contractors, J. H. Knox of San Francisco, has arrived. Twenty-five men with teams are ready to start work in the morning and in another week at least 100 men will be on the job, which it is proposed to rush to completion as quickly as possible. It is expected that by Christmas the bridge will be well along towards completion. The bridge is to be entirely of concrete and reinforced with steel and will use the patent-hinged arch. It will have nine spans, each 120 feet in length, and with a roadway of twenty feet.

This bridge is to be a feature of the Rincon beach boulevard, which Santa Barbara has joined with this county to build, the Ventura Supervisors agreeing to build the bridge if the Santa Barbara people would raise money to build the causeway overlooking the sea. The bridge is to cost $50,000, while the other portion of the roadway will cost as much more.

POLITICS WARMING.

The fight for Supervisors the coming election is arousing interest. Three Supervisors are to retire this year, viz., Tom Clark of the Ojai district; Frank Cook of this city, and Mal. Carr of Oxnard.

Not one of these men has signified his intention of running again, though it is believed each would like to be re-elected. Petitions for the primary must be filed by July 29, and so far but one petition has been filed, that of Ira Gosnell, who would stand for the place as a Republican in the Ojai district.

Other candidates in that district spoken of are James Gibson, Tom Gray and A. A. Garland, with several dark horses. There are no candidates in the Ventura district so far except W. E. Brakey, who has been named by the Socialists. No candidate has cropped up in Carr's district in Oxnard, though there are said to be several aspiring Democrats who see a hope because they believe it a Wilson year.

HAYES IN RACE.

E. A. Hayes of San Jose, Congressman from the upper district, and now in this, is out in the local papers as a candidate for re-election. His chief opponent is Superior Judge Robert M. Clarke of this county, who is now making hay in Hayes's section.

The San Jose man, in his announcement, appeals to both the insurgent and standpat element in the party and says he has always been independent in politics to the extent of sometimes embarrassing himself with both factions. But he says if he cannot stay independent he does not longer desire to sit in Congress.

RAID A GAME.

The Sheriff raided a stud-poker game yesterday which was being conducted in the rear of a barber shop at Simi. He caught the players red-handed and arrested the proprietor of the game, Jack Burns, who pleaded guilty, and was fined $100.

Have you seen that blue serge special of ours? It is a wonder. Mighty few tailors care ever to reduce blue serges—they are so staple—but the house where money always goes farthest is putting out every single bolt of blue serge at a straight 10 per cent. reduction. It doesn't compare on paper with the half price that other tailors quote, but it means a good deal more in actuality. Better see them.

"SHADOW GIRL" ADDS PIQUANCY.

Lace Sleeve's Mystery Veil for Auto Accident.

Rich Young Bachelor-Lawyer Employs an Alias.

Says "Woman's" Mere Figment of Imagination.

A "shadow girl" figured yesterday in a mysterious accident in which a big touring car, owned by Walter E. Byrne, former District Attorney and one of the wealthiest young bachelors of San Bernardino, plunged headlong down a steep embankment on the Venice road, tearing through a barbed wire fence, landing in the bed of a small creek near the fork of the Adams and Washington road.

Just before daylight yesterday morning the automobile was found standing in the creek bed. The torn up earth, and broken fence marked its pathway from the road. In the bottom of the machine was a lace sleeve, evidently torn from a dainty feminine creation. The auto party which discovered the wrecked car and found the sleeve believed that some woman had been seriously hurt in the accident.

However, the mystery only deepened when Byrne appeared at the Washington auto station garage yesterday afternoon and declared that he was driving the car when the accident occurred and that there was no woman in the car at the time. He said that besides himself the car contained E. H. McGiven of Los Angeles,

PENTECOSTAL PASTOR DIES.

Ill a Year Ago in Chicago He Came to This City for His Health, But Succumbs to Heart Disease.

Rev. William H. Durham, pastor of the Pentecostal Assembly Church, died suddenly of heart disease yesterday morning at his home, No. 6529 South Denver street.

Mr. Durham was 39 years old and had lived in Los Angeles about two years. He came here from Chicago, where he had been the pastor of a church. He was born in Kentucky and in his early youth decided to study for the ministry. After he entered his chosen field he rapidly gained a reputation as a forceful and eloquent preacher and it was not long before he received a call from a Chicago church. About a year ago his health began failing and he suffered frequently from attacks of the heart.

Several weeks ago Mr. Durham went to Chicago to attend a church conference there. He returned home Friday. The strain of the trip is believed to have told on his strength although his wife and friends did not believe that he was seriously affected by the long journey.

Mr. Durham leaves a widow. Arrangements for the funeral have not been fully completed. There will be services at the late residence followed by services at the church at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The place of burial has not yet been selected.

MUSTARD? NOT MUCH; MURPHY.

All City's Vacant Lots to Be Potato Patches.

Tubers Will Grow Where Weeds Grew Before.

Planned for School Children to Raise 'Em for All.

The bricks-and-mortar desert of citydom is to be made to bloom as the rose—the early rose, in particular—for the school children are to plant every available space with potatoes.

In vain will the lowly goat henceforth search for a juicy tin can or a dainty morsel of red woolen shirt. Where were tin cans, dog fights and desolation, will flourish the peaceful potato; or, in soil where potatoes won't grow, the soulful union and the willing bean, and Little Kate Greenaway kids in sunbonnets and rompers, will bedew the earth with their infant sweat after school and Saturdays.

So, if some day you hear a timid knock on your door, and a pair of youthful eyes look pleadingly up, while a stubby finger points to the vacant lot next you, and a frightened voice says, "Pleath may I plant a bean over there where there ith on'y weeds?" you may as well surrender gracefully, because that youngster knows his business.

It will all be done in a scientific way, too, under competent instructors. No more will small, rapt gardeners earnestly dig up their planted treasures to see where and what it will come up; they will know by the tops and the seeds and things—all the deadly technical ways.

POTATOES EVERYWHERE.

Factory districts and fashionable suburbs alike will be decorated with the wholesome "greenth" of the sturdy tubers, and where they are most needed for decorative purposes, flower gardens will bloom. Not a little of educative value will result, as well as for example to the little Utah-street boy, who, shown a potato in the rough, exclaimed in disgust: "Naw, that ain't no potato; potatoes is all shiny and soft and hot."

"It appears a gigantic undertaking," said Assistant Superintendent Bettinger, alluding to the project, "but not really as great as it seems. Already many vacant lot beside schoolhouses have been utilized. It will be a great economic move for the children can raise enough potatoes to supply the city—why, they raised 3200 pounds at Seventh street last year. It is of great educational value, as well as promising a vast improvement in the appearance of the city."

Said Mrs. Larkey, who is a member of the City Beautiful Committee: "We hope to utilize every vacant spot in the whold city. There is no place in the world where there is a greater variety of soils than is to be found; the sandy places will be planted to potatoes, the adobe and clay soils to beets and cabbages and flowers."

INDORSE THE PLAN.

Property owners have been most generous in contributing their property for gardening purposes, and since the new city ordinance has gone into effect, requiring them to clean up their vacant lots, they will probably be very glad to have the children transform them into potato fields.

J. H. Braly, ex-president of the school board, has given Gramercy Place over to the school authorities for the use of the school children, and Henry O'Melveny, at present attending the National Horticultural Institute in London, has given his property, adjoining the Seventh-street school, for gardening uses.

Real estate owners express themselves as delighted at the prospect of the vacant spaces being cared for by the children. Among those actively indorsing it are H. O. Griffith, Robert Marsh, R. J. Schweppe, of the William Garland Company, and others.

ENGINE BLOWS UP.

And Rancher Is Hurled Twenty Feet But Escapes With Slight Burns About the Eyes.

Hurled twenty feet by the bursting of a gasoline engine, and escaping with slight burns about the eyes, was the unusual experience of William Reece, of No. 930 Macy street, on a ranch near San Pedro late Saturday afternoon. He visited the Receiving Hospital yesterday to have his eyes treated. He told Dr. Webber it was surprising that he was not instantly killed when the engine exploded.

A fracture of the left ankle was sustained by Joe Chavis of Laguna while wrestling with a friend yesterday. He was removed to the County Hospital. H. T. Hanschild, No. 945 Sunberry street, was knocked down at Fifth and Broadway yesterday by an auto driven by George A. Dameron, No. 1048 Gratton street. His injuries were slight.

The second auto accident of the day with a Receiving Hospital end occurred on Seventh street, between San Pedro and San Julian streets. George Sherrer, No. 622 San Pedro street, 8 years old, ran in front of the machine driven by Hugh MacDonald of Tustin. The boy suffered a sprained knee.

POLITICAL BUG FINDS BARS UP.

Municipal Leaguers Guard Against Stampeders.

New Ideas, Not New Parties, Receiving Support.

National Convention Begins Its Labors Today.

The first day's programme of the National Municipal League convention today is as follows:

Parade of all city departments through the downtown streets this morning at 9 o'clock. The parade will move from Eighth and Main streets, north on Main to First, to Spring, to Ninth, to Broadway, and to First, where it will disband.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the visitors will be taken on an automobile trip through the residence section of Los Angeles, Hollywood, and to Santa Monica and Venice, where stops will be made.

At 7 o'clock this evening the civic exhibit held in conjunction with the league convention, will open in the basement of the Auditorium in charge of Miss Florence Mills. Comprehensive city planning, including transportation, harbors, water supplies, park and street systems, social centers, school works and other subjects, will be treated.

First meeting of the league this evening at 8 o'clock, at the Auditorium, to be called to order by President William Dudley Foulke. Gov. Johnson will preside. Mayor Alexander will deliver an address of welcome, and President Foulke will give the annual address of his office, which will have for its subject, "Expert City Management."

"The National Municipal League is not in existence for the boosting of any political party and every effort will be made at this session to exclude all discussion of parties," declared President William Dudley Foulke at the Alexandria yesterday afternoon shortly after his arrival from his home at Richmond, Ind.

One of the most active workers in the league, bright in the discernment of dangers which might split the organization, particularly at a time like the present, President Foulke has set himself absolutely against the use of the occasion for the aggrandisement of any candidates.

"Numerous allusions have been made as to the possibility of this being turned into a rally for one of the Presidential candidates, but so far as it is in my power and that of the majority of the leaguers, nothing will be done to injure the good work that has been accomplished in the past by this body of really serious thinkers and doers in the cause for better government of cities," he said.

"The league exists for the purpose of directing the new movements, placing them in their proper channels and taking out the best features of reforms in government, and not for bringing them into being by creation of political parties. It stands for the government of communities in all administrative offices and for scientific management of affairs by experts."

LOS ANGELES LEADS.

Speaking of the proposed new charter for Los Angeles he said that it was far in advance of those in other communities where the commission form of government is in existence.

"There is, however, insufficient emphasis placed on the duty of the Civil Service Commission and on the necessity of a competitive system of advancement for employees," he said. "The commission form of government is by no means perfect, but it is really an advancement on the present form and is one that is gradually being corrected by the defects discovered in communities where it is operative."

President Foulke had not seen Los Angeles in forty-two years and therefore is able to fully appreciate its material advancement.

"I visited this city in its pueblo days, in 1870, when I came down from San Francisco on one of the Ben Holliday steamers from San Francisco and was carried by stage from San Pedro to the pretty little town among the hills where orange groves were a wonderful feature and Don Pio Pico was the foremost citizen," he narrated. "From the little I have seen so far I think I would have considerable difficulty in locating any of the familiar places of that time, even the old Pio Pico house, which was famous for its beautiful patio."

The eastern delegates arrived in the city yesterday and several of the principal speakers for the convention registered at the Alexandria. Two arrivals from New York were Elliott H. Goodwin, secretary of the National Civil Service Reform League, and John Ihlder, secretary of the National Housing Association.

TENEMENT CONDITIONS.

Ihlder is one of the men who has brought about many reforms in the building of tenements and other dwelling places in New York City and is an authority on slum life.

School Children Making Potatoes Grow Where Weeds and Tin Cans Once Abode.

Perhaps the most ambitious plan ever attempted by the educators of any city is that to be put into effect here—that of clearing every vacant lot in the city and planting it to potatoes; the work being done entirely by the school children. On the lot shown in the picture the children of the Seventh-street school raised 3200 pounds of potatoes last spring and it is estimated that enough can be raised by an even partial realization of the entire plan to supply the needs of the whole city, besides greatly beautifying it. Where the character of the soil is not adapted to murphies it is planned to raise other kinds of garden truck.

HORSE STRIKES HIM.

Wilton M. Brown, No. 4019 Darrow street, 46 years old, manager of the Bimini Water Company, is at the Good Samaritan Hospital with a broken left upper jaw, broken nose and cuts as a result of being struck by a horse. Brown was harnessing the animal when it became frightened and threw up its head, striking Brown in the face.

MUSIC TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

With a reception followed by a musical concert, the State convention of the Music Teachers' Association of California will be formally opened at 8:30 o'clock this evening at the Gamut Club auditorium. The programme for today includes selections by the singing section of the Germania Turnverein. Miss Helen Beatrice Cooper, dramatic soprano, and Miss Lorna Gregg, accompanist, will assist.

WALTER PARKER DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

WALTER PARKER, Southern Pacific tax agent and for many years a political leader in Southern California, died at the California Hospital at 10:40 o'clock last night of Bright's disease after a long illness. He was 48 years old.

For several weeks he had been dangerously ill and his life had many times been despaired of but he rallied again and again when it appeared he could not live through the night, such was his stamina and determination to live.

Parker for fifteen years was one of the interesting political figures of Southern California and drew about him support which made him a power in the ranks of the Republican party.

Three years ago Parker suffered a serious attack of heart trouble and was forced to give up business for several months. He went back to his old home in Georgetown, O., where he remained until he recovered. Upon his return to the city he announced his retirement from politics. Since then he had devoted himself to his duties as tax agent.

Recently his failing health compelled him to give up business. Dr. C. W. Cook, his physician, states that Parker suffered from chronic Bright's disease, which seriously affected his heart.

Parker was born in Georgetown, O., June 6, 1864. He was educated in the public schools of Georgetown, came to Los Angeles in 1877, bought the Santa Ana Blade a short time after, and published that paper for several years. About seventeen years ago he entered the Southern Pacific Railroad service as tax agent, which position he occupied at the time of death. He was married in 1899 to Miss Harriet Stephen of Georgetown.

STERN MEASURES FOR AGITATORS.

MEXICO PREPARES TO DEFEND BAJA CALIFORNIA.

I.W.W. Not to Be Permitted to Seize Peninsula for Anarchistic Government—Officials Planning to Teach Farming and Better Conditions of Inhabitants.

Although the Magon brothers and their lieutenants have been temporarily removed from their former spheres of activity, the Madero government of Mexico has at last taken cognizance of the "liberal" movement in its relation to Lower California and stern measures are being adopted to frustrate any attempt to invade Mexican territory by anarchistic agitators and their deluded followers.

Dispatches received from the City of Mexico last night announce that a war of deportation will be started in Baja, California, and members of the I.W.W. and other suspicious persons will be given short shift if caught preaching the gospel of treason on Mexican soil.

Arrangements have been completed to garrison the country with soldiers no longer considered necessary in the campaign against Orozco and both the frontier and coast lines will be protected against any influx of troublemakers who are believed to harbor designs against the sovereignty of the peninsula.

In explanation of its intention of ruling with an iron hand the present government, in a report issued by the Secretary of War, calls attention to the fact that the territory is immensely rich in mineral resources and that the land is capable of raising all classes of fruits, vegetables and cereals. Much of the interior remains unexplored and fabulous mines of gold and silver are popularly supposed to exist.

As the territory is united to the mother country only by a narrow strip of land, the Mexican authorities suspect that a moderate-sized Socialistic army might be able to hold it for some time to come if allowed to gain a foothold.

For many years the country has almost been abandoned by the Federal authorities and valuable concessions were given away only to fall into the hands of large corporations.

It is freely admitted by the governing classes that the natives of the peninsula are in a state little better than actual slavery and that the wealth of the land gradually has been absorbed by greedy exploiting interests.

Under these conditions the propaganda of the Magons and other agitators became immensely popular with the half-starved peons and ample proof has been furnished that an army of invasion would be welcomed by the poorer classes.

While the real plans of the anarchists have been largely covered up under the so-called movement in Pins and Politics.

WILSON BANNER A CHICKEN LEG.

Women Rally to Frying Pans in His Support.

Democratic League to Flood State With Tea.

Moonlit Parties to Inveigle the Susceptible Vote.

In so far as Los Angeles is concerned the Presidential campaign this summer and fall will present aspects entirely new to national politics. Pins in politics Los Angeles experienced at its last municipal election. Now enter moonlight parties in rich gardens, a long series of afternoon teas and a number of chicken dinners in which everything is to be cooked in southern style.

Mrs. W. C. Tyler, president of the County Branch of the Woman's Democratic League, has a dozen such schemes to spring upon the voting public unless her opponents can secure a restraining injunction on the grounds that fried chicken a la Maryland, cream gravy, hot biscuits, sweet potato pie and home-made cakes constitute bribery of the most subtle and deadly variety.

Such a dinner is to be served by Mrs. Tyler and her executive committee of thirty women some evening the last of this month. For this purpose they have engaged a large cafe on South Broadway. At 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the dinner the chef, waiters and cooks are to leave the cafe premises and the women of the league are to take their places and to remain in full control until 300 hungry Democrats have been satisfied. The Democratic pie brigade has had so little pie that it is exceedingly hungry and the women therefore expect the tickets to their dinner will be at a premium and they will use the funds thus raised for campaign purposes.

A single dinner in July might be harmless enough, as the Democrats will be hungry again long before election time comes, but the activities of the women are to be much more extensive. It is already announced that beginning Wednesday afternoon of this week every Wednesday afternoon until after the election will be devoted to an immense tea-party which will be held for the benefit of every woman Democrat in Los Angeles county without money and without membership at the league's headquarters in the Higgins Building. The menu will consist of hot tea, iced tea, home-made cakes, good stories and informal political enthusiasm.

The garden parties will begin as soon as the moonlight nights return. That will be late in this month. A charming hostess of the fashionable western district has already offered her spacious lawn and gardens for these felicitous occasions.

"Most of the southern women who are going to cook the southern dinner," says Mrs. Tyler, "were originally for Clark, but we are all Wilson women now and we will work as hard for him as we would have worked for our favorite. We are going to show the men of the State that the fight for nominations closes when a convention is held. We have no quarrels. We want no third party. As good partisans we will unite in an effort to win success for the nominee of the regular convention. If the men follow our lead in this unity of feeling we will pile up a vote to be wondered at."

AFTER FORTY YEARS.

Mrs. Tileston Returns to Los Angeles from New York for First Time in Nearly Half a Century.

One of Southern California's oldest residents returned to Los Angeles the other day, after an absence of just forty years.

She is Mrs. William Tileston of New York City. Mrs. Tileston is visiting her sister, Mrs. Samuel Hamilton, of No. 493 California street.

When Mrs. Tileston left the little village which is now the southwestern metropolis, the Plaza contained all that was indicative of a town, and what is now our "white light" district was land hardly thought fit for cultivation, being given over, in the main, to grazing purposes. She sees not a landmark, save the Plaza church and one or two other ancient structures to remind her of her childhood's home.

In the year 1832, according to her account, Capt. James Johnson, who was engaged in pearl fishing in the Gulf of California, made a trip up the Southern California Coast, and was so impressed with its future prospects that four years later, in 1836, he purchased from Manuel Guiterez a tract of 74,000 acres, including the rancho San Pedro, the Palos Verdes ranch and San Pedro Ensenada, which included the harbor of San Pedro and Terminal Island. The government appointed him first collector of the Port of San Pedro, which was then a port of call for many trading vessels of that period.

The caravans of traders, both Mexican and of the United States, passed through Johnson's great property, and in his hacienda he extended courtly hospitality of the Spanish description to all. Those without means received shelter and provisions without charge, but in the end his liberality was his undoing, for some of the wantons who had benefited on his abundant bounty quarreled among themselves, turned the quarrel upon him, and he was arrested as an inciter of the populace against the government.

Dive Four Colored Men When Police Arrive to Stop Alleged Crap Game—Fifteen Others Taken.

With the agility of comedy acrobats four colored men leaped head first through a back window at No. 916 Hawthorn street at an early hour yesterday morning when Plainclothesmen Watson and White appeared at the door and told the eighteen men and two women they were under arrest. The officers say a crap game was in progress, which they had watched for some time through the window by which the quartette gained their liberty.

Thirteen of the men, including Arthur Bartlett, the reputed proprietor of the game, were released on $10 bail at the Central Station after being booked as gamblers. The two women were booked as vagrants. They were unable to furnish $50 bail. The men and women will be arraigned in the police court today.

The Way to Keep Cool.

Dr. Brougher, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, in his ice-cream suit in which he appeared in the pulpit for the first time this summer yesterday. About him are four of the church's new girl-ushers, also calculated to foster a climatic illusion. From left to right they are Misses Mildred Abbott, Nancy Sayers, Jane Mickey and Jessie Lawrence.

SNOW RAIMENT FOOLS MERCURY.

ICE CREAM CLOTHES KEEP CONGREGATION COOL.

Dr. Brougher Blossoms Out in His Forensic Flannels Simultaneously With Appearance as Ushers of Many Pretty Girls, All of Them Like the Daisies of Shasta.

"The Psychology of a White Suit" might well have been the subject of Dr. Brougher's Sunday morning sermon at Temple Baptist Church, instead of his equally significant one: "A Marked Man."

Dr. Brougher's white flannels have become as much a summer feature of the Auditorium landscape as was Mark Twain's white dress suit in the heyday of the great humorist's fame. Yesterday marked the opening of the regular summer season, and the first appearance of the spotless raiment.

The preacher looked cool, and looking cool, his audience decided that whatever the thermometer might say, it must be cool, and they settled back in their places in pleased appreciation of the sudden moderating of the temperature.

Dr. Brougher preached vigorously. His points were emphasized by acrobatic gestures, but not once did he lose the frapped appearance loaned by the well-fitting white flannel suit, negligee shirt, white tie and white shoes.

The first Sunday in July marked another departure at the church. When the congregation arrived its members were met by white-gowned, pretty young women and a quiet "this way please," and in a jiffy, or less, the worshiper was seated and the "usherette" had returned for another consignment. The girls were drafted into service to permit the regular staff of ushers to take a vacation, and they will be on duty for at least a month.

It requires about seventy-five ushers to handle the Auditorium congregations. Among those who will serve for the remainder of the month are Florence Phelps, Mabel Stephenson, Josephine Sayers, Viola Lord, Erma Wilber, Hazel Campbell, Jane Mickey, Jessie Leonard, Dorothy Hunt, Nancy Sayers, Ethel Wilber, Mildred Abbott, Ethel McClnathen, Grace Phelps, and Rothela Harker.

Dr. Brougher is dependent upon a cane at present, because of his athletic tendencies. He visited Fresno a few days ago to make an address. While there he took part in a game of ball, during the progress of which the divine slammed out a three-bagger. As he approached third the coacher yelled "slide!" Which explains the bad ankle, the limp and the cane.

MEMORIAL MONUMENT.

In memory of a departed teacher the "We Boys" class of the Sunday-school of the First Methodist Church yesterday afternoon unveiled a monument erected by the class in Inglewood Cemetery to the late Mrs. J. D. Burch, its organizer and for eighteen years its teacher. The ceremony was given double significance by reason of the fact that it occurred on the anniversary of Mrs. Burch's death and also the anniversary of the organization of the class. Several speakers told eloquently of her good works, among them Dr. Elbert S. Todd, the present teacher of the class, Ernest Oliver, its first president, and Frank Van Buren, a former president.

RUNNING START FOR GOOD WORK.

Year's Task to Prepare for Great Convention.

Christian Endeavorers Plan to Gather Here.

Great Hall to Be Built at Fiesta Park Stadium.

The opening gun was fired at the auditorium last evening by William Shaw, of Boston, general secretary of the United Societies of Christian Endeavor, in a campaign which will be consummated next July in a great biennial international convention of the Christian Endeavor organizations of the world, when 40,000 delegates will represent eighty Evangelical denominations and 4,000,000 members in all parts of the earth in a series of monster meetings to be held in a specially-constructed convention building at Fiesta Park.

General Secretary Shaw is here to confer with local committees and get the work of preparation under way for he thinks a year is none too long a time to get ready for the hosts who will take possession of the city in the interests of Christian citizenship.

There are 30,000 Endeavorers in California, and the general secretary is fresh from the State convention at Fresno, where great enthusiasm was developed for the international meet of next year. The last time the combined religious organizations under this title met on the Pacific slope was in 1897, in San Francisco, and Secretary Shaw says that the record then established for transportation across the Rockies still stands and will stand until broken in 1913 by Los Angeles.

The speaker addressed an audience which filled every seat in the auditorium, and it is estimated that at least 1000 persons were unable to secure admission. He explained the scope and power and purpose of the Christian Endeavor movement and outlined the plans for the international convention of next year.

This will be the twenty-sixth international assemblage. It will meet July 9 and last until the 14th inclusive. The main convention building will have accomodations probably for 25,000 delegates. Men of international reputation will be present, and the speaker predicted the "greatest demonstration the city has ever seen."

A missionary parade is to be a feature of the week of which Shaw declared "all Los Angeles will see something of the triumphs of our King." In this pageant will be floats descriptive of the growth of the missionary spirit from the days of Robert Morrison to the regeneracy of the Chinese empire under the rule of Sun Yat Sen and the Christian rulers at Canton, which, the speaker said, form 75 per cent. of the whole.

There will be twenty-five or more of these floats presenting the most famous scenes in missionary history and between the floats will march the delegations from the different States carrying appropriate charts and mottoes.

Women's Hair Destroyed

Great Havoc Wrought by Women's Carelessness.

Many women destroy the beauty of their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They do not shampoo their hair often enough, or too often. They use soaps or preparations which contain ingredients harmful to the scalp and hair.

As a result of such treatment dandruff is created, the hair loosens, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences, unless proper and prompt precautions are taken in time. Then again, microbes and certain diseases bring about unhealthy scalp and hair conditions.

Most people can rid themselves of dandruff and correct diseased scalp and hair conditions if they will use the right remedy. We have that remedy, and we will positively guarantee that it will eradicate dandruff and prevent baldness or it will not cost the user anything.

That's a pretty broad statement, but we will back it and prove it with our own money. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the remedy that will grow hair and overcome scalp and hair troubles. It will grow hair even on bald heads, unless all life in the hair roots has been extinguished, the follicles closed, and the scalp is glazed and shiny. It gets its name from the fact that it grew hair in 93 out of 100 cases, where it received a thoroughly hard, impartial and practical test.

We want you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic at our risk. You surely cannot lose anything by doing so, while you have everything to gain. You would better think this over, and then come in and see us about this offer. You will be well repaid for your visit to our store. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Los Angeles only at our stores. The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento, Portland, Seattle and Spokane.

favor of free speech, preparations have been made to collect sufficient arms to warrant an invasion of the country now devoid of soldiers.

The police authorities of Los Angeles have known for some time that Mexican "liberals" were investing in arms and at one time it was reported that several hundred rifles had been concealed in the home of one of the leaders.

No steps could be taken to confiscate these arms as no neutrality laws had been fractured and while the authorities were considering the best course to pursue the rifles suddenly disappeared.

It is suspected that many of them found their way to points adjacent to the international line where they are being held pending a favorable opportunity to march on Tia Juana.

The arrest of the Magons and their subsequent removal to the Federal penitentiary at McNeal's Island, had a tendency to discourage the project, but the authorities at Mexico City seem to fear that other leaders will spring up ready and only too willing to lead the ragged hordes into the Socialistic promised land.

Announcement also is made that the government expects to be in a position to open Lower California to settlement within a few months and agricultural workers will be brought over from the main land to teach the present residents and expected immigrants the art of farming as practiced throughout the southern republic.

Meanwhile secret police in the pay of the Madero government are working in harmony with the American authorities to ascertain when the I. W. W.'s and Mexican "liberals" expect to begin the campaign of subjugation, and soldiers will be ready to receive them as fast as they cross the frontier.

AMERICAN TEAM HAS BIG DAY.

Sprinters Make Clean Sweeps in Century Dash.

Thorpe Wins Pentathlon; Donahue Third.

Jumpers and Long-Distance Runners in Front.

BY JAMES H. RANDALL.

STOCKHOLM, July 7.—Realizing their determination to astonish the natives of the Olympic stadium, the American team signalized the second day's athletic tournament by a clean sweep of the 100-meters race and a bumper crop of other notable victories.

Ralph H. Craig won the century in 10 4-5s. Alvin T. Meyer was second, and Donald F. Lippincott, the record-breaker of Saturday, was third.

This wholesale triumph of the Americans created the wildest enthusiasm and not a little heart-burning among the vanquished.

"Yankee Doodle," played not indifferently by one of the bands, was given in compliment to the prides of the sprinting track, who left the rest of the world's athletes bunched among the "also rans."

Duke Kahanamoku came home first in the second heat of the 100 meters swimming race, free style, doing the aquatic sprint in 1m., 3 4-5s. James Thorpe won the Pentathlon, having only nine points recorded against him in the running broad jump, throwing the javeline and the discuses and the 200 and 1500-meters race. Third honors in this event were captured by a lad from Los Angeles, James J. Donohue, with twenty-nine points. George L. Horine and five other Americans were among the eleven who qualified for the finals in the running high jump.

Right down the card the Americans covered themselves with honors and their superiority, team for team, is now placed beyond dispute. The boys were keyed up to the last note of tension, each encouraged the other. Tonight they are jubilant and they are heroes among the people of this city.

MARVEL AT HORINE.

Horine's jumping style took the breath of the onlookers away from them. He is in magnificent form and when he crossed the lathe at a clear horizontal by a simultaneous impulse, the silent Swedes burst out with a "whew," which sounded like a scream of a thousand sirene.

While the day was perfect for the field and track sports in the stadium, the bicycle racers, sent away at 2 o'clock in the morning, found everything against them. The roads were in bad shape and the hills were numerous and steep. One hundred and twenty cyclists, representing almost every nationality, started on the long 200-mile race round Lake Maelar. Among them were six Americans, John Becht, Empire City Wheelmen; Alvin Loftus, Providence, R. I., attached to the New York Athletic Club; Carl G. Shutte, Kansas City, attached to the St. Louis Cycling Club; W. C. Martin, St. Louis Cycling Club; Jerome Steinert, Atlas Bicycle Club, and Jesse Pike, Century Road Club of America.

With the race two-thirds over, about half of the starters were still riding. Lewis, the representative of South Africa, held the lead, while John Becht, Alvin Loftus and Carl Shutte were among the first twenty-five.

No prettier sprinting race has been run at any Olympic contest than was the 100-meter dash. Four Americans, Meyer, Craig, Belote and Lippincott, went to the tape.

Only one competitor, G. H. Patching, the South African crack, was there from another country to make the Americans extend themselves.

At the first start, Patching and Belote beat the pistol and were called back. Five times the five men in their tense nervousness were off before the pistol crack. Then they started with the crack of the pistol as one man. On an absolutely level line they flashed down the cinder path.

CRAIG FORGES AHEAD.

Not one man forged a hairsbreadth ahead of the other until Ralph Craig, calling upon his best strength, burst ahead and fell across the line, the winner by a foot. How the others finished only the officials could say exactly, from the stands they seemed to be running a perfectly dead heat. The American flag flashed to the top of the mast, showing that the United States had carried off another prize.

Great interest centered in the running high jump trials. The American team was confident of qualifying most of their men and they did. Six of the eleven who qualified by clearing

OFFER AD $32,500 TO FIGHT PACKY.

Ad Wolgast received a telegram from William O'Day yesterday offering him $32,500 to fight Packy McFarland in San Francisco on Labor Day.

He also received two different offers—each of $20,000—to fight Rivers in Sacramento.

He says he will not return a definite answer until he hears from Joe Rivers relative to a fight on Labor Day.

"I can fight Packy any time," he says, "but this Mexican won't last long. If I don't get a fight with him this summer some one else will put him out of business."

Yankees Invincible in Olympiad.

American Athletes Who Shone Yesterday at Stockholm.

"Duke" Kahanamoku, the Hawaiian swimmer, broke a world's record in the 100-meter swim. Jim Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian, won the pentathlon, the five-event competition, and James Donahue of this city, "our Jim," took second. Melvin Sheppard, the veteran middle-distance runner, was slightly off color, but he did the work.

A pleasant custom was inaugurated yesterday at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Hereafter ladies will be admitted to the main dining-room every Sunday night between 6 and 8 o'clock.

Although yesterday was the first time, the dining-room was filled with handsomely gowned women and their escorts. Several members entertained supper parties.

The House Committee announces that the "Sunday suppers" are frankly an experiment, to be discontinued if unpopular. The indications are that they will become a charming feature of club life.

Ad Saw Fight.

Ad Wolgast had a chance to take in the Rivers-Wolgast fight yesterday. The finished moving pictures were put on at the studio at Edendale.

The champ was immensely pleased with them.

"You can see clearly the whole fracas at the end," he said. "Jack Welsh not only counted Rivers out, but took about twelve seconds to count ten. The pictures show that I didn't commit a foul. I took three or four cracks at the Mexican's stomach; then missed with my right and fell over on top of him with my legs spread wide apart. Instead of the referee picking me up, the pictures show that I grabbed hold of him to keep from falling."

Not Edifying.

The employment of Larry Sullivan as announcer at Vernon on the Fourth was a somewhat amusing diversion, but Larry as a fixture will do the fight game no good here. His record in connection with fights and other things is not one that will adorn the fight game in this or any other town.

Undulating Bill.

Bill Toser, the pitcher, always makes me think of Maude Allen, the classical dancer. When he runs bases Bill's arms wave and undulate as he floats along. If the orchestra should strike "The Spring Song," I always feel perfectly certain that Bill would waft, with witching grace, clear around the bases for a home run.

TETZLAFF TO RACE AT PORTLAND TOMORROW.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A two days' automobile racing meet will open here Tuesday with Teddy Tetzlaff and Barney Oldfield as star performers. The Country Club dirt track will be the scene of the races and coming with Oldfield are Heinmann, with a Benz, and Bill Fritch, Cino factory pilot. The Fiat team includes, in addition to Tetzlaff, Hewlett, Verbeck, Hill and Maggio.

Eight events will be on the programme each day. The races will be from five to 151 miles in length. Among the local drivers who will compete are Frank Tauscher, H. J. Groat and Dundee. Tauscher will drive his special Cele racer. Groat will pilot a Stearns and Dundee will drive the famous "Whistling Billie," a White creation.

The advance guard of the racing contingent has arrived in the person of Jimmy Rogers, aviator and auto pilot.

Rogers immediately set to work campaigning for a series of free-for-all races in an effo.(to secure the presence of Ralph Mulford, Hughie Hughes, and other international drivers, in addition to the Tetzlaff-Oldfield squads contracted for by the officials of the speed carnival.

Golf Honors.

FRANK WADE IS THE NEW CHAMPION AT BEVERLY.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

FRANK WADE defeated H. N. H. Woodcock in the finals for the San Gabriel Country Club championship yesterday by three up and two to play.

It must be confessed that the new champion has sprung a surprise upon us, for there were very few who believed that he could defeat Woodcock in such a close match. That Woodcock might conceivably have been off his usually brilliant game and thus fallen an easy prey to the steady golfer, was expected; but that a really close game in which Woodcock could in no wise be described as "off" should still see Wade the winner was a surprise indeed, and his success calls for heartiest congratulations.

In the morning round it was a ding-dong game all the way, neither player showing his best form, but with shining spots at intervals. The drive-off was not very prepossessing and they both missed short putts on the first green, halving the hole for five. Then Woodcock showed off with one of his fine drives, which Wade's skilful second shot counterbalanced and made them level for two. This, too, they subsequently halved for five par figures, Wade holing a very long putt.

Number 3 went to Woodcock for three, who made up for an indifferent drive with a good putt. From the fourth Woodcock's second shot was a gem and landed him dead for the hole, but alas, for human weakness, it took him two putts to get in. Wade on the other hand laid his third shot dead and holed it comfortably, thereby halving a hole in par 4, which had seemed practically in Woodcock's pocket.

The fifth, too, was halved for four, a par three, and both players took the sixth in six, par figures, playing neck and neck most of the way. The seventh went to Woodcock for three to Wade's five, leaving Woodcock two up, to which lead he added No. 8 in par figures. But Wade was in no wise abashed and he played imputurbally on with that consistent calm for which he is noted, with the result that his patience was rewarded at the next hole.

From the ninth Woodcock made a really dashing drive. Too dashed dashing, as he afterwards observed, for it bounded into the road with every intention of staying there, so that its owner picked up and conceded the hole, which Wade did in six. The champion followed this up with a neat three at the tenth, for which he holed a very long putt, leaving Woodcock's lead reduced to one up.

The eleventh trembled in the balance while Woodcock carefully—oh,

NAGLE WINS ANOTHER GAME.

Beats Oaks Because Angels Hit Ball Hard.

Tozer Loses Battle in First Three Innings.

Patterson and Moore Shine in Fielding.

BY GREY OLIVER.

Los Angeles, 6; Oakland, 5. Morning game.

Oakland, 5; Los Angeles, 3. Afternoon game.

Couldn't be any hard feelings yesterday, for each team won a game.

Angels won in the morning because they hit Durbin for no less than eighteen swats and yet they had to have a ninth inning rally before they could do this. For this reason it was one of the most remarkable ball games ever seen in this section.

Just imagine a team getting eighteen hits and making but six runs. Do you get that? And if Dillon had not put in two extra batsmen the chances are that there would have been a tie game.

In the afternoon the Oaks got theirs early off Tozer and after he had lost the game Dillon stuck in Lavorenz. Just why no one knows.

As a baseball proposition the morning game was the best, as it always is on Sunday. The Angels made more than twice as many hits as the Oaks and then had a hard time winning. At that they had to lug in two extra batsmen in the ninth inning and had not these made good hits the game would have ended in a tie.

Smith was thrown out of the morning game for kicking on a decision and Howard and Mitze made home runs. Aside from these the big thing of the game was Patterson's great left-handed catch of Smith's foul to the Christmas trees back of third in the seventh inning.

Durbin was the finger Sharpe stuck in and although he was hit all over the lot he only failed to get by because the locals hit him in the ninth.

Nagle showed some of his old-time form for the locals by pitching an eight-hit game and he would have won with his mouth open had not Core dropped an easy fly in the eighth inning. This muff came with two out and allowed three runs to come in and as these tied the score the Angels had to play the ninth inning.

The Angels started off in the second with their first run on Metzer's pass and singles by Driscoll and Smith and the second one came in the fourth on three singles and a sacrifice.

Howard made the third run with his homer over the left fence in the sixth with two out and the fourth one came in the seventh from a single and steal by Core and hits by Moore and Metzger.

ANGELS ARE WEAK.

The Oaks could do nothing with Nagle after Mitze's homer in the second, until the eighth, when all kinds of runs poured in. Mitze and Durbin singled. Patterson lifted a fly to right field and Leard struck out. Then with two out and two men on Zacher beat out an infield hit, filling the bases. Coy slapped out a fly to Core in center and it was such an easy catch that Core muffed it and the three runners scored. Right after this Hetling whanged out a double to left center and Coy raced across the plate.

The situation looked very bad for the locals until they managed to tie the score in the last of the eighth on Nagle's single, Howard's infield out and a double by Core.

The Oaks could do nothing in their half of the ninth for the first three men up were easy outs. In the locals' half Metzger was an easy out at first and then Driscoll lined a single to center. Dillon got scared about this time and put in Brooks to bat for Smith. This bird responded by cracking out a double to left that put Driscoll on third. Then Page was put in to hit for Nagle and he lined a single over third that scored Driscoll with the winning run, there being but one out.

FAST MATINEE GAME.

The matinee contest was a fairly good one in the way of hitting for both Toser and Killilay were touched for nine swats. Five off Toser were made in the first three innings and

PLAYERS WHO "JAW" TO BE "PINCHED."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WALLA WALLA (Wash.) July 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Umpires in the Western Tri-State League who officiate in games in this city in the future will have a sinecure hereafter as the result of an order issued yesterday.

Mayor A. J. Gillis instructed Chief of Police "Mike" Davis to arrest all players disputing an umpire's decision and charge them with disorderly conduct. The order is the result of a recent visit of the Mayor to a game, in which there was considerable "beefing."

During the contest, the Mayor's wife, who accompanied him, was struck by a bag of peanuts thrown by a bibulous fan. This act is expected to cause the issuing of "rules for rooting" by his honor in the near future.

Make but Four Swats Off Salee Yet Shut Out St. Louis Team—Leifield and Lavender Pitch Well in the Pinches—Cincinnati Defeats Dodgers in Fine Ten-Inning Game.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

ST LOUIS, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Chicago won the fifth game of the series today from St. Louis, giving them four victories, score 5 to 0.

Harry Salee, who relieved Gene Dale in the second, pitched good ball, but his clever work was wasted. His team-mates batted the leather all around the lot, collecting ten hits off Leifield and Lavender, but they were unable to bunch them at opportune times.

Chicago scored one in the fifth on a walk and single, while two more were pushed over in the third on a pair of singles, two errors and a sacrifice fly.

Chicago, all told, was credited with only four hits. Score:

EAGLE WINS ANOTHER.

these made enough runs to win the game with.

A pass, sacrifice and two singles got the Oaks two in the first and two doubles, a sacrifice and a fielder's choice made two more in the second. Hetling's single and two steals and Brooks' wild throw to third base got the final one in the third. Tozer made the Oaks look like 20 cents after that, but his goodness was shown too late, for the Oaks were too far in the lead.

The locals thought Killilay was easy because he had been turned back by the Bostons, but he showed them differently before the game was over. In the fourth after getting Moore out Metzger hit for a single, went to second on Lober's out, to third on a wild pitch and scored when Brooks beat out an infield single. Two singles and a steal made the second run in the fifth and a double, single and an out made the final one in the eighth.

This game was featured by several fancy plays that made 'em all sit up and take notice. The best thing was Moore's left-handed stab of Patterson's hot grounder past first base in the ninth that shut off a run for Sharpe would have scored easily had not Moore made the out.

Coy's running catch of Howard's foul to the bleacher fence in the fourth was a pipper, as was Hetling's grab of Howard's foul at the left bleacher fence in the seventh. Patterson and Eacher also distinguished themselves by fine running catches. Two fast double plays by the Angels enlivened things, but the score was too one-sided to make the game interesting.

Each team won so who cared, for they split even on the series of eight games.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, July 7.—Sacramento could not solve Higginbotham for more than two hits today, one of these being of the questionable fluke variety.

Only three of the locals got on the bags and two of these were out trying to steal second, only twenty-eight men facing Higginbotham during the game.

Gaddy was relieved by Baum in the fourth and both were hit freely. Rapps doubled in the first and scored ahead of Butcher on the latter's home run. Portland won five of the seven games in the series. Score:

TALES of the TURKISH TROPHIES

TALE 3 - THE KING'S JESTER

"NOW for a right hearty laugh," chortled the Kink, as the Royal Jester came tripping across the Bokharah.

"I have discovered a new answer to a famous riddle," gleefully said the Court Jester. "'Why does a chicken cross the street?' is the riddle, and the answer is: 'To get a box of Turkish Trophies.'"

"And to think," said the Kink, sadly, "that he gets his eats for putting over that kind of comedy."

"However, he reminded me of a good smoke, and for that he lives one more day."

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—[Special Dispatch.] What a slam bang, hammer and tongs, rough house affair that morning game was. They were fighting and scrapping every inch of the way and it looked for a while as though the time limit would get the decision at the end of the ninth round. But this stage never was reached because the Seals broke it up in the ninth with only one man out of the way.

There were many and varied mixups on both sides, but as a general rule, the play was fast and spirited. When one team would make a run, the other would come right back and tie it up. The result was a pair of deadlocks. They each had many chances to put the deciding tally over, but the Seals displayed the better fighting spirit and this is the reason why they won.

M'CORRY GAME.

Little Bill McCorry was the bear of the game. He just stood up on that mound and dealt the villagers the best he had in his make-up. Sometimes they did rap his offerings hard, and again he would hold them under the influence of his magic benders. But he was game to the finish and he was a regular Bat Nelson for taking the gaff. They could not come at him too fast nor too strong.

Castleton was getting many a bump through the seven and two-thirds innings he lasted. It did not look as though he would get by with even half of the game, though he rallied at times and his fielders generally supported him well. But the Seals finally took his whole card in the eighth frame and he was chased after the score had been tied up for the second time.

The eighth was the regular inning, it netted three for the Tigers and things looked tough for the Seals but the gameness was still with them. They started to hammer Castleton and with all their might and by dint of plenty hustling, they made it even with the enemy.

Agnew was the first Tiger to step up in the eighth and he singled to center, only to be forced at second by Castleton. Corhan booted Carlisle's grounder. Then Kane hit to McCorry, who whipped Castleton out at third. Along came Bayless with a two-cushion clout to deep center and both the speed merchants tore home. Brashear next came to the rescue with another drive and the Tigers had three tallies, which looked good enough for victory and at least one to spare.

"BRACK" GOES IN.

But the old Seals put their big main event on in their half of the same spasm. Berry got a pass, McCorry flied to Carlisle and Mundorff was there with a hit to the right garden. After soaking Mohler in the ribs and filling up the sacks, Castleton was roasted and Brackenridge, the iron man of the club, went in.

McArdle was the first Seal to face the new comer and he welcomed him with a bingler to right which chased Berry across. Brackenridge was not yet quite warmed up, so he heaved a wild pitch which registered Mundorff. Hartley slammed a fast one down to Litschi who fielded Mohler out of the plate.

Then the big fellow showed a flash of speed and stole second. Corhan waited till Brackenridge issued him a pass. Wuffli polished it off with a single to center on which McArdle registered the tally which made it a tie. This spelled the finish for Brackenridge, for Hogan slipped the job to Stewart. Harry showed his appreciation by striking Gedeon out, but the damage had already been done, and there was more of it in store for the little pitcher.

McCorry was right in his element in the ninth and he made the home rooters howl and cheer by striking out Litschi, Burrell and Agnew in a row.

After Berry had been disposed of, the game little Seal slabster drove the ball down the first-base line for a sweet two-sacker. Mundorff took a punch amidships, which seemed to unsettle Stewart. He was very careful to put the ball right over the pan to Kid Mohler and the kid was just as careful to land on it for a single to center. McCorry, who was right on his toes, rounded third and then dashed safely home with the local big one.

AFTERNOON GAME.

In the afternoon the eighth spasm was the fatal one, the one that made many a Seal rooter wish himself in the woods. When it opened up, the score was 5 to 4 in favor of the southern sluggers with the Seals going every minute of the time and in a position to pull a rally which might make a switch in the tide of the victory at any moment.

Reidy had taken Baker out in the seventh in order to allow Schmidt to bat for him. This necessitated a change of pitchers in the next spasm. Flame Delhi started by grooving the ball right over the old oyster. He got rid of Stinson and Litschi all right, but he insisted on grooving the ball.

GROOVING DISASTROUS.

Burrell took quite a fancy to the first groover and he planted it to center for a double. The next one looked nice and fat to Agnew, who drove the ball to right for another of the same brand. In came Burrell. Delhi was still in the grooving mood and he passed the pill right up to Harry Stewart. The little pitcher forced a change in the monotony, so he picked out the third base line as the best place for his little offering.

Like the others it was good for two, Agnew trotted in. Next came Carlisle with a hot one down to Mohler. The ball got away from the Kid and Stewart came tearing for the plate, landing just in time to beat the throw. Then everybody knew that it was good-bye and good-night for the Seals.

Carlisle, who was the real bear of the afternoon with the stick, managed to work himself around to third on a single and an out in the third. The scores:

"Hat Trick."

FRESNO LOSES RETURN MATCH.

HIGGINS WHACKS OUT THIRD CENTURY OF SEASON.

Dudley and Bamford Each Carry Out Their Bats for Faultless Innings—Cochrane Made Second Highest Score for Fresno—San Diego May Be Next Victim.

BY MARSHALL D. TAYLOR.

In the return match at Vineyard yesterday afternoon between Fresno and Los Angeles, the Raisin City team was beaten by four wickets and 17 runs.

P. J. Higgins, by scoring another century, performed the batting "hat trick" by making three centuries consecutively. Had Dudley accepted a catch from Higgins off his own bowling, when Pat had only made 13 runs, Fresno undoubtedly would have won the match.

The Raisin City team was shy one of its best trundlers, as C. S. Hardwicke had to leave Los Angeles for the North yesterday and could not participate in the match.

Dudley played very well and got Higgins and in fact, all the local bowlers to the boundary several times. Dudley carried out his bat for a faultless 40 runs.

Cook, one of the finest exponents of the game in Southern California, was unfortunate in being run out. If Bamford had not kept his wicket up, the visiting team would have made a very close match of it. San Diego will play Los Angeles at Vineyard on July 21.

FOUR JOCKEYS IN BAD SPILL; ONE MAY DIE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) July 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A cable from Fairbanks, Alaska, says that Blair Murr..., jockey, was so seriously injured that he may not recover and Dave Fenton, John Burns and Frank Alba, three other riders, were badly hurt in a spill occuring there Friday during a horse race that was part of the Fourth of July sports.

The race was ridden on Front street. This is so narrow that when the horses were bunched and attempted to make a slight turn, they were thrown together. One went down throwing all the others. Murray fell on his back. One of the horses stepped in his face. His jaw was broken in three places and he received internal injuries. Fenton struck heavily when thrown. He was knocked unconscious but soon recovered. He is suffering from internal injuries. Burns was thrown hard and his hip broken. Alba was badly jolted and received ugly cuts.

TIGERS AND ANGELS TO MEET THIS WEEK.

The Angels and the Vernon Tigers are to meet this week for a seven-game series that promises to be one of the most exciting of the season. The first game is to be played tomorrow afternoon at Washington Park.

Vernon still leads the league, while the Angels are in third place and the chances are that the games this week may make a very material difference in the standing of the two teams. If the Angels can beat the Tigers their "rep" will be made and this will be the week in which the trick must be turned, for the Tigers are weak now apparently through the many accidents to their men. Patterson, Hosp, Brown and McDonnell are now on the hospital list and some of the others are only playing on their nerve.

The fans are looking forward to the series this week with a great deal of interest and it goes without saying that every game will be bitterly fought for much depends on the results of the series.

Van's Column.

RIVERS' TRAINERS TOO CAREFUL OF FEELINGS.

Van Court Discusses the Condition of the Mexican and the Champion Belt that McCarey Has Held Up—Fire Protection at Vernon—Packy McFarland's Philosophy of Life.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

PACKY M'FARLAND writes very interestingly of how he became a great boxer. Packy also gives some timely advice to young fellows that are trying to break into the fighting game.

First of all he says, not to drink, smoke or keep company with bad companions; lead a clean life. These things nobody can deny. Packy also says boxing is different from fighting. He believes that as long as it is possible to win on points that it is better to do so than by a knockout.

Many young fellows get started wrong, says he.

Most of the young fellows that get into the game nowadays get started wrong for the simple reason that they pay little attention to the science of boxing. I agree fully with McFarland in these things. Many start without the slightest knowledge of boxing and begin to slug, never try to improve in their style or form and never get any further along. Packy is what might be called a boxing fighter. Fighters are supposed to depend on their stamina and hitting powers. Packy has both. He gets his stamina from his wonderful science in knowing how to hit, defend himself and box in such an easy manner that he wastes little of his strength. These things are a science in themselves. His upright easy position gives him a better balance of his body and easier to move around. The cleverest men that ever boxed did so after that style. He has adopted theirs.

One of the best examples we ever had of the two different styles of boxing that McFarland speaks of, we got down at Las Vegas last Thursday when Jim Flynn and Jack Johnson hooked up. Jack did as he pleased with Jim until he blew up and if he had been in the condition he should have been Johnson would have been the man to stop the fight and not the police.

If the boxing rules had been followed as they were intended, which is to develop clever and scientific men, such as Packy is, we would have little of the trouble that we had Thursday afternoon at Vernon. Such interpretation of the boxing rules as we had by Jack Welsh will never help to improve the cleverness of the boxers. It has been almost as bad for a long time past and as McFarland says, the Boxing Commission of New York has made rulings that have made a great improvement in the science within the past few months. We have made a persistent argument along these lines for years and after such affairs that we had Thursday, while bad at the time for the game, will surely be productive of good results. Both of these contests have started a very decided prejudice against holding and hitting.

Joe Rivers showed up in great condition in his fight with Wolgast. But he showed plainly lack of training his skin, or hardening it for a fight. Rivers is much like a spoiled child with his trainers. They all seem to be afraid of hurting his feelings and afraid to insist on his doing things that he should. Rivers has at all times been an easy boy to train and ever willing to work when it was impressed upon him that it was the best for himself. But his skin was altogether too soft for a fight.

He also needs much more of the roughing it in his training to harden and more especially to toughen his muscles. Rivers landed many blows on Wolgast's face and they hardly showed a mark. Hardening and toughening the skin is of as much importance as anything else in training a fighter.

Wolgast is much peeved that Tom McCarey refused to give him his famous lightweight championship belt. McCarey said before the fight that the belt would go to the winner. But said after the fight that he did not think that Ad had won it. This is the first time that any one knew that Tom was the referee. All bets went with the decision of the referee, and right or wrong the belt should go the same way. That belt would be as safe in Ad Wolgast's hands as any one else as far as the security from theft or the value of it was concerned. If Wolgast should lose it through a decision or a knockout it is pretty safe to say that he would be the first one to hand it to the man who beat him. The fact that he was given the fight entitles him to that belt.

Many people at the ringside at Vernon during the Rivers-Wolgast fight were nervous over the fact that the fire protection was not what it should have been. There were fire extinguishers around the arena, but few people knew it. A more satisfactory way to set everybody at rest about the safety of the place would be to string a hose, or several of them, around the inside and outside of the arena, attached to the fire plugs ready to turn on at an instant's notice.

Imagine a fire in that tinder box with that crowd.

WOLVERTON IS MAKING WHOLESALE CHANGES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 7.—The New York American League club has released Second Baseman Earl Gardner to the Cleveland club of the same league. Gardner has been with New York since 1908.

Gardner's departure, following the release of Vaughn and the indefinite suspension of Caldwell, is said to be only the beginning of a general shake-up by Manager Wolverton and President Farrell.

A number of other players are expected to go in the near future.

LOCAL RIFLEMEN SHINE IN INTERCITY SHOOT.

THERE was small need for the word from the Spokane Rifle and Revolver Club in their match with the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club Sunday. The local clubmen proceeded to make a big celebration when the last shot was fired, without worry lest the word from the North give them reason to regret their haste.

But once has the local club piled up a higher score with the rifle over the ranges shot yesterday, and then the total ran but six points higher. The results:

FROM THE MASON TO THE MAJESTIC

By JULIAN JOHNSON

Harry Mestayer is promoting a special matinee of Ibsen's "Doll's House," which, if carried through, will be simply gigantic.

The date is next Friday; the place, the Hamburger Majestic Theater.

The cast: Nora, Laurette Taylor; Helmer, Lewis S. Stone; Dr. Rank, John Barrymore; Mrs. Lyndon, Muriel Starr; Nils Krogstad, Harry Mestayer.

They've all consented except Laurette Taylor.

And Miss Taylor said, last night: "I'd like to do the part, I'm sure, but how am I to get it in my head on such short notice? Here I am playing "Peg" as hard as I can, ten performances a week, and we will say five days, including all regular performances, in which to learn one of the greatest roles of modern times, a part of at least 150 pages.

"If they will only wait a little while, perhaps until I come back from San Francisco, I shall be only too glad to lend such talents as I have to 'A Doll's House.'"

And the matter is, according to legal phraseology, in statu quo.

Speaking of "Peg," I am reminded of an incident at the Burbank the other evening in which a very courtly old gentleman of my acquaintance figured.

This man, nearing his seventies, has the politeness of a cavalier. In fact, I have never met a man of more elegant instincts. But as I started to say, he went to see "Peg," and saw not a bit of her, for in the box seat directly in front of him sat an alleged lady with a lid like a spreading palm tree.

After suffering for an act and a half, he leaned forward and whispered: "May I ask you, madam, to remove your hat? I find it impossible to see the stage at all."

She was one of those fussy flusters, and, enraged, turned around and whispered loudly: "Next time you buy a ticket to the theater, buy a book on etiquette, if you please."

"Indeed, I shall be pleased to get it for you, madam," he returned instantly, with a smile and a bow.

J. Hartley Manners and Miss Taylor dined at the Van Nuys last evening. As they arose to leave, the orchestra began, as ominous exit music, the wedding march from "Lohengrin."

Any particular and personal significance?

Somebody agreed to take Max Dill to Glendale yesterday afternoon to see the cry-out of the Wolgast-Rivers fight pictures, made an appointment, set a place of meeting—and then forgot to call for him.

I left the short member of the team at Second and Spring cooling his heels but not his temper after a wait of more than an hour.

Joseph Montrose has purchased for his wife, Grace Travers-Montrose, a beautiful home in Westchester place.

Oliver Morosco received a wire from J. J. Shubert yesterday offering him the Princess Theater, Chicago, for "Peg o' My Heart," opening Labor Day, and the American Music Hall, Chicago, for the same time. As Morosco has already contracted Chicago Garrick—also for Labor Day—his invasion, were he to take advantage of all these offers, would be large enough to scare the natives.

However, "The Bird of Paradise" will be Morosco's only premier on that September Monday in the Lake City.

He has decided that "Peg" shall be seen only in New York, while Kolb and Dill will be held for a later Chicago date.

Who said we would have no "dollar shows" in Los Angeles next year.

Morosco has already made these bookings, under that classification: The Rainey pictures, "Beverly of Graustark," "The Great Raymond," "The Common Law," "Hogan's Millions," "In Old Kentucky," "The White Slave," "The Rosary," "Madame Sherry," "The Girl in the Taxi," "The Confession," "Mutt and Jeff," "The Prince of Tonight," "The Fortune Hunter," Billy Clifford and George W. Sydney.

The theater?

Ah, that's a question unanswered.

Anvil note: Who's wielding the sledge that keeps Texas Guinan's name off the Lyceum billing? After they began to feature the rank and file—in addition to May Boley, the acknowledged comedy star of the company—two or three other names have appeared on the dead walls—all, in fact, except that of the company's prima donna and official beauty, who, it must be admitted, is a pretty fair element of attractiveness to the Lyceum shows.

What's the reason? Who hates himself?

Gerald Bacon, Sanger & Jordan's play-reader and personal representative, is paying Los Angeles a short visit.

He denominates "Peg o' My Heart," the finest stock production he has ever seen.

"Peg" will not be seen in San Francisco, despite a piteous entreaty from the Alcazar management.

After it is closed in Los Angeles the scenery will not be set again except upon a New York stage.

San Francisco, will, however, have the premier of "Barbaraaa," which it is definitely decided, shall not be produced here.

Voice from history: Sedley Brown's baseball play is still alive, hope reigns, and Dick Ferris still lives. Brown hopes for an August production.

Not even William J. Burns could find Clarence Drown, who has gone on his vacation. When Drown vacates he vacates everything. He goes into the wild, and not even the sweeping of the whole Orpheum circuit from the face of the earth would bring him out of his monastic seclusion until his vacation period is over.

BIG DAY FOR AMERICANS.

the necessary 183 centimeters did so easily. George L. Horine and James Thorpe did it without extending themselves, their work carrying a promise of more records going when the finals are completed. The other Americans to qualify were J. C. Johnstone and Eagon R. Reickson, of the Mott Haven Athletic Club; Harry J. Grumpelt, New York Athletic Club, and Alamn W. Richards of Brigham Young University.

Harold B. Enright, Boston Athletic Club, and J. W. Burdick, an unattached member, fell short three centimeters and W. E. Oler, Jr., also unattached, stopped at 175 centimeters. The others who qualified were T. Carroll and P. H. Baker of England; Lischa of Finland, and Baron Ivan Wardner of Hungary.

Altogether, fifteen of the contestants failed to qualify. The Americans were more and more confident as the bar was raised and the men continued to clear it easily and gracefully. When the six Americans, one after the other, remained in the qualifying competition, the cheers of the stands grew in volume.

THE LONG GRIND.

The sensational event of the morning was a splendid race between Louis Tewanima, an Indian, and L. Richardson of South Africa, in the second heat of the 10,000-meter flat race in which eleven runners started. Until the last mile, the order was A. Stenroos of Finland, Louis Tewanina and H. Karlsson of Sweden, the little Indian hanging on closely to the Finn's heels, with the Swede a yard behind.

Near the beginning of the last mile Stenroos dropped back and Richardson pushed forward and took his place. On the final circuit Richardson sprinted and though Tewanina once came to the front gamely, Richardson won by a yard.

Both will compete in the final. The Indian walked freshly across the field afterward, but his opponent had to be helped.

ONLY SEVEN FINISHED.

The first heat of the 10,000 meters flat was comparatively unexciting, H. Kolehmainen, the Finn, winning. Keeper made a fight for second place, racing with William J. Kramer in the first half of the race. Kramer gave up in the eighteenth round with eight laps to be covered. The other American runner, Harry F. Hellowell, New York A. C., ran only four laps, a sore foot compelling him to quit. The failure of the Americans was a disappointment. Of twelve runners who started, only six finished.

The third heat of the 10,000 meters race furnished a pretty victory for T. Kolehmainen, the little Finn, who overan England's famous ten-miler, W. Scott. For the United States, Louis Scott, South Paterson Y.M.C.A., and U. F. McGuire, North Attleboro, Mass., unattached, ran a bad third and fifth, respectively. M. Persson of Sweden was fourth. George V. Bonhag, I.A.A.C., failed to start. The Englishman, G. C. Wallanh, stopped early. After the sixteenth lap Kolehmainen and W. Scott raced together until the last mile, when the Finn took the lead. W. Scott drew up in the final lap, but the Finn crossed the tape ten yards ahead. Of seven starters, five finished.

STILL AT IT.

The Americans also surprised themselves in the semi-finals of the 800-meter flat race. That six runners of the eight will toe the mark in the final struggle was more than they had hoped. The first four in each semi-final heat will contest in the final.

The Americans who won this honor are: J. E. Meredith, Mercerburg Academy; Melvin W. Sheppard, I.A.A.C.; Herbert N. Putnam, Cornell University; C. S. Edmundson, Seattle A.A.; D. S. Caldwell, University of Chicago.

Meredith made the running throughout the first heat, winning with Hans Braun of German second, Sheppard third and Putnam fourth. J. L. Tait of Ontario ran second for 500 meters, but lost in the home stretch and finished fifth. Eight started in the heat, three Britishers finishing at the rear.

Eight also started in the second heat, which was won by G. M. Brook of Ontario, with Edmundson, Caldwell and Davenport finishing in the order named. Davenport, H. W. Holden, Bates College, and E. Bjorn, Sweden, each took the lead for a time. This was a splendid race. The two Latins, E. Lunghi, Italy, and Z. Cortesao, Portugal, sprinted in the first half. The Portuguese soon fell into the rear. The Italian also failed in the last stretch. E. J. Henley, England, completed the squad.

THE PENTATHLON.

The pentathlon was won by James Thorpe, Carlisle Indian School, six points; second, F. R. Bie, Norway, 15 points; Avery Brundage, Chicago A.A., and Frank Lukeman, Quebec, tied with 24 points, Brundage being placed third; James J. Donohue, Los Angeles A. C., 26 points; J. A. Menaul, University of Chicago, 28 points.

Thorpe's record in the order of the events was as follows:

Running broad jump, 7 meters, 7 centimeters; throwing the javelin, 52 meters; 200 meters flat, 23 seconds; throwing the discus, 28 meters, 57 centimeters; 1500 meters flat, 4 minutes 44 seconds.

Eighteen competitors participated in the pentathlon, including four Americans. All of the Americans remained to the last contest, competing in all. When the discus throwing was reached, only twelve men remained, the Americans and five Swedes—Wieslander, Fjastad, Holmer, Lindholm and Lemming—and Lukeman, Canada. Kuhkola and Bie, Norway. The discus eliminated all except the Americans and Bie, Lukeman and Wieslander, who contested in the 1500 meters.

The records of the other contestants were:

Running broad jump—Bie, 6.85 meters; Brundage, 6.53; Lukeman, 6.45; Donoghue, 6.43; Menaul, 6.40.

so carefully—missed a short putt for four and halved the hole for five. At the twelfth Wade got into all sorts of trouble and the hole went to Woodcock by concession, making him once more two up. They halved the thirteenth for four, and at the fourteenth they both had poor drives, which landed them in the wash, subsequently halving for five. The fifteenth saw them level with a long putt apiece—Wade holed his, Woodcock didn't. It went to Wade for three, a par four, and reduced Woodcock's lead to one up.

There was excellent play on both sides at the sixteenth and seventeenth, both of which holes were halved in par figures. Then at the eighteenth Wade sliced his drive, while Woodcock made a particularly good one—he called it a peach himself—nearly on to the green. But fate was playing with him again. Like the hare in that famous race, he seemed to decide he could afford to rest and instead of trying for a long putt for three he deliberately tinkered and took five. In the meantime Wade played steadily on, made a fine approach and won the hole for four, leaving them all square at the end of the first round.

THE SECOND ROUND.

The afternoon was chiefly remarkable for the several good recoveries Woodcock made from bad lies, and for Wade's achievements at holes he has never done in par figures until this match. Woodcock made one of these fine recoveries from the first and although Wade won the hole his play came in for much gallery appreciation.

Wade took the second for four, Woodcock missing a short putt, and the third likewise went to the champion for three, making him three up. The fourth went to Woodcock for four to five, and at the fifth Wade holed another long putt, winning the hole and making him three up again.

The sixth saw some of Woodcock's best play. A good drive penalized by a tree, a clever recovery shot and the hole won for five, a par six. Both got poor tee shots from the seventh, halving the hole for three. At the eighth Woodcock's drive went wrong, but again he made a clever recovery and won the hole, leaving him only one down.

Then at the ninth Wade surpassed himself, doing it in par figures, which he has never previously accomplished. This is the long hole with a round-the-corner iron shot and after a poor second shot, he drove 240 yards with an iron and lay dead for the hole, putting out neatly. At the tenth he holed a long down-hill putt and won the hole for three, making him two up.

Woodcock had another fine drive from the eleventh, against a poor one of Wade's, yet once again the hole was halved for five. The twelfth, the long hole, had to be conceded to Woodcock, Wade picking up his ball.

The thirteenth saw good play from both men, long drives, good seconds and Woodcock's ball dead for the hole. But Wade holed out from off the green, taking a par four for three. This was one of the best-played holes of the match and gave him a lead of two up, which he maintained. They halved the fourteenth, fifteenth and sixteenth. Then at the seventeenth Wade played a safe drive against Woodcock's spectacular one, the latter paying the penalty by getting into the road repairs beyond hope of recovery, leaving Wade the winner by three up and one to go.

If ever the advantages of steadiness were exemplified, it was in this match where its consistency overcame brilliance all along the line. The new champion wins a very handsome cup and a silver memento, while the runner-up is rewarded with a silver carving set.

The Other Flights.

A. T. Jergens and Percy Bronson had a splendidly close match in the defeated eights, Bronson winning at the twentieth hole. There was never more than two up on either side at any stage of the game. Bronson will now meet Alkire.

A. C. Perley defeated W. Pierce by three and two in the third flight.

The Bridge Rendesvous.

The club tea party on Saturday afternoon, organized for the lady bridge players was particularly well attended, Mrs. Orr entertaining quite a large party to lunch before hand. Other hostesses of the occasion were Mrs. F. O. Wood, Mrs. Stanley Wood, Mrs. Ross Hickox, Mrs. Stanley Wood, Mrs. S. B. Bootes and the Misses Constance and Marion Clark.

"THE MAN WHO MILO AN ANCIENT WORLD'S CRAVING FOR BEAUTY.

Dr. Phelps' sermon, "The Man Who Made Milo," the second of a series of eight sermons on "Men Who Popular Statuary," was delivered by Dr. Arthur Central Baptist church, last night. Taking as his text: "Let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us," he said in part:

"God has made beauty attractive to us, by making it rare, and by planting in us a craving for its ideal expression. Seventy-six times beauty and its derivatives are found in the Bible. The craving for beauty seeks to express itself, and in that expression satisfies that craving in others. It is this craving for the expression of the ideal that has led God to evolve the universe, and the great composers of music, art and literature to portray their art. The ornaments in the bare homes of the poor are a reaching after the expression of the beautiful.

"This craving gave us 'The Venus of Milo.' This most popular and best-known female figure in statuary in the world stands at the end of 'The Hall of Venus' in the Louvre. Discovered underground on the little island of Melos in 1820 by a peasant and bought by the French Ambassador at Constantinople for $1200, it now belongs to the world. Wrought two centuries before Christ, its concealment is one of the tragedies of the unrevealed. How poor the world was for these two millenniums! It is probably a copy from the fourth century B. C., the day of Greece's highest art under Praxiteles and Scopas, yet essentially different from the work of those masters. How high the general level must have been, when we learn that this wonderful figure was by the chisel of an unknown hand! Copies and casts fall to do justice to the feminine glory of the face.

"The glory of beauty is in the hidden ideal. That ideal may differ widely in different men. Contrast the 'Mona Lisa,' recently recovered, by the brush of Leonardo da Vinci, the greatest woman's face ever on canvas, whose message is in its individuality, its character, the momentary expression of its mysterious smile. The Greek ideal, on the other hand, was perfection of feature and form—let it tell its own message to the beholder. The ideal makes the life.

"So differ the messages of your lives from one another. As differ the messages of Schubert's 'Serenade,' the plaintive musical echoes of love's song from heart to heart, deep answering to deep—from the degrading coarseness of cheap ragtime. Beauty is an external thing, unless the ideal dominates it. Conversion is a change of ideals. 'No man can be his own God,' and nobody but a fool would be content to live no higher than his own previous record. Jesus Christ gives beauty for ashes. The true glory of a life is the beauty of its Lord. True beauty is reflected beauty."

Next Sunday Dr. Phelps speaks on "The Lion of Lucerne."

TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH.
THE CHRISTIAN SHOULD BE MARKED WITH CHARACTERISTICS THAT MANIFEST CHRIST'S SPIRIT.

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher preached to a large congregation in Temple Baptist Auditorium Sunday morning the first in his summer series of short sermons on strange subjects. His special topic was "A Marked Man." During July and August special features will be introduced into the services, not only to make them extra attractive, but in order to meet vacation conditions.

The music yesterday was furnished by the quartette, as the choir is on its vacation of two weeks. The ushering was done by fifty young women dressed in white, and the regular young men ushers are having their vacations for two Sundays. Dr. Brougher wore his "ice-cream" suit.

In speaking on the subject, "A Marked Man," Dr. Brougher took his text from Galatians 6:17: "Henceforth let no man trouble me, for I bear branded on my body the marks of Jesus."

Among other things he said:

"Many a man can show you the marks of sin that have been left on his body, but how many Christians are there that can show distinct and definite characteristics that mark him as a Christian.

"Not many people today have to suffer for acknowledging Christ as their Savior, but Paul tells us that he received 'forty stripes save one' on five different occasions from the Jews because he confessed his faith in Jesus Christ. Thrice he was beaten with rods, once he was stoned and left for dead, and in many other ways he had suffered physically, as well as mentally for the faith he held. Paul was a student of history and knew the philosophies of his day, yet he said there was 'no other name under heaven given whereby man might be saved.'

"Paul's marks bore testimony to his absolute obedience to Christ and his Master's will. A sailor had many of the events of the life of Paul tatooed on his body, but the marks on the body of Christ reached to the very center of his being. He had surrendered all, absolutely all to the service of Jesus Christ. He recognized no higher authority. Like an old soldier who points with pardonable pride to his wounds received in the service of his country, so Paul could point to the wounds upon his body as expressive of his love and loyalty in the service of Jesus Christ.

"Has the Christian today any marks by which he would be distinguished as a Christian? He ought to have distinctively the characteristics that manifest the Christ spirit. He ought to have that self-mastery that puts away 'all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor with all malice.' He ought to be tender-hearted, kind, gentle, forgiving and faithful. The Christian that can show the world a different spirit than that of selfishness and resentment and spite will soon be a marked man and be known as a Christian."

REV. W. LEON TUCKER.
CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH.
THE FALL OF THE ANGELS AND THE TRIUMPH OF CHRIST A LESSON TO MANKIND.

At Calvary Baptist Church, the pastor, W. Leon Tucker spoke yesterday evening on "The Fall of Angels," giving the fourth of his series from the Book of Jude. He said in part:

"This is a subject about which there is much mystery. The fall of Adam was preceded by the fall of Angels. This is a matter of divine revelation and when the book of Jude says, 'Angels which kept not their first estate,' there is suggested a subject of great interest. It is a subject with its attractions and also its dangers, for this cause we keep close to what the Scriptures have to say. The Scriptures declare the angels left their first estate. Their first estate was perhaps the earth on which Adam's race is now. They were led in a rebellion against God by a prince and chief whose name in the Scriptures is called Satan, which means adversary in relation to God and Devil which means culminator or accuser in his relation to man. The power which Holy Scriptures attribute to this being in his fallen state, is a testimony to the greatness of his position, and the excellence of his faculties before his rebellion. Besides this there is one fact which the Scriptures reveal that he dared measure himself in a single combat with the Son of God.

"This is where he met his defeat, for the Son of God was his creator. When man was created and placed in lordship over the creation he was a successor and rival to Satan. From this point of view we understand the eagerness with which Satan has from the first labored to draw men away from submission, and into complicity with his rebellion. What could be more attractive to a rebel than the hope of causing the army sent to overcome him to turn, and to make himself its leader against that very power who had raised it against him?

"After Christ has consummated His expiatory and redeeming work, He is at last crowned and enthroned as the new sovereign of the earth. It is a change of dynasty; the world passes into the hands of another master. Satan is deposed, and his rights of sovereignty are transferred to Jesus Christ, who in His turn transfers them to mankind, His family, in whose name, and as the representative of whom, He has fought, obeyed, conquered."

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE.
THE DECLINE IN DELICACY IS ONE OF THE GRAVE SYMPTOMS OF MODERN SOCIETY.

"Young Men and Their Relation to the Opposite Sex," was the subject of Rev. C. E. Cornell's sermon at the First Church of the Nazarene yesterday. He said in part:

"This is a topic of more or less delicacy, but of the utmost importance. It raises a very pertinent question, namely: 'Is that finer, loftier respect for young women, on the part of young men, a thing of the past?' There was a time when womankind was held in the most profound respect by most men. The little courtesies that men were and are capable of were shown her. But such courtesies, such respect for the delicacy and refinement of womanhood seems to have departed from the breast of most men, young men, especially.

"It is now a common sight to see a dude of a young man marching by the side of a lovely young woman, smoking a cigarette in her face. In fact, in many restaurants, men sit and smoke between bites, and blow the smoke of a foul cigar in the faces of the women who sit on the other side of the table. Women crowd the front end of a car because of lack of room, but what smoker ever thinks to refrain from his smoking because of their presence?

"There used to be a time when hats were removed in an elevator out of respect for ladies, but who thinks of doing it now? There was a time when gentlemen would give their seat to a lady in a street car, but who is there that does it now?

"But what about the purity of girlhood? Is it not a fact as transparent as day, that but few young men comparatively, hold the priceless gem of purity for the opposite sex in the ascendency? Why this low standard? The awful statistics of recent years from the universities, colleges and high schools is appalling. Young men seem to be bent upon the destroying of virtue; the respect for girlhood is gone, and a low, beastly lasciviousness goads young men to deeds as black as hell itself.

"Cigarette smoking, beer drinking, profanity, dissipation and Sabbath desecration is producing a very low standard of character. Thousands of young men are caught in the whirlpool of sinfulness, so, that the moral sense is stunted and very often completely paralyzed, hence so vitiated by evil that there is no respect for the opposite sex. Let a young man dare to stand for purity and decency, and he is usually dubbed a 'prude' or tied to his mother's apron strings. It requires no little moral courage to maintain a high moral character. But it is possible, and only possible through a surrender to Jesus Christ. When He comes into the life, there is a new creation, old things pass away and behold all things become new.

"Young men have a high regard for young women. Avoid the destruction of virtue as you would avoid a viper. Keep your hands off them, do not fool with fire, you will get burned. Hold your young lady friends in the same esteem as you do your mother or sister. Keep thyself pure, and spurn impurity as you would a cesspool of filth. Practice the courtesies due a delicate, refined young lady, and show you have breeding better than a hog.

"I might add that if the ordinary young woman will demand a higher standard of young manhood, we will have a better grade."

REV. THOMAS FRENCH, JR.
NEW JERUSALEM CHURCH.
THE DIVINE CREATIVE ENERGY OF GOD IS THE SUN OF THE SPIRITUAL WORLD TODAY.

At the Swedenborgian Church yesterday the pastor, Rev. Thomas French, Jr., preached on the text: "And I saw an angel standing in the sun, and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven: 'Come and gather yourselves together unto the supper of the great God.'" Rev. xix-17. He said in part:

"The sun of this world is the principal source of natural heat and light and the center of stability for the earth and its sister planets. The sun of the spiritual world is the effulgent creative energy of God, the source of divine heat and light to all the inhabitants of the inner world. John was in the spirit on the Lord's day and he describes what he saw in the spiritual world with the eyes of his spiritual body. The angel standing in the sun is the risen and glorified Lord, the light of whose face is elsewhere likened to the sun shining in its strength. The Lord Jehovah frequently appeared to Moses and the prophets in the form of an angel—who is called the angel of the Lord, and the angel of His presence. The word 'angel' means messenger, or one who is sent with a message. The divine messenger and message are one and inseparable. The Lord, standing in the sun, proclaims in a loud voice the message of divine love, and conveys an invitation to all who are worthy to come and gather themselves together to a feast of fat things, to the supper of the great God.

"Oh, that men might rise to the level of this call and gather themselves together about the Lord's table on the top of the mountain. To do this they must mount up with wings as eagles; they must become as the birds that fly in the midst of heaven.

"In this wonderful age men are literally becoming birdmen—they are mounting with wings to dizzy heights and performing all sorts of wondrous evolutions in the air. The spiritual birdmen to whom the angel calls are those who mount on the wings of spiritual thought and affection to heavenly heights; men whose understandings are illumined with heavenly light, whose hearts are warm with human kindness and whose hands are strong to labor in all the ways of brotherly helpfulness.

The marriage of the lamb is come. Blessed is the wife who hath made herself ready. Blessed are they who are called by the angel in the sun to the marriage supper."

REV. W. E. TILROE.
BOYLE HEIGHTS M. E. CHURCH.
THE FATE OF ISCAROT A LESSON OF THE DOOM AWAITING A WILL GONE WRONG.

Every man is captain of his own soul, the architect of his own destiny. Probably no one ever lived of whom an overmastering fate might be declared more plainly than the man of the text, Judas Iscariot. Jesus said he was a devil and son of perdition. The record is that 'Satan entered into him.' Nevertheless the man himself throwing down his silver in the temple cried, "I have sinned," and went and hanged himself.

"A man's will may hold its own against all temporal good. This garden that Judas knew was a synonym of wealth, and art, and comfort, and friendship, and kindly memories. Yet a determined mind made it a scene of treason, infamy and murder. Christendom is the garden of the earth. Yet in the very riches of its glory there are men who would have been at home in Sodom. To pitilessly dig one's own grave is a terrible prerogative.

"A man's will may overbalance any grade of culture. Judas Iscariot had equal training and holy example with John, the beloved and ended with a rope and the potters field. The vision of the new Jerusalem went for $15. Of course the isolation of a disciple of the Nazarene was a very real affair. Poverty and persecution and hopelessness were not trifles. A Messiah who could be betrayed, condemned and crucified, surely could not be other than an imposter. But all this had been foretold and discounted. Three years of spotless life and wondrous deeds had been unrolled. Things angels desire to look into had been his daily air. And he sold it all for a rope and a nameless grave. How horrible that he could.

"Good habits will not hold a man against his will. Judas had been correct for three long years and from all we know for a lifetime. Jesus did not prefer converted scoundrels for his apostles. The persistent refinement of daily life and an inevitable respectability are soil and shower and sunlight for the gospel. But if a man will build his glory into shame he may. Apparently, carrying the bag, the special honor of Iscariot was the track of his decline and fall. His soul grew greedy and his ethics went into eclipse. Then he saw there was a way to hell, even from the gates of heaven.

"Neither will good company hold the man who will not be held. Eleven saints and the Son of God cannot brace the soul determined it will please itself. Even the security of heaven is not the crowd. Judas knows the sacred secret closet of his dearest friends, and he sells it for silver. What a man may do when he will is a vision of the night."

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL.
THE WAY OF PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES MUST BE THE WAY OF NOAH, WHO FEARED GOD.

Dr. William Horace Day preached from Second Peter, 2-5, and Genesis 7-5, at the First Congregational Church yesterday. "Noah, a preacher of righteousness, did all that Jehovah commanded him. Noah did not want to be president. Of course, no man ever wants to be president, if we were to believe all that everybody says. Noah did not want to be president, but like his modern counterparts he believed in election and when the Almighty thrust upon him the presidency of the 'All-Creation Marine Transportation Company,' he accepted the office and made a great success at the job. Noah's career as a leader ought to be studied by everyone who wants to be President in 1912, not only because he was successful but because he was successful in a time of deluge.

"We always associate Noah with the flood. 'God saw the earth, and behold it was corrupt, and he said: Behold, I do bring a flood of waters upon the earth.' The French monarchy had become hopelessly corrupt. Louis XIV and Mme. De Pompadour saw the handwriting on the wall, and declared: 'After us the deluge.' We all need to remember that God is not mocked, and whatsoever we sow as nations or as political parties, we are bound to reap. The problem of the modern leader is not to avert the deluge but to meet the present upheaval with as little loss as possible.

"If a man is fit to be President or to hold any office among us he ought to learn Noah's secret of success. There are two facts in Noah's leadership, recorded in the two verses of the text.

"If we judge the candidates by what they have said themselves, rather than by what others have said about them, they are facing their obligations with very serious minds. It was with no light or flippant heart that Taft received the news of his nomination and said: 'All over this country patriotic people are breathing more freely that a serious menace to our Republican institutions has been averted.'

"Noah was not only a patient and fearless preacher, but he lived up to his own speeches, and that is no child's play, for he did according to all that Jehovah commanded him. All other tests of the fitness of these three men to undertake what may prove to be the most stupendous task ever attempted by an American Executive is this great moral test. Tonight we say to the Presidential candidates: 'We call upon you in the name of the living God, that you follow out the example of Henry Clay, who said: "I would rather be right, than be President," but who lost the Presidency because he was willing to do wrong when it looked like a short cut to the White House.'

"To you and all our national political leaders, yea, and in this hour of municipal transition, with outspoken voice we bring the same message to the honored executive of this city, to the members of the City Council to these responsible boards to whom we have committed such great issues. There is only one way to permanent and honorable leadership, and that is in the pathway of Noah, who trusted and feared God, and who did all that Jehovah commanded him."

PASTOR RUSSELL'S WEEKLY SERMON.

TORONTO (Can.) July 7.—Pastor Russell addressed two audiences here today, one in the Royal Alexandra Theater before several thousand persons. About a thousand of those in attendance at a convention of the International Bible Students' Association, which was in session here during the week and adjourned yesterday, decided to remain and hear both discourses by Pastor Russell today. We report one of his addresses from the text: "So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God." (Luke xii, 21.) He said in part:

Ours is the day of wealth. Nothing to compare with it has ever been known in the world's history, and the wealth is increasing. Not merely have we dicovered rich deposits of gold and silver and precious stones; not merely are these being mined in a provident and successful manner, with which nothing in the past could compare, but additionally the world is growing rich in every conceivable way. Our cities are growing in size and beauty, in sanitary conveniences, in spacious parks, in good, paved streets, and boulevards all the world over.

Furthermore, machinery perfected within the last fifty years is being multiplied and turning out articles of convenience and value which add to the world's comfort and material wealth—not merely in perishable articles, such as clothing and bric-a-brac, but vast libraries, public and private, are being acquired; and many of these luxuries are becoming cheap, because of the facility with which they can be produced. These all, however, constitute riches, one glance at which would amaze our ancestors.

But are we as a race growing rich toward God, as our text intimates would be the proper thing? Is not the very reverse true; namely, that faith and godliness are on the decline? Is it not true that within the last fifty years the love of money, which the apostle declares it "a root of all evil," has intensified? Is it not true that financial greed has become so strong and so persistent as to make necessary our recently passed pure food laws for the protection of the lives of the people—because life and health were in jeopardy?

Is it not true that although we are all better housed, better fed and better clothed than were our forefathers, there is a general unrest, because of the trust in riches? Is it not true that even with all the modern safeguards of police and detective systems, and the telegraph, telephone, etc., still human lives and property are in peril, because of the everywhere prevalent hunger for wealth?

"WHOSE SHALL THESE THINGS BE?"

Our text is a portion of one of our Lord's parables. In it He pictures a man whose lines were fallen in pleasant places. The smiling sun and genial showers prospered his undertakings and his wealth grew. The opportunity came to him for helping his friends and neighbors and relatives less favored—the opportunity for turning his material wealth to a good account in the cultivation of the generous traits of his character, and thus to develop more and more the divine character (for God scatters His blessings, the rain and the sunshine, upon the evil and upon the good.)

But instead of becoming rich through the cultivation of the noble qualities of his character, he allowed selfishness to dominate. He pulled down his barns and built greater. He accumulated instead of dispensing the wealth which divine providence permitted to flow into his lap. Are there not many today who are patterning after the character which the Lord portrayed in this parable?—many who are saying to themselves, "I will accumulate wealth and then say to my soul, You have plenty; eat, drink and be merry?" Think not particularly of your less favored brethren or neighbors, nor of the miserably poor; live for yourself." Does it not appear that the Lord has here drawn a picture of practically every man in the world, some of whom are really doing these things, and others only longing for the opportunity?

HEAR THE LORD'S ESTIMATION.

If the Lord declared that the man in His parable was a fool, what may we suppose is His estimate of the masses of the world today—blessed as men never before were blessed, privileged as men never before were privileged, and therefore responsible as men never before were responsible in the use of money? Alas! We fear that the Lord is not well pleased with the world in its scramble for wealth, witnessed today on every hand. In our text God's people of today have the reminder that the masses have the opportunity of becoming rich toward God because they have the opportunity to cultivate the Christ-like spirit through generosity, helpfulness and brotherly-kindness.

Not to the world, however, does the Lord address His reproof and admonition, but merely to His Church—the consecrated few. The world is about to learn a great lesson along this very line of selfishness. Having sown to the wind the seed of selfishness, it is about to reap a whirlwind of trouble, the fruitage of selfishness, in which the interests of the rich and poor will clash in the great conflict between capital and labor, between those who have secured wealth and those who will strive to take the wealth from them—"a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation."

Are any so blinded as not to see the awful growth of anarchy, which is gradually settling down upon the highest civilization to which the world has ever attained? And are there any so blinded as to be unable to see that the conflict will be along the lines of selfishness—desire on the one part to hold and on the other part to acquire? But God is not appealing to the world, and indeed an appeal would be useless, so intense is the spirit of avarice.

God, therefore, is allowing the world as a whole to learn its great lesson that selfishness is an integral part of sin as love and benevolence are integral parts of righteousness. We cannot doubt that by the time the lesson of selfishness and its results shall have been fully learned by the world it will be ready to cry out for divine assistance.

And by that time, too, God's assistance for the poor world will be ready. The Messianic Kingdom will be inaugurated and a reign of love will be established which will contrast sharply with the present conditions in all its blessed results of peace, joy, love and good-will among men. And we may reasonably assume that there is no better way than this for teaching the world its needed lesson on this subject.

THE LESSON TO THE CHURCH.

God's lessons are for the Church—not for the church nominal, which is merely a more civilized section of the world—but for the church real, for God's saintly people in and out of the various sects and parties, and in every nation, kindred and tongue. These, anxious to know and do the will of God, receive special instruction such as the world is not prepared to receive. To these saintly footstep followers of Jesus, the Lord says, Let not your riches, your treasures be of an earthly kind. Rather, go to the opposite extreme and spend and be spent in the interests of others, in the service of God, in the service of His message of love; and thus, along the lines of the divine promises, seek for a share with the great Redeemer in the sufferings and self-denials of the present life, and in the glory, honor and immortality of the life that is to come.

"Therefore, take no thought for your life what we shall eat, neither for the body what ye shall put on. The life is more than meat, and the body more than raiment."—Your Father knoweth what things ye have need of." Therefore, "seek first (chiefly) the Kingdom" and the righteousness which it demands and all needful things shall be supplied according to your Father's wisdom. "Fear not, little flock, for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the Kingdom. Sell that ye have and give alms, provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens which fadeth not away, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth; for where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."—Luke xii, 33-34.

"CHARGE THEM THAT BE RICH."

We are not for a moment to suppose that the apostle referred to the worldly rich when he wrote to Timothy, "Charge them that are rich in this world that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God who giveth us richly all things to enjoy." (I Timothy vi, 17.) Most evidently the Apostle refers to some of the consecrated people of God as having wealth; they are to consider it a stewardship, and not their own—not to be disposed of according to their own worldly caprices, and surely not to be disposed of according to the dictum of their friends and neighbors and relatives.

If they are the Lord's, all they have must have been consecrated to Him, else they were not accepted as His disciples as He said. The charge which the Apostle directed to be given to the brethren possessing wealth is stated, "that they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute (for the necessities of others,) willing to communicate" (liberally; willing to share with others of the brethren as members of a community, somewhat along the lines of Christian communism.)

The effect of so doing, the Apostle states, would be "laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come. The word foundation here is used in the same sense as when we say that a wealthy man gave a foundation of a million dollars for a college. His present constitutes the foundation or basis for the carrying out of the college plans and arrangements.

Thus a Christian who generously uses in the Lord's service his financial stewardship is laying a foundation for the future—a foundation for his spiritual wealth, and the more of time and influence and wealth any of us can lay up thus in doing good in forwarding the interests of the brethren and the Lord's work, the more are we piling up our treasures in heaven and lessening those on earth. And the advantage of this procedure is that it helps to center our hearts on things above, and to wean them from the things of the earth, for where our treasures are, there will our hearts be also. And thus, says the Apostle, we will be able to "lay hold on eternal life," now profered to us.

So then, dear fellow-Bible students, let us gird up the loins of our minds, determining that with the Lord's help we will be rich toward God. Let us think less and less of earthly riches, and more and more prize the kingdom which the Lord has promised to His faithful ones. All who shall attain to it will be rich in the highest sense, rich toward God. Not only will they be rich in the possession of the highest prize that God has to give—His very best—but following the process and lessons of our Great Teacher we shall be rich in His character-likeness, rich in experience, rich in faith, rich in benevolence, rich in all that is good and great, however poor we may be in earthly goods, at the finish of our course.

MRS. SCOTT'S SUFFERING OVER

Doctors Advised An Operation. How She Escaped Told By Herself.

Buckner, Mo.—"For more than a year I suffered agonies from female troubles and the doctors at last decided there was no help for me unless I went to the hospital for an operation. I was awfully against that operation, and as a last resort wrote to you for special advice and I told you just what I suffered with bearing down pains, backache, shooting pains in my left side, and at times I could not touch my foot to the floor without screaming. I was short of breath, had smothered spells, felt dull and draggy all the time. I could not do any work, and oh how I dreaded to have an operation.

"I received a letter full of kind advice, which I followed, and if I had only written her a year ago I would have been saved so much suffering, for today I am a well woman. I am now keeping house again and do every bit of my own work. Every one in this part of the country knows it was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that has restored me to health, and everywhere I go I recommend it to suffering women." — Mrs. LIZZIE SCOTT, Buckner, Mo.

HIS QUALIFICATIONS.

Up at Seattle the personal habits of a judge are being made the subject of investigation. The idea is to prove that the learned jurist is a better judge of good whisky than he is of points at law. A bartender has testified that for a long period he served the judge with a drink three times a week. On this evidence alone His Honor could not be convicted in Kentucky. Indeed, did the testimony go no further than this, he might be held in contempt as a prohibitionist, while his personal friends would worry about his health.

THE NEW RACE.

As far as we can understand it the new race is an automobile race. The contest is on between New York and California, and statistics are having a hard time in getting right on the subject. One dispatch claims 76,164 machines for New York and 75,675 machines for California. Another report claims that California has at least a thousand more machines than New York. There is no occasion for a quarrel. Automobilists of both States go the limit in numbers and speed. Besides, a good number of New York machines really spend about eight months of the year in California, which shows that even an automobile in the East knows a good thing and is willing to rush it.

CONSOLATION.

J. Pierpont Morgan is now known as a rich man. When he dies he will be remembered as a collector of pictures and books. His bonds will be sold and his railroads will change hands, but his collection of art and literary masterpieces will remain intact. Morgan is an organizer and the best work he has done and the most useful to humanity is the use to which he has put some of his money on buying rare paintings and books. It is almost impossible to take money from a country and not give it back to the country. It is very hard for a rich man to own any more than it takes to feed, house and clothe him. These fellows manage big business and corner markets, but when they die and leave it all the universities, libraries and art galleries are richer for their lives and all of the people whose lives are touched by culture and beauty are their legatees.

THIS THE PLACE.

The announcement that Lorenzo S. Coffin and his adopted daughter, Miss Elizabeth Murray Coffin, will establish an agricultural school here for women proposes an interest in experiment which should succeed here as nowhere else in the world. A school for teaching women to be carpenters, builders and bricklayers is to be started at Long Island next fall, and although forty women have been enrolled for a two-years' course in the school, and although three women in New York are already in the master builder's business, the proposition is not so promising or useful as the agricultural school at Los Angeles should prove. The California crops possess the elements of the ideal and the romantic. They are at once beautiful and profitable. They give the greatest returns for the least labor and they are bright and clean. It is not necessary that a woman should work in orchard and field, but it is important that she should know how her ranch, her vineyard and her trees are to be treated in order to obtain the best results. May the new institution prosper.

FOR THIS RELIEF MUCH THANKS.

Friends and fellow-citizens of both sexes who have any serious business in life, we wish to submit to you a serious inquiry. We have had more than a surfeit of politics during the past week and we may look forward to another surfeit during the fall. You may be intensely interested in politics, with a burning desire for progressive reforms and radical changes in our forms of government of many kinds. But now, honest Injun, are you not glad to have a little respite from politics with time to turn your attention to your own everyday business affairs? Think the matter over carefully and tell us sincerely. Do you not feel a sense of relief?

We will carry this inquiry a little further. Is not politics beginning to pall upon you? No? Not even a little bit? We had hoped for a little different answer. We had really expected that the vote would not have been so unanimously in favor of more politics. It reminds us of Danton, whose motto was "Daring, more daring, still daring, always daring." Well, it is discouraging, brethren, to hear you paraphrase this so universally with the cry, "Politics, still politics, more politics, always politics."

PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES.

Gov. Johnson has naively announced his plan to obtain the electoral vote of California for Roosevelt by false pretenses. But the petard with which he and his guard are preparing to destroy the Republican party of the Golden State may possibly explode in another direction and blow the political larcenists into the limbo of lost politics. They cannot forever persuade weak-minded politicians to follow the statute law when it promotes their purposes, as in the election of delegates to the Chicago convention, and disregard the law when it would defeat their purposes, as in the election of Works to the Senate.

The nomination of candidates to run for the Legislature on the Republican ticket will be made by districts. It will not be possible for Republican votes for a San Francisco Assemblyman to be counted for a Republican candidate in Siskiyou; nor for the Republican vote in Los Angeles to be counted for a candidate in San Diego. Every tub must stand on its own bottom.

The nominees for the Legislature on the Republican ticket will constitute a convention to select nominees for electors. It seems almost incredible that the convention will deliberately nominate as electors on a ticket headed "For President, W. H. Taft," thirteen men who will disregard their obligations and, if elected, vote for Roosevelt. Indeed, it is unlikely that thirteen such treacherous men, of sufficient prominence to be considered for nomination as electors, can be found in California, even among the satraps of Johnson.

The elector who is chosen on a ticket headed Republican is morally bound to vote for the nominee of the Republican National Convention. It is true that the obligation is an honorable and not a legal obligation. He may disregard his obligation and vote for a Democrat, or a "progressive," or a traitor or a crank. He may vote for Roosevelt or for Johnson or for Heney if he is debased enough, and disregardful enough of public opinion and the exterior decencies of civilized life to do so. The writer recalls but one instance in the political history of this country wherein an elector who was elected on one ticket voted in the Electoral College for the candidate of the other party. That was in Oregon in 1876, when a Hayes elector voted for Tilden and produced a tie.

In the event of Roosevelt adhering to his present purpose to run as the candidate of a progressive party, and in the further event of no candidate receiving a majority in the Electoral College, the election would be thrown into the House of Representatives, where each State would have one vote to be cast by a majority of its Congressional delegation. The members of the present Congress, and not of the Congress to be chosen in November next, would cast such vote. The eleven States of Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Wyoming, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Delaware and Rhode Island with a population of 2,468,914, according to the census of 1900, and with but eleven Congressmen, would have eleven votes for President, while the eleven States of New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Texas, Massachusetts, Missouri, Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky and Wisconsin, with a population of 40,282,322, and with 208 Congressmen, would have no more than eleven votes.

If the election should be thrown into the House of Representatives, although the Democrats have a majority, yet counting by States, in twenty-eight States a majority of the members are Republican and only twenty are Democratic. Whoever was elected would have to secure the votes of twenty-five States.

ALWAYS AGAINST LAWLESSNESS.

Mrs. Dennison, at the eleventh biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, regretted the fact that lawlessness seemed to be increasing among women. She qualified the statement, however, by adding this was only apparent among the misinformed portion of her sex, chiefly in our larger cities. A very small minority of the women in England—some of whom certainly do not want education—have also exhibited a propensity of defying constituted authority. But we are glad to note that woman as a sex still stands—as she always has stood—unalterably and resolutely for the maintenance of law and order.

The cause of liberty, of justice, of humanity itself would indeed be in parlous peril should the strong bulwark of woman's rational conservatism ever be broken down. All the best institutions, the church, the home, the decencies and the conventions, the organized charities, the public library, the theater owe their present universality chiefly to the influence of women.

Man, take him in the bulk, is rather a wordy, wasteful, pleasure-seeking, unpresentable animal. Women are constantly having to straighten him out. Without the wholesome restraint of home and wife and mother he forever would be running amuck through the universe, or in some minor matter making an ass of himself. Respect for law started in the discipline of the home, and discipline in the home started with the woman—the domestic queen. Any woman who attempts to pull down the structure of society is destroying her own kingdom. Only the abandoned or the fanatic will pillage their own palaces or cut their own throats. Among women these are but a ragged remnant, the fringe on the shawl.

In spite of the popular belief it is man who is the emotional sex, restless man, with the blood of Ishmael still running in his veins. He it is who is fighting the conventions and the restraints that woman is so carefully preserving and increasing. Ishmael soon became used to a nomad life but Hagar always wept for the vanished household gods. In reality woman is quiet and consistent, man is noisy and argumentative.

Thus you will notice how men love to congregate in crowds in public places to reconstruct the universe with the smoke from their tobacco pipes. Most women are content to let the universe take care of itself while they attend to their own private affairs, or at the farthest to the domestic difficulties of the lady next door. This congregating of men, talking to hear their own voices and air their own opinions, leads to futile argument and such argument often ends in abuse, from which is hatched the goose egg of riot and hurry-up calls. The average woman cares nothing for curbstone and soap-box oratory and so the germ of lawlessness has never been developed in her. For this reason, too, she is opposed to tobacco pipes and the reconstructing of universes.

If the majority of women did become lawless an almost impossible state of chaos would be the result. Mankind would have drifted from his anchorage. The world would be off its pivot. The sun would stand at gaze as in the days of Joshua.

But before so dire a catastrophe can happen every one of the present instincts and intuitions and virtues—part and parcel of her very being—would have to be rooted out from female nature. And in the process the woman would bleed to death. Until the home and the marriage tie have been completely swept away we need never expect any increase of lawlessness in the finer and more frugal sex.

We distinguish man from the quadrupeds because he stands upright. Woman does better, she lives upright. And her upright life is more essential to the world's stability than man's upright posture. We must have life—we can well dispense with posing.

THE VALUE OF MUSCLE.

In brawn and sinew, while raw and untrained, there is not much profit. For utilitarian purposes the dead muscle of an ox is worth more per pound, at the present price of meat, than per kilowatt is the live muscle of the human being. And a kilowatt of human muscle costs infinitely more than a kilowatt of steam or electrical energy. Luckily the human muscle has a higher value, not to be reckoned like horse power in so many foot-pounds per minute.

Like most necessities average muscle is one of the commonest conveniences in the world today. Therefore it can be had fairly cheap. But extraordinary brawn and sinew, which is rare, when placed on the market in an attractive form, has always produced satisfactory financial results. The admiration of physical strength, applied for unusual purposes, is still as lively among men as when Samson pulled down the pillars of the temple. Although this is the age of the brain worker the man whose muscles are a little above the normal has a better chance than one whose brain is a little below the average. To be a specialist in brains a keener competition. A producer of good college arms and legs commands a higher salary than a constructor of college highbrows.

In addition to this prizes in money and especially in popularity come easier and more quickly to the exceptionally muscled human being. Any one who doubts this has only to consider the fortunes amassed by the leading prize fighters and the length of time necessary for this amassing. Take up the question of popularity and the contrast is still more startling.

It is told that Jack Johnson, while in England, was one day hunting for his suit case in the luggage room of a suburban railway station. At the other end of the same station a famous Episcopal bishop was awaiting the arrival of the London train. A railway porter with an air of mystery touched the bishop's sleeve and remarked: "There's Jack Johnson over there, sir, the world's champion. He'll let you talk to him if you want to." No wonder the poets railed at fame.

THE REASON.

Universal suffrage resolutions were not adopted by the biennial meeting of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs at San Francisco. California women were strong for the measure because they know two things. They know that suffrage is good and they know that they had to want it before they got it. The women of most other States do not have it and this very fact suggests that they may not want it. Their vote against it at the biennial reveals their apathy. Woman's suffrage is coming everywhere in time, but the fight must always be made State by State, and the women of every State must want it very much before they get it.

Death is exacting a heavy toll of the daring aviators. When will puny man learn the lesson that the almost daily tragedies are teaching? Is the allured snort worth the cost?

Has Perpetual Motion Been Discovered at Last?

TAFT AND THE TARIFF, AMERICANS AND THE OTHERS.

It appears from the declaration of a Japanese statesman with inside information that if our Presidential election could be decided by the people of Japan, Mr. Taft would stand no show against Col. Roosevelt. This statesman in the confidence of the Japanese government informs us that Mr. Taft is not liked by his people but that they have an exceedingly high opinion of the Oyster Bay reformer.

Now, with a swift glance of the mind, let us go to the other side of the world and read the London papers, to learn that Gov. Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic nominee for the Presidency, is a man exactly after the heart of the English people. The English see in the Democratic Presidential possibility the greatest statesman appearing on the American horizon in half a century, with a single exception of Grover Cleveland.

In Los Angeles, where the Murchison letter had its origin, we can easily conjure up the reasons that sway the mind of our British cousins. In that famous episode Lord Sackville West, British Ambassador to the United States, supposing he was writing to an American citizen of British origin, who was willing to betray his adopted country in behalf of that of his birth, advised voting for the Democratic nominee for President.

The English then saw in the election of a Republican President and of a Republican Congress the maintenance in full vigor of the protective tariff principle, and in the triumph of Mr. Cleveland the possibility of a Wilson tariff bill which would let British goods, manufactured at starvation wages, fill the markets of the United States.

In Mr. Wilson they see another Wilson tariff bill as a desirable possibility, and therefore regard him as a great statesman, full of all good moral qualities, with an enlightened mind and a generous disposition.

The Japanese probably are thinking of the decided steps taken by Mr. Taft in regard to a possible acquisition of important rights at Magdalena Bay by the Japanese from the Mexican government. They see in Mr. Taft a thoroughgoing American, with his feet firmly planted on the Monroe doctrine, while in Mr. Roosevelt they see a possible President subject to approach in the proper way by a delegation from Japan and Mexico who might show the Oyster Bay statesman that the Monroe doctrine was something akin to the Sherman act, a matter to be construed according to circumstances as they might appear to the executive mind.

It is a cause of congratulation to real Americans that the Presidential election this year, as on former occasions of the same kind, is to be determined, not by Japanese with an ax to grind, nor by English manufacturers and operatives who would gladly sacrifice American industries to the interests of those in Great Britain, but by Americans loyal to their country and flag.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

I fear we don't appreciate the divers blessings, truly great, that we enjoy each day. We take such blessings as they come, contented that they help us some, and heedless go our way. When I was young the summer heat would lift a man clear off his feet and fry him to a crisp; there was no antidote in sight, and he would lie awake all night and maledictions lisp. When Bryant wrote his deathless verse I'll bet he used to freely curse the red-hot summer days; for when the heat wave drives you blind it's mighty hard to sit and grind a grist of helpful lays. Longfellow, Emerson and Poe, and all the bards of long ago, just sizzled in the heat; they wrote their verse, inspired or wise, and mopped their brows and damned the flies and longed for winter's sleet. And I, who live in better times, am sitting here producing rhymes in comfort and in peace, while greater poets tore their fur and cussed the blamed thermometer from Griqualand to Greece. The sun is at the same old game, but he may strain and bust a hame, he can't disturb my ease; I pull a string or press a knob and then pursue my jingling job fanned by machine-made breeze. I wish I knew who was the man who gave us the electric fan, that makes the summer cool, that brings right to the poor man's door the woods, the mountains and the shore, and eke the swimming pool.

STREAKS OF WIT.

Made It Pay.

[Life:] "See that chap—three years ago he mortgaged his home to buy an automobile."

"Same old story."

"Yes—now he owns three cars and a bigger house."

Post-Graduate Course.

[Louisville Courier-Journal:] "Now that your son is through college, what are you going to make of him?"

"Can't tell for a couple of years. He went to a co-ed institution, and he's booked up for two years solid to act as an usher at weddings."

Dancing on Air.

[Princeton Tiger:] He: Dearest, during the first dance I have with you, be sure to say something to me.

She: Why?

He: Because you're so light, if you don't speak I will not know I have you in my arms.

On Dry Land.

[Judge:] "Come, my son," said the stern but fond parent, as he tore a shingle from the roof of the hen house and strode in the direction of the woodshed, "let us take a little trip."

"What kind of a trip?" nervously asked the dutiful son.

"Oh, we will go on a short whaling trip."

Didn't Know the Liquid.

"That's what rum does."

"Rum! If the creek had been full o' rum instead o' water, it wouldn't a hurted old Jeb a particle."

New Name for Stubbornness.

[Christian Register:] "Is you gwine ter let dat mewel do as he please?" asked Uncle Ephraim's wife. "Wha's you' will power?"

"My will power's all right," he answered. "You jest want ter come out hyar an' measure dis here mewel's won't power."

A Loyal Son.

[Catholic Standard:] Costigan: Don't say you "ain't done nothing'."

Madigan: An' why not?

Costigan: Because that is not good English.

Madigan: Faith, I'm glad to hear it; for, by the powers, nayther am I.

Would Like to Know.

[Washington Star:] "Lady," said Meandering Mike, "will dat dog bite strangers?"

"I don't know," was the reply. "We've been wanting to find out for sure for a long time. If you'll stand in the yard while we unchain him, I'll give you a sandwich, if you care to wait for it."

HOW TO CELEBRATE.

[The Tidings:] To the old-fashioned American who remembers when the Fourth of July meant a recalling of the stirring events that marked the beginning of our nation, and a rousing of that thrilling patriotism that comes with reflection upon the cost of our liberties, the "safe and sane" feature of the celebration of our great national holiday does not appeal so strongly when it excludes the patriotic element as well, which unfortunately seems to be the case in these later years. There is nothing that fires the imagination of the average citizen like a parade and a big noise, and the smaller generation needs to be trained to observe the day with due respect to its importance in history. Through the outward senses the mind and soul are trained, and we need more outward demonstration of patriotism to develop in the minds of our children a love of country, an appreciation of our liberties and the responsibilities of citizenship that will counteract the poisonous influences of Socialism, anarchy and kindred evils which seek the destruction of the greatest republic that the world has ever known; where, under the civil law of our land, "all men are born free and equal," and opportunities are open to all to make for themselves whatever place in life their talents may fit them.

While there was a commendable effort made to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies in this city the celebration left much in the way of public enthusiasm to be desired, and just as in the Christian life, when one loses interest in observing the great feasts of the church it betokens a lack of spiritual vigor, so it is in our national life, when we grow lukewarm in our celebration of the great and only Fourth of July we have grave reason to look for a decline in patriotism. We of the older generation should not forget all that the music, the parades, the orations and the fireworks meant to our youthful imaginations, when the "Sword of Bunker Hill," "Mt. Vernon Bells" and similar odes preceded the rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner," sung with swelling hearts by an enthusiastic multitude that had that day crossed the icy Delaware in mid-winter, and camped with Washington at Valley Forge! And we should seek by every means within our power to stimulate in the hearts of our children a similar enthusiastic interest in our national history which engenders a fervent love of country.

Saccharin Is Harmless.

[Leslie's:] Some people can't eat sugar, particularly those who have diabetic trouble. Up to thirty-three years ago there was nothing such persons could use to satisfy the natural craving for sweets. In 1879 chemistry came to the rescue, as so often it has done, in the discovery of saccharin, a product of coal tar, by Dr. Ira Remsen, one of the world's greatest chemists. We now find some newspapers going so far as to class as a poison this substance which diabetic patients can freely use when cane sugar would be fatal. This was not the finding of the Remsen board, nor has any scientific commission representing any European nation ever found it to be a poison. It is true that Germany and some other countries have enacted arbitrary revenue laws to restrict the sale of saccharin—not, however, on the ground that it was injurious to health, but solely for the protection of the cane and beet sugar industries of these countries.

Was Not Henpecked.

[Lippincott's:] A couple of old grouches at the Metropolitan Club in Washington were one night speaking of an old friend who, upon his marriage, took up his residence in another city. One of the grouches had recently visited the old friend and, naturally, the other grouch wanted news of the Benedict.

"Is it true that he is henpecked?" asked the second grouch.

"I wouldn't say just that," grimly responded the first grouch, "but I'll tell you of a little incident in their household that came within my observation. The very first morning I spent with them our old friend answered the letter carrier's whistle. As he returned to us, in the breakfast-room, he carried a letter in his hand. Turning to his wife, he said:

"'A letter for me, dear. May I open it?'"

BROTHERHOOD.

The old world jogs along
Our little colored flags we flaunt
Our little separate selves we vaunt.
Each pipes his native song
And jealousy, and greed and pride
Join their ungodly bands,
And this round lovely world divide
Into opposing lands.

But let some crucial hour of pain
Sound from the tower of time,
Then consciousness of brotherhood
Wakes in each heart the latent good
And men become sublime.
No swarming insects of the night
Fly when the sun bursts in,
Self fades before love's radiant light,
And all the world is kin.
God, what a place this world would be
If that uplifting thought,
Born of some vast world accident,
Into our daily lives were blent.
And in each action wrought.
But while we let the old sins find
Back to our hearts again,
In flame, and flood, and earthquake
Thy voice must speak to men.

"Peg o' My Heart," In Its Seventh Week, Remains the Pre-eminent Feature of Local Presentations. Productions Upon Other Stages. Today's New Vaudeville.

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

This is probably the first week of absolute and general repetition in the history of Los Angeles. Not a new show went on yesterday, nor will there be a new one today, except that the vaudeville bills will be generally changed.

The reigning factor of local amusement continues to be "Peg o' My Heart." Its seventh week commenced yesterday afternoon, and its popularity, apparently, is absolutely undiminished. All Burbank records it has long since sent overboard. Charles Gyblin has succeeded Edward Fielding in the part of Chris Brent, Mr. Fielding going to New York.

The revamped "Politicians" has made a surprisingly good showing at the Hamburger Majestic Theater. The opening, a week ago last night, was not highly propitious in money, but—to show you how deceptive and unpredictable theatrical things may be—the receipts took a tremendous leap on Tuesday evening, and since then "The Politicians" has been a practical sell-out at every rendition. The management did not expect the piece to run longer than two weeks—in fact they say now that it will come off next Saturday night—but it looks to me like another of the twenty-one-day affairs, at this distance.

Pop Fischer's "Yankee Prince," at the Lyceum, is doing very creditably, and is contributing a good share of the village's current amusement. Prunes like "The Chaperones" strike Fischer's house a body blow; its quick recovery is a testimonial to the efficacy of the cast in the Cohan show. "Pinafore" is being busily rehearsed, and will go on next Sunday. Seems to me that this superb old Gilbert & Sullivan work should get the big hearing it deserves next week. Of all the older pieces it is perhaps the best, and, strange to say, has not been professionally revived here in years, though infrequent falls have been taken out of it by amateurs. The addition of such an artist and thorough master of stagecraft as Edgar Temple, who will sing Ralph Rackstraw, should prove a tower of strength to this projected production.

Jack Barrymore is going his comfortable way at the Belasco, and his genuine success as a funmaker, is attested by the entry of "On the Quiet," today, into its second week. When writers and general commentators speak of Jack Barrymore as a "matinee idol," in the accepted sense of the term, they get him wrong; young Mr. Barrymore is not a scented male doll for the googling admiration of young ladies, for I believe, if his constituency were polled, that man would excel the women in numbers. Barrymore, while of course, very pleasing to the ardent and susceptible females, is essentially a man's actor, having keen humor, and a practical, business-like way about his interpretations—a thoroughly natural, curbstone and office-chair way, if you like—that is extremely pleasing.

"The Mission Play," by John Steven McGroarty, ended a long and astonishing career yesterday, a career which began last April. No one expected that the "Mission Play" would remain on view a third of this time, the most optimistic estimates. Although many miles from the city, and contrary to all theatrical rules of patronage, the "Mission Play" showed a substantial profit at the end of every week of its run. As a whole, it has not return dividends because of the unexpected, unknown and colossal original expenditure of more than $40,000. But as a practical play, one which had genuine commercial possibilities from the box-office standpoint, Mr. McGroarty's initial dramatic effort was an unusual triumph, and can that original outlay be provided for. It should assume its place among with the very few other real money winners written here in recent years.

The Mason Operahouse will reopen July 22, with "Louisiana Lou," featuring Sophie Tucker and Barney Bernard.

At the Orpheum today the Welsh Mountain Ash Choir, a male singing organization from across the water which worked American critics into horrible typewriter ecstacies earlier in the season, when the Welshmen were traveling alone as stellar concert features, will prove into what arts Martin Beck is delving for the amusement of his two-a-day.

Nat Carr and the Barrows-Lancaster company, both strong features, will divide top place upon the new Empress programme.

At Pantages, Miss Louise George, a Pasadena soprano of alleged operatical promise, will appear. Alexander Pantages has christened her "The Girl With the Angel Voice." Arthur Lavine and his company in "The Flying Dreadnaught," a comical musical comedy, will lead the [illegible] visitors from afar.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

A WEEK of social brilliance for the Los Angeles Country Club was brought to a close on Saturday evening when over 200 guests sat down to dinner in the great club dining-room. Tables overflowed into the hall room and the scene was one of delightful gaiety. As on July 4 the tennis tournament attracted numberless parties.

Two of the largest parties were those given by Mrs. Alfred Solano and Mrs. C. H. Shorb, both of whom entertained about twenty-five guests. Mrs. Solano captured that popular corner table that commands a view through the French windows of the Beverly Hills and the golf links and Mrs. Shorb commandered the other corner, where her party filled two large tables. Mr. Wright's party, though not so large, occupied the center of the room, and surrounding him were the tables at which Mr. Meade, T. A. Simpson, Roy King, Octavius Morgan and W. Fulton presided. Mrs. H. H. Braly, wife of the tennis player, was another hostess, and Thomas Bundy, another tennis hero, presided at a large table himself. Ivan Patterson, R. L. Garlich, Mr. Milligan, Miss Minnie Bryan and Mrs. McNab each had parties of seven and eight guests and there were any number of cozy quartettes presided over by Samuel Haskins, P. H. McCartney, Dr. Ralph Williams, Nat Wilshire, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Bush, Frank Miller and W. G. Hunt.

S. C. Dunlap, G. H. Bagley, W. Kelley, Mr. Long, L. T. Bradford and several other golfers were also celebrating with parties, the latter having many such social obligations to work off on account of the recent arrival of a baby girl at the Bradford household. George Beveridge had a party of three and Mr. Reed and Charles Seyler were the dominating figures at a bachelors' table. After dinner everybody danced and the orchestra was kept busy till a late hour.

The northern tennis players, Messrs. Elias Fottrell, W. G. Knoulton, Dr. Sumner Hardy, Maurice McLoughlin, W. J. Johnstone, Reuben G. Hunt, R. C. Cerrill, Carl Yardney and W. G. Hunter have all been staying at the club over night throughout the tournament, and they have been joined at breakfast by many of our local tennis men, so that there have been gay doings pretty well all of every day lately

A Coming Event.

That the season has by no means reached its close, notwithstanding the exodus to the beach and mountain resorts, is evidenced by the fact that Mrs. W. G. Hunt will give one of the largest affairs of the past month at the Los Angeles Country Club on Tuesday, the 16th inst. There are to be about 200 guests and the afternoon will be devoted to auction bridge and five hundred.

The invitations are just out and the affair is anticipated with unusual interest as being practically the winding up of the season from a social point of view.

Returning Sojourners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Preston have just come home from a long visit to Lake Tahoe and announced their return with an informal entertainment at the Annandale Country Club on Saturday.

Interesting Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Forster, parents of Mrs. Max Wieczorek, arrived from New York yesterday and will make a short but crowded visit of three weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Wieczorek are planning one or two introductory receptions for them and the many friends of this popular artist and his wife are competing for the pleasure of doing the visitors honor with complimentary entertainments. They are staying at the Stratford.

An Eastern Visit.

San Gabriel is losing three of its popular figures in C. M. Moore and his vivacious young daughter, Margaret, who, together with Miss Elizabeth McFie have left for a two years' trip around the world. Their first destination is Cincinnati, O., where Mr. Moore has several relatives whom he has not seen for many years. They left Los Angeles by special car, via the Santa Fe, last Tuesday. There is a possibility of their returning to California for a few weeks in September before proceeding to Europe, but it is more probable that they will continue the trip directly from Cincinnati.

A Pretty Wedding.

Miss Florence Knesel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Knesel of Hidalgo avenue, Alhambra, who has long been that city's prettiest maiden, became Mrs. Ralph Hornby on Thursday last.

The wedding took place at the bride's home and was one of the prettiest affairs of the kind that has been witnessed. Bowers of white flowers of every variety obtainable transformed the house into a scene of charm and beauty, with gay festoons of Japanese lanterns to enhance the brilliance.

The bride's attendants were Miss Octavia Hudson, Miss Julia McIlvane, Miss Ruth Waring, Miss Bertha Butcher, Miss Harriet Dunbar, Miss Fanny Newlins, Miss Julia Martens, Miss Erma Dunbar, Miss Ruth Knesel and Miss Gladys Knesel, the last named being cousin and sister of the bride respectively. Dr. R. R. Meredith acted as best man. Little Louise McDowell, a niece of the bride, preceded the party up the aisle.

The bride's gown was of white Duchess satin and hand-painted chiffon, bordered with a handsome silver fringe. A slight train adorned the gown and the short sleeves were edged with real lace. The bridal veil, which certainly enhanced the wearer's beauty, completed a charming picture, the shower bouquet being of Cecil Bruner roses. The groom's gift was a necklace of pearls which met with much admiration.

Mr. and Mrs. Hornby are spending their honeymoon in Santa Barbara, which is fast becoming the honeymooners' Mecca, and they will reside in Alhambra upon their return, somewhere about September 1.

Club Bridge.

A regular social rendezvous has been established at the San Gabriel Country Club for bridge and tea on Saturday afternoons. Last Saturday the scheme was well patronized and the porches were gay with bridge tables and tea parties. Mrs. William E. Orr entertained about a dozen ladies to luncheon before hand and the hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. Stanley Wood, Mrs. F. O. Wood, Mrs. Silas R. Burns, Mrs. S. F. Bootes and Mrs. Ross Hickox.

BAIT FOR BIG FISH.

Contraband Chinese Are to Be Used to Capture High-er-up Smugglers in San Francisco.

Following the capture of two schooners engaged in the Chinese smuggling trade after a chase from San Diego to Long Beach harbor, Immigration Inspector Charles T. Connell announced yesterday that the government had arranged for an improv d boat service in patrolling the coast for smugglers.

Connell's men captured fifteen Chinese when the two schooners were seized. Nine are prisoners in the Los Angeles county jail while six others and the crew of one schooner are aboard the second schooner with immigration officers in charge. The boat is to be taken to San Francisco where plans have been laid to entrap the men who are at the head of the smuggling plot. The Chinese, it is arranged, will be landed and when they are delivered over to the chief smugglers in San Francisco, arrests will be made.

Government officers say that the captured Chinese were shipped out of Ensenada last Wednesday. The departure of the schooners containing the Chinese was tipped off and a boat was sent in pursuit with the result that both schooners were captured. It was said yesterday that the Rush would be sent to the Southern California Coast to assist in the apprehending of the Chinese smugglers.

The Slipper Fits.

PATER PRINCE FOLLOWS LONG ON DAUGHTER'S TRAIL.

Happy Meeting as Father, Who Had Not Seen His Child in Many Years, Finds Her in Los Angeles and Takes Her Home to Tulare Ranch, an Heiress to Wealth.

Cinderella of the pumpkin coach and glass slipper—in this instance a real live Los Angeles Cinderella—has been found and like the pretty maid in the fairy tale she has been caught up on the wings of Good Fortune and wafted into a palace of delights that is as true as herself.

The Los Angeles Cinderella—of course she wasn't a real Cinderella for she didn't sit in a chimney-corner with soot on her retrousse nose and weep when her step-sisters went to the prince's ball—is little Miss Lydia Fine, who was found by her father, J. J. Fine of Tulare, a wealthy orchardist, after years of search. Miss Fine was in anything but prosperous circumstances in Los Angeles, but now she is mistress of one of the finest homes in Tulare.

Miss Fine's story reads like the story of Cinderella in many ways although she was not discovered by a fairy prince. However, she declared yesterday that it was much nicer being discovered by a kind and loving father and taken home. There is plenty of time for the fairy prince to arrive later.

Several years ago, so early in her life that Miss Fine has only a faint recollection of the happening, she was taken by her mother from her home. This happened when she was 6 years old and she is quite a young lady now. According to the story Fine and his wife agreed to separate and the mother was to have the custody of their baby girl. Fine says that it was agreed that he was to be informed of her whereabouts at all times.

The mother and the daughter were lost sight of by Fine and then he began a long search that has lasted for years and has been alternately filled with mounting hope and keen disappointment. Sometimes he would hear that his wife and daughter were in a certain city and he would depart post haste in search of them only to find that the clew was a false one.

The years passed, but Fine did not despair. He kept up his search and whenever he received information of any kind about his missing family he would run it down. Several times he found where his wife and daughter had been living, but each time he arrived on the scene too late. By the time he had traced them to one place they had moved again and all trace would be lost.

Several days ago Fine was told by a friend that his wife and daughter were in Los Angeles. Despite the time he had passed in the search for the pair Fine had found time enough to grow rich and he determined to find his daughter and make her the mistress of his home and the heiress to his possessions. He came to Los Angeles and for several days searched. Finally he found her and there was a joyous reunion. Miss Lydia gladly consented to accompany her father to his home in Tulare.

While the young woman talked Fine looked on and smiled. He declared that now he had a pretty daughter his home was complete.

Many neighbors called at the Fine home yesterday in order to get acquainted with its new mistress.

and that neither of them suffered more than a severe shaking up.

But the "shadow girl" was not dissipated with this statement, as the night man at the garage declared that a young woman walked into the garage at 1 o'clock Sunday morning accompanied by a young man, the latter stating that his car had been ditched on the Venice road. When asked for his name he took a card and wrote on it:

"Smith. Car ditched on the Venice road," describing the place where the car stood.

Byrne laughed considerably yesterday when he was asked about the auto accident and about the lace sleeve found in the car. He seemed to think the lace sleeve part of the mystery was rather a joke. He said he had given his name as Smith at the garage early yesterday morning because he "wished to avoid any notoriety."

"Was there a young woman with you when you went to the garage and asked them to send for the wrecked car?"

"No, no, there was no girl in the auto when the accident occurred and there was no girl with me when I went to the garage," said Byrne. Then he explained that his only passenger was E. H. McGiven, who has an office in the Union Oil building. McGiven was equally positive that no young woman had been injured in the auto smashup.

"We were coming in from Venice, Byrne and myself, when a fast-going auto tried to pass us," said McGiven. When we turned out we ran off the bank and landed in the creek bed. The auto ran about 100 feet after it left the roadway. The machine did not overturn and neither of us was hurt."

"What about the lace sleeve found in the machine?"

"I don't know anything about that," was the reply.

Employees of the Washington auto station garage brought the damaged auto in yesterday morning. It was repaired sufficiently for Byrne to drive it back to San Bernardino, to which place he returned last night.

Byrne is a son of the late Daniel Byrne, who was one of the early settlers in San Bernardino. The elder Byrne owned large tracts of land when he died and these tracts have increased so in value that his widow is said to be one of the wealthiest women in the county.

REDLANDS NEWS NOTES.

REDLANDS, July 7.—Harold Bell Wright is in the city from the Imperial Valley, making arrangements for his family to camp in the mountains near Redlands. He announces that he has just finished reading the last proofs of a new novel to be called "Tehri Yesterday," which is to be quite different from anything he has hitherto published. Searched Far and Wide Noted Invalid, Now In Lykins, Ky., Says That She Is In Better Health Than Ever Before.

Lykins, Ky.—"I have traveled far," writes Mrs. Martha Dingus, from this place, "in search of health. I doctored a great deal with a great many different doctors, but with little result.

"I have been a noted invalid for 20 years, for I had nearly every disease that my sex is heir to. But since using Cardui, I have been steadily improving. Though now 46 years old, I am in bettter health than I have been in 20 years.

"I give Cardui the credit for it, and feel it my duty to inform you what Cardui has done for me."

The reason why Cardui is so exceptionally successful in relieving women's troubles, after other treatments fail, is that it is a woman's tonic—a strengthening remedy for women, made especially for women, from ingredients that act specifically on the womanly organs, and help nature to build up the womanly constitution. Not a strong, mineral mixture, but a mild, vegetable remedy, that cannot harm either young or old.

Your druggist will tell you that Cardui is just the remedy that you should try.

Will you do so?

conditions of the poor classes in the larger cities have been turning to worse instead of better," he said when asked whether it was not true that tenement conditions were far better than several years ago.

"There has been retrogression in the matter of providing suitable dwelling places for the poor people of the large cities where there has been lack of organization to effect bettered conditions. In New York we found that it was not only in the Ghetto, the Bowery or the cheap tenement districts that conditions are deplorable, but even in the fashionable suburbs we discovered unsanitary and poorly erected homes for the families of servitors."

Goodwin said that all forms of present government can be improved and that the commission form of government is not perfection in itself. He has been working diligently in bringing about needed reforms in the civil service. During the present session of the leaguers he will discuss tthe need of adequate civil service laws and will point out the way for promoting efficiency and honesty in public office.

Dr. Ernest S. Bradford arrived from Washington and discussed commission government and the planning of substantial American cities, along the line of the paper he will read while here.
